EDITORS' MESSAGE

Well, if we've done our job right, the first time you will be reading this will be sometime this year . . .

And sometime in the distant future, you will show this book to your grandchildren and they will say, "Wow, you actually had HAIR back then!"

In all seriousness, working on the yearbook was an experience we'll always remember - unfortunately! Who could ever forget . . .

- * the plug (David, of course!)
- * counting pennies
- * last-minute developing
- * re-numbering baby photos
- * oodles and oodles of raffle tickets
- * choosing a theme
- * that fateful morning when David's bag died and everybody's patience snapped
- * typing protos
- * choosing a cover
- * seeing the sun set . . . while still in Wagar
- * deadlines (THIS Thursday??)
- * the professional days we never had
- * room 101 - pleasantly disorganized
- * the disappearing act of the M&Ms
- * 19653 . . .

We would like to extend our sincerest thanks to all those who've helped us through the year:

- * Ms. Pike, Mr. Kotler, Mr. Davis
- * Ms. McKinnon for the key
- * Ms. Norton (How many students are there?)
- * Ms. Crowley & Mr. Druker - the money people
- * Mr. Ioannou & Mr. Prunier for their "good" advice
- * Mr. Chuprun (Can we have these by Wednesday?)
- * all our advertisers and patrons
- * Ms. Cummings for letting us use room 211
- * Issie - typist & penny counter extraordinaire
- * Steve & Company
- * Mrs. Caplan
- * Alex, Lorin & Glenda - the janitors with endless patience and who never threw us out
- * the secretaries who put up with our endless phone calls
- * Ms. Sandeman for showing us how to use the photocopier . . .

To our yearbook staff: Despite the difficulties, together we overcame all the obstacles. Thanks.

And a final word to those who are considering taking on this job - ARE YOU NUTS?! Well, neither were we when we started.

Good luck, Grads '93. May all your dreams come true.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear graduates,

This, your final year at Wagar, marks an important milestone in your lives. Your contributions, large or small, to the life of Wagar have been much appreciated. Hopefully you will look back with fondness on the time you have spent with us, the friendships you have made, and the various activities in which you have participated. The knowledge you have gained and the skills you have acquired will now be put to use in your future endeavors.

The world and its wealth of opportunities lie before you. Go forth with determination to achieve your goals. Be true to yourselves and develop to your full potential but take time, along the way, to enjoy those around you.

On behalf of the whole staff, I wish each and everyone of you success and happiness in the years ahead.

Mrs. S. Pike

GRAD EDITOR'S MESSAGE

This is the end of the middle of a new beginning. What does this mean? Well, it means that our time at Wagar has come to an end. It also means we now must prepare ourselves to face the future.

This has been a year filled with questions, problems, difficulties and uncertainties, but we managed to get through it. We can also say that we've survived aggravation, stress and a graduating class that wasn't always willing to cooperate with us.

We would like to thank the rest of the yearbook staff for sharing our stress and dealing with our tempers. We'd also like to thank all the teachers who have taught us through the years. Thank you for preparing us for the future. As a final note: Goodbye to the graduating class of nineteen ninety-three, may all your dreams come true.

Your Grad Editors,
Kim Stock
Karin Jablon

Last Will & Testament

We the Graduating class of 1993 would like to leave the following:

Mme. Ajilalo- students that don't blow their noses or click their binders.

Ms. Cayne- a chair on wheels so that she'll never ever have to stand up.

Ms. Cummings- a competent news magazine staff.

Mr. Druker- a book on public speaking.

Mr. Feigen- a new paint job in the biology lab (paint that does not smell like fish).

Mme. Grunberg- a hat-free, jeans-free, gum-free world.

Mme. Himelfarb- that her "sixieme sense" is never wrong.

Mr. McEwen- to one day be president of the international ugly club.

Mr. Prunier- a yearbook staff that runs like clockwork.

Mr. Murison- the latest line in Hewlett
Packard calculators.

Mr. Myers- all the best from the class of '93.

*She looked out upon the ocean on that midsummer's night
And tried to remember a dream she once had
The dream of finding what she truly wanted in life: an answer
And as the waves crashed against the shore,
She longed to know
And as the moon reflected off the water,
She yearned to know
And as the sky once clear was clouding,
She had to know.*

The Distortion of Features Keeps You Sane

A cardboard smile to hide the pain
Plastered on, distorted grin
Beam to make them think you're sane
While you lock the truth within.

The deep recesses of your fragile mind
Are foully rotted, yet they guard well
I once knew a bloke of your kind
We sipped black coffee in hell.

He possessed an acid tongue like you
And his words could cut like a knife
I was aware that his dialogue was untrue
Which is why I spared his life.

We once knew love, and knew it well--
I felt empty when absent from his side
It was a hungry thirst which no liquor could quell
And from emptiness I am unable to hide.

I gave him my heart, he took my soul
Yet I kept my head as my own--
And here I lie now, heartless as coal,
Souless and decidedly alone.

Misused and abused as my body was,
He claimed it and made it sing--
I voyaged off on a delicious buzz
Which only his touch could bring.

And when the petals had all fallen
I acknowledged that the magic had died
The air was heavy with stifling pollen
As I lost myself in a field and cried.

I'll never weep for him again
And I vow not to weep for you
So set your features in a grin--
Lovely! That will just do.

Watch me! I do it all the time--
Turn up the corners or your mouth awhile
For to be insane cannot be a crime
When you can hide it with a smile.

There once was a girl named Shane
Who's heart was always in pain.
Then she met a sweet guy,
Gazed into his eye
And since then she's not been the same.

They mess with your brain,
Make you go insane,
Make you see visions you've never seen,
Make you go places you've never been,
Lights flashing all around,
Everything's quiet there isn't a sound,
Flying, flying away from it all,
All of the sudden you start to fall,
Falling, falling, falling fast,
How long will this feeling last.
Not for long, it's at the end,
Reality's around the bend.

LIFE

Life's screwed up and crazy,
My future's dark and hazy,
My past was here and there it went,
What happened then I do resent.
Life's a mess and full of confusion,
It's not reality, it's only an illusion,
Look in the mirror, who do you see,
That's not you, it's who they want you to be.

SHE'S A MEAN MACHINE

Walking down Main street
And there she was.
I lay there motionless.
I walked towards her
To see what she was made of.
Oh boy! She was everyone's dream,
The ultimate machine.
We were side by side.
Those curves and bodily dimensions!
The ecstasy was driving me crazy.
As I rubbed my hand over her,
Rear,
Fender.
The salesman said,
"Look but don't touch."

SKI TRIPS

MONT ORFORD This year, due to the growing cultural diversity of the school, one of the aims of Wagar was to teach students how to be tolerant and to help them understand and to learn about other ethnic backgrounds.

As a part of this program, Mrs. Pike suggested an overnight trip for grade 7's that would encourage friendships between groups.

So, on the 21st of January a group of 26 grade seven students and a peer support team made up of 15 people from grades 10 and 11 left for Mont Orford.

The trip consisted of 2 days of skiing and instruction for those who needed it, as well as a racial tolerance discussion on the first night.

The trip seemed to prove successful; everyone enjoyed themselves and got along fine. Many thanks to Mrs. Pike for making it all possible.

JUNIOR PRODUCTION

The Wagar Flash

The school has been notified that a flasher has been "showing himself" throughout the building.

Many students were amused.

Some students didn't know what to think!

One concerned staff member got on the phone immediately.

The authorities were called in

The school sheriff was consulted

Many students signed petitions which protested the exhibitionist

Meanwhile, one patriotic student argued that as a Canadian, the "flash" should have rights at Wagar, too.

On behalf of the Student Council, we would like to thank EVERYBODY for the greatest year Wagar has ever had!!

We created many memories and we hope that they will stay with you for a very long time.

The support that we have received from teachers and students was tremendous and we hope that the students of Wagar High will continue to lend their support to future Councils.

This year, we had many goals. Whatever we achieved was carried out to the best of our ability and the things that we did not achieve is left for next year's Student Council to master.

Remember, Wagar needs a LOT of school spirit. If the Student Council can parade the hallways with the Wagar Band and jump on stage doing "Spirit Cheers", then surely Wagar teens can give something back -- SPIRIT!

It was not easy, but we pulled it off!! Thanks to all Wagar Students. You guys were great! Thanks to all the administrators, teachers and secretaries. Your help was greatly appreciated. Thanks to our different committees. We could not have done it without you. Thanks to Mr. Forman and Mr. Kotler. Your guidance and support only made this year better. And finally, to the Student Council:

WE DID IT!!!

Puja Chaubey,
Zahira Sookhdeo,
Co-presidents.

THE UGLY CLUB'S Royal Court

'Ill-Favoured, the Lowlife Jester'
This is crazy. I don't know what this club is about. Is it for people who are ugly? Or people who are gorgeous and the name's just a joke. Of course it's for people who are ugly, look at the founder. He's an ugly, tractor driving, ear popping, power steering using, plain old crazy gym teacher. I'm honoured to be in his club, but it's still crazy.

'The Degenerate Duchess of Dimwit'
I must say it has been a dream fulfilled. All the days spent fantasizing about someday being an accepted member of this prestigious club. To reign under his hideous highness is an honour for he along with being my mentor has also been a great friend. Thanks Ugly -- you will always be the most repulsive thing I've ever known. I mean it.

KING UGLY

The ugly club dates back to 1980 when P. "UGLY" Butler and D. "UGLY" McEwen were first united. It was formed because these two individuals didn't fit into the glamour of Wagar.

When the Ugly Butler left, Don Ugly was all alone. He roamed the halls, sent out invitations and posted notices -- hoping someone would meet the extremely low standards necessary to join him -- but as usual Wagar was simply a very good looking school. Suddenly, a small group of homely individuals became enlightened as to what the Ugly Club really represented. They began to understand that an Ugly personality was more important than their appearances. Applications were made, interviews conducted and the Royal Court was formed.

The reformation was amazing. Beneath the ugly exteriors and even poorer tastes in clothing, evolved a small group of scholars who, as frightening as it may be, began to think exactly the same was as the King. Even though some of the members thought that he was crazy at times, this group became very close. It became a club where humour was at its worst, where sarcasm was constant, "wit" was DIM, and one-liners were ever present.

On a more serious note, it also became a club where: a simple nod of the head was always understood -- and appreciated, a smile was genuine and a frown was a reason for concern and most importantly, it was a club where members were there to help each other through what could have been a very long and torturous year . . . And a special message from "His Highness" -- Thanks Guys!

Lord Loathesome One day about five years ago, while I was in my first year at Wagar, I found out that my school had an Ugly Club headed by the very ugly "King Ugly". Since that day it has been my main goal to make it into this prestigious club before it was too late and my high school days ended. Well I have realised my dream and am proud to be a member of the Ugly Club.

The Demented Duke I've always known there was a reason that I came to Wagar, that fate played a part in my decision, that there was a hidden motive driving me to this school. It was just recently however that I realized my mission was complete, the day I became a part of the Ugly Club.

TRACK AND FIELD PROVINCIALS

June 26, 1992 Wagar's best track and field athletes went to Sherbrooke to compete in the provincials. Several students placed very highly. In total they proudly brought home five medals.

Charissa Gardner did extremely well at provincials winning gold in 80m hurdles and silver in the 4x100m relay. She also competed in the long jump.

Paul Drogaris won a bronze in shot put and also participated in discus.

Peter Blair of bantam boys participated in hurdles and discus.

Clifton Glaves of bantam boys competed in the high jump.

Andrew Dedekuma of bantam boys won a silver medal in 80m hurdles.

Matilda Yeboah Kodie won bronze in long jump and placed fourth in 100m hurdles, 4x100m and discus.

Tara Chase of juvenile girls participated in 4 events placing fourth in long jump and 4x100m relay and sixth in hurdles. She also took part in high jump. Yes T.L.C!

This year's juvenile boy's volleyball team was a group of dedicated players. They were chosen as early season favorites to win it all as a result of their resounding victory in the James McGrath tournament. In the final game of that tournament, our boys decisively defeated the Loyola Warriors, the defending G.M.A.A. champions. The team was lead by a strong nucleus of veterans, including power hitters Mark Spence and Arpon Basu, and team captain Roger Saul. They completely dominated their division during the regular season, finishing with a record of 34 wins and 2 losses. Unfortunately, they couldn't pull off a victory in the G.M.A.A. semi-finals, taking their opponents to a grueling 3 games. Once again, Mr. McEwen volunteered his services as coach of the team, and did the job splendidly.
