PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

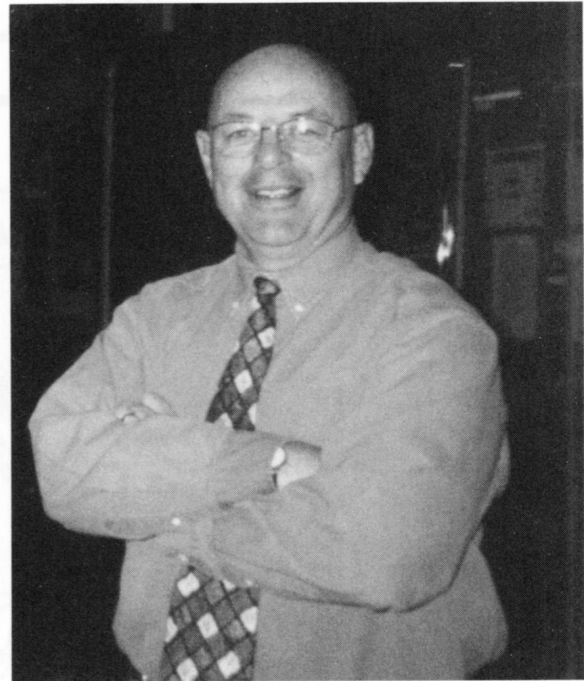

"The new millennium" is the new phrase vastly in use these days. Well, truthfully, you are the first graduates of the new millennium - the beginning of the 2000's. Fittingly enough this is also a "beginning" for all of you. Many of you have been together for your high school years and in vast number of cases many have been together since your elementary school years. That is now about to change as you all embark on your new "beginning". Most of you will move on to different CEGEP's in different faculties pursuing diverse studies. Others will move on to professional/vocational programs while still others will move into the world of work. Whatever your choice; it will, for a while, be an unknown but it will nevertheless be a "new experience" with a "new beginning".

I know that whatever you choose, you will bring with you not just the education you received at Wagar High School but also the other elements that have been a focal point at Wagar High School. Those being: self discipline, sense of responsibility, tolerance, respect and understanding of all people.

As you pursue your dreams make sure to keep them alive - don't lose them! Above all else remember that whatever those dreams are, always strive to 'be the best that you can be'. - Serve your families and communities well and make them proud in "the new millennium".

I wish you all health, happiness, prosperity and success.

Mr. P. Buttino

"When one door closes another opens, but we often look so regrettably upon the closed door that we do not see the one which has opened for us!"
Alexander Graham Bell

To the graduating class, I would hope that you cherish your Wagar memories but I remind you that the future, the new millennium holds many opportunities to open many new doors. Fear not tomorrow and the opening of these doors for you have been well prepared for the challenges that lie ahead. As the Wagar motto states. "Forward", in pursuit of your dreams. Be the best that you can be and make a difference!

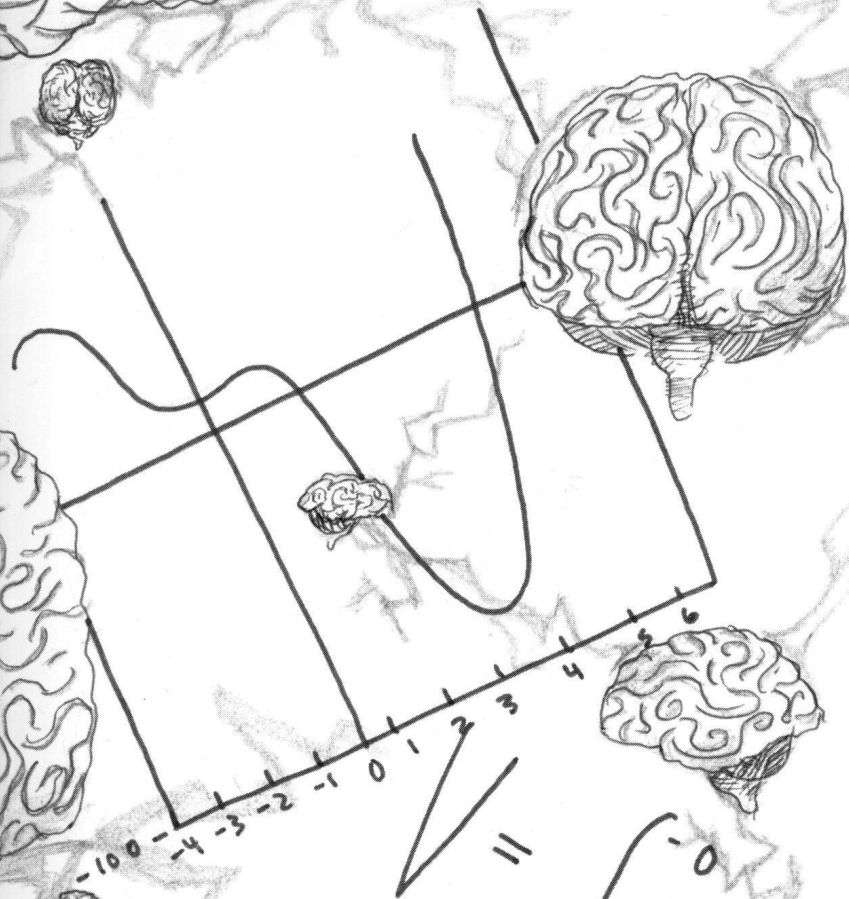

To the remaining students of Wagar, I wish you continued success as well and I look "Forward" to our future years as we pursue the tradition of excellence at Wagar High School.

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times. At first glance this seemed like the hardest job in the world, but once two great minds connect, anything is possible. Tough year, Tough job, but time well spent. We would both like to send our gratitude to our families for the support. Second we would like to thank our supporting staff. Many thank you's stretch across to Chrystal and Mathieu for their helping hands and being cool editors. Thank you to all the grads for being patient, understanding and supporting. A huge thank you to Mervyn for his support, we hope you can finally chill out old man. Much respect goes out to the teachers for understanding and helping. To Steve for making this journey a little easier to bear. And of course to the administration for all their help. Every book holds a story, and this year we got to be part of this one. Good luck to next years staff, word of advice : work, work, work. The staff of 200 will forever be the STAFF, we'll always cherish the memories of 121. Goodbye Wagar.

WAGAR STORY

It was a normal day in Wagar and all thru the school

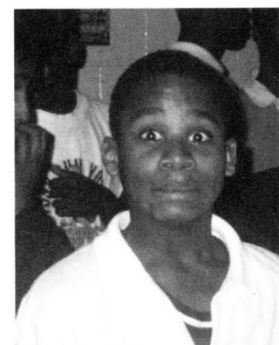

Not a student was learning not even Ms. Houle

The students were nestled all snug on there desks

While images of parties danced in there heads

Many students were filled with much fright

And others were lifted to different heights

When down in the Caf they happened 2 appear

The Cardigan crew and the rest of the peers

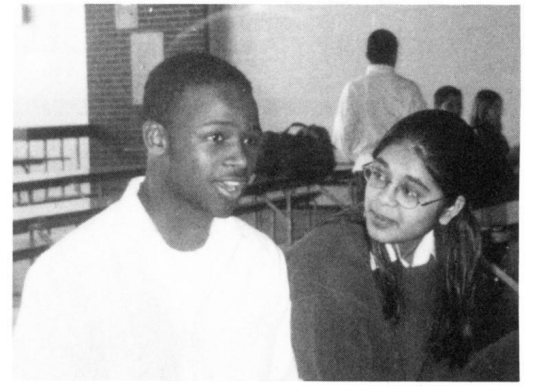

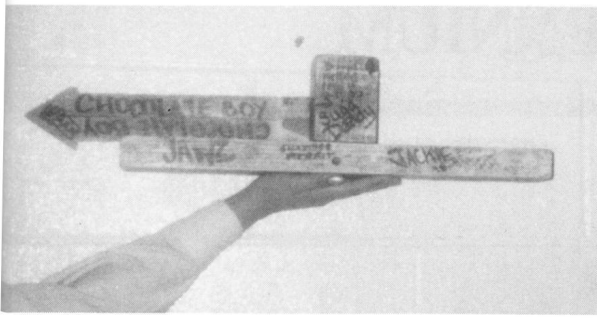

Now Robin, now Quentin, now Dwayne, Ne or Nay

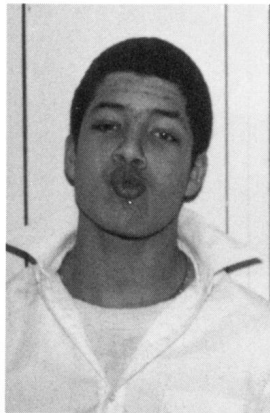

Jawara to the top of the mountain you must stay

The arrow was pointing at people but who?

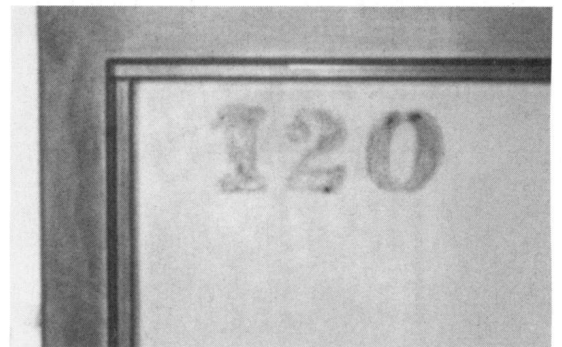

but it came clear and it showed us these two!

Then down in the halls there were the Misses

While One boy sat and blew them many Kisses

Then one kid tried really hard to study

But then we realized the Caf food is really cruddy

They showed us their money was really quite plenty

Then pointed out to go to Room 120

the School Adventure

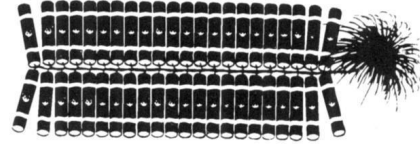

Then I realized there was no one in sight

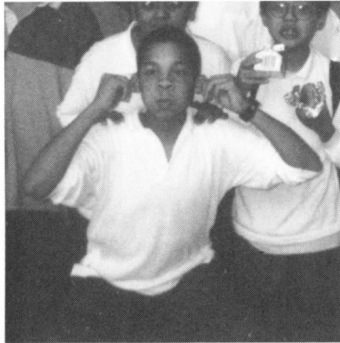

So I walked to the front turned and made a right =P

ONCE IN A MILLENNIUM

Here at Wagar High School there are things that will only be seen once in a millennium, like . . .

Ms. Ross in a skirt!

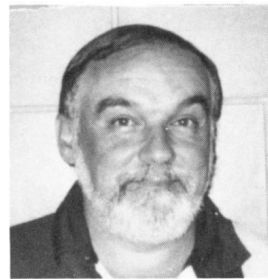

A foreign exchange Monkey!

such interests!

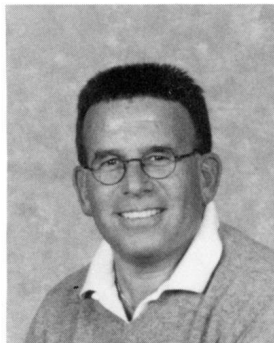

a teaching fish!

Such an ugly man!

The real Ned Flanders!

Such dedication

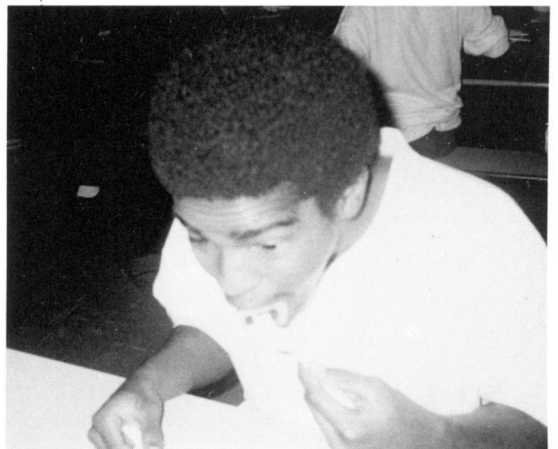

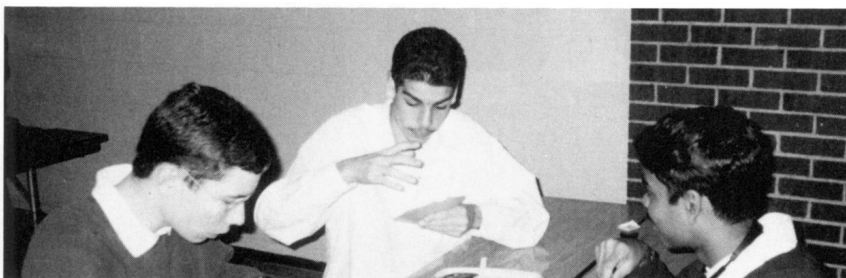

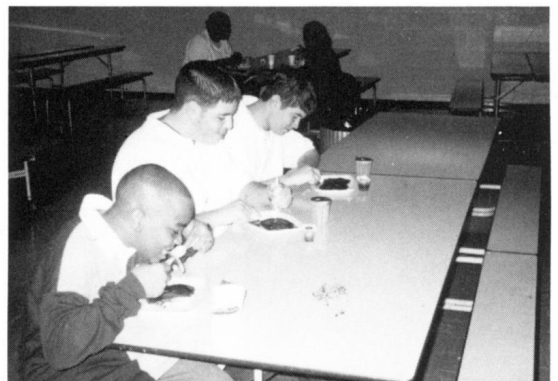

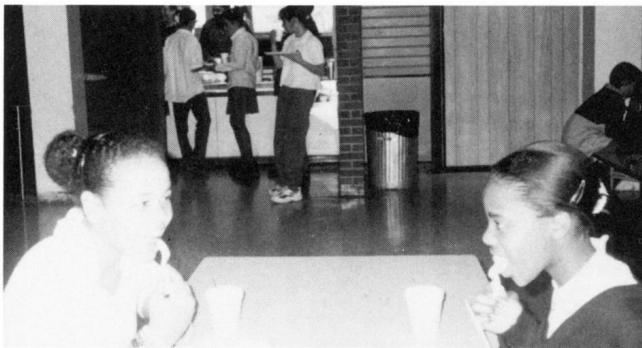

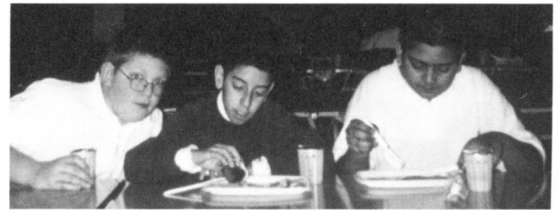

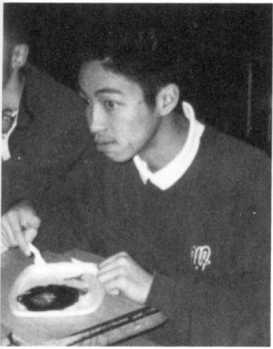

Thanks for all the years, you will be dearly missed. Ciao!

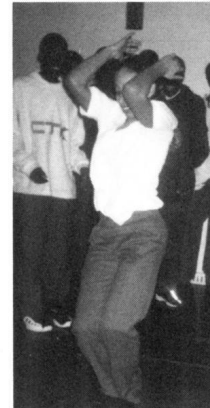

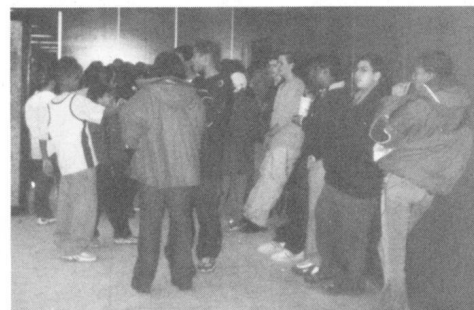

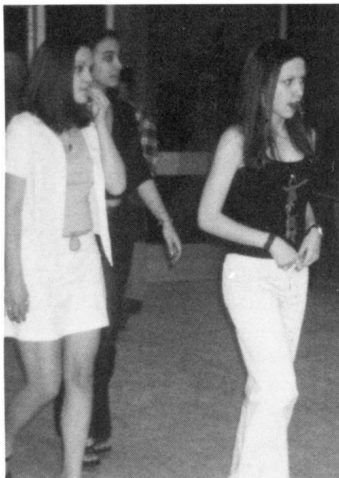

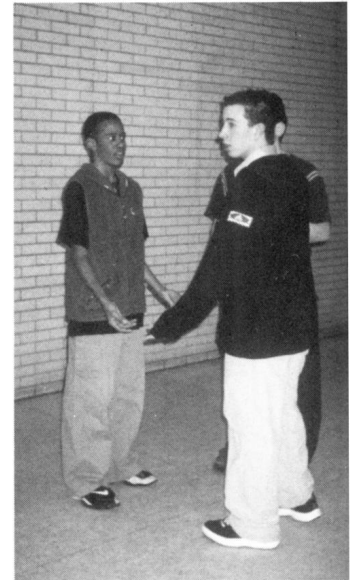

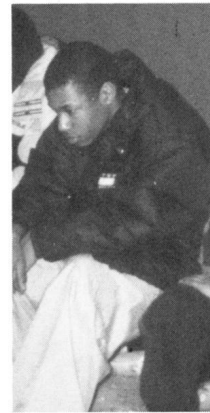

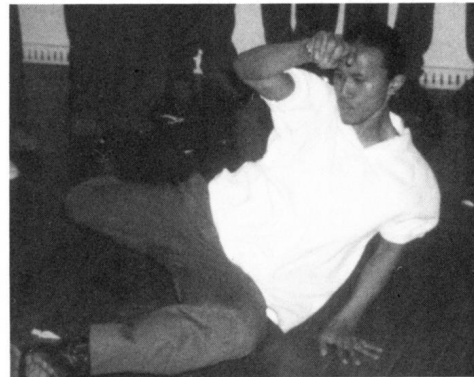

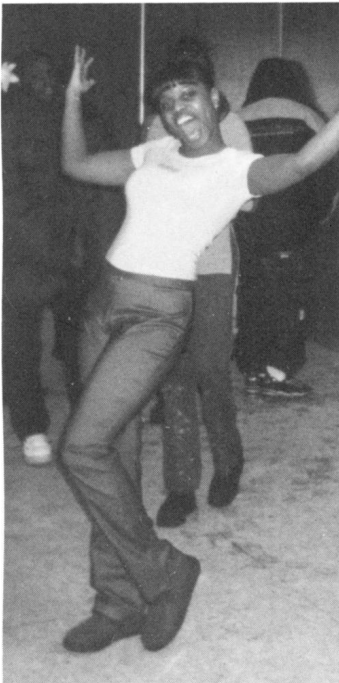

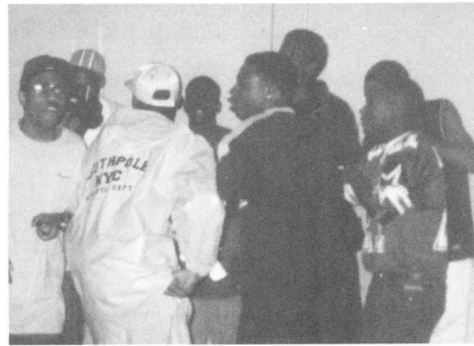

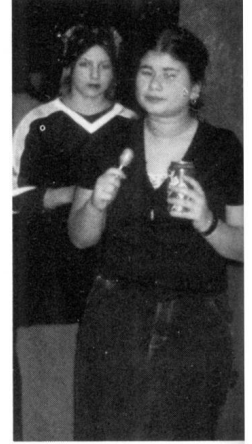

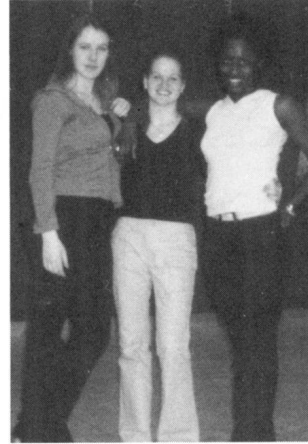

You put me up to this,
 Gave me hope and let my dreams roam free,
 You showed me who I am, and what I'm capable to be,
 You told me many things, which I didn't have to listen,
 But you told me in ways dazzled up and made sure the message glistened,
 You made me know that I'm worth something in this world,
 Showed me the world was an ocean and I'm the hidden pearl.
 You opened up my eyes to life and totally news aspects,
 Taught me to utilize my talents and make what I achieve reflect.
 You taught me that if I set the trends others might follow.
 Filled my mind with hope when my ambition was hollow,
 I wish you continued success in whatever you may do,
 Once again, from all of us you've touched,
 Thank You.

The year-end review of 1999

What a year many said as the new millennium rolled around, whether it is politics, sports, or entertainment, 1999 was a very memorable year.

1999 was the year that we seen Hillary Clinton begin her political take over when throwing her name in the hat to become the senator of the state of New York.

1999 was also the year that we seen tragedy upon tragedy. We were witnesses in the unfolding of the Columbine High massacre we heard of the not to long after shootings in an Alberta Highschool, and we heard of madmen committing the unthinkable in a place of worship.

This was the year when John Elway achieved his dream before retiring as the Super bowl champ of the Denver Broncos, Brett Hull was the Star as he lead Dallas to the Stanley Cup, David Jeter became king of New York along with his fellow Yankees as they achieved greatness for the second time, and finally the admiral, with his second in command proved how organization can help a person achieve anything, especially the NBA championship as San Antonio walked away with the gold. The world finally seen Pete Sampras prove he was better than any Aggasi, and Legends passed on to the ever lasting game as Wilt Chamberlain, Joe DiMaggio and Payne Stewart just to name a few passed away.

In 1999 we seen Sports entertainment reach new heights as tycoon Vince McMahon proved that WWF wrestling was more than just a Saturday afternoon show, and he brought names like The Rock and Stone Cold to the forefront of greatness, and we seen the downward spiral as Owen Hart died suddenly.

This was the year when the veterans returned to show the kids how it was done, as Cher "believed" in her talents and Santana returned to the basics. Yet still for all there was the emergence of the voluptuous Britney Spears and the girl who knows what she wants Christina Aguilera. Hip Hop turned from an underground sound to the most purchased musical selection in the world as Shawn Carter showed us how he spends his "Life and Times", Nas proclaimed that he was Nastradamus with two albums released six months apart, Juvenile and The Hot boys brought about their own type of style of music "U Understand", Biggie Smalls was "Born Again", "And Then There Was X". To no surprise The Backstreet Boys brought the "Millennium" to a close as Kings of the pop charts, but N'Sync finally gave them a proper run for their money, and we were all Jiving to "Mambo No.5". Baby Cham, Bounty Killer, and Lexus brought about the new breed of reggae, as the veterans were laid to rest when the prince Dennis Brown passed on. Limp Bizkit shredded Woodstock into pieces, Korn showed us freaks belong on leashes and Kid Rock said he wanted to be a Cowboy. Mary J. Blige returned to simply say she was "Mary" while Mariah painted us a "Rainbow", And the Latin explosion occurred while Jennifer Lopez was "on the 6" Enrique was letting the rhythm take him over, and Ricky was "Living La Vida Loca".

1999 was also the year when The Phantom became one of the box offices biggest Menaces as Star Wars returned once again, we found out that children had "The Sixth Sense", Al Pacino proved that he was not only on the inside of things, but he could be his best on any day of the week especially on "Any Given Sunday" and Pokemon not only annoyed us on T.V. but also in the movie theatres. We seen the biggest waste of money emerge as four idiots in a forest put together a project on the Blair Witch, and we seen the funniest moments of Prom night unfold, while discovering new uses for "American Pie".

Lastly, we witnessed the Renaissance of money making television, as Regis came to us night after night asking the one question that everyone will answer me to, "Who Wants To Be A Millionaire".

Even though the century may not be over with, the nineties are, and what a way to finish it...

Dear Mother.

When you came in this world, she held you in her arms.

You thanked her by wailing like a banshee.

When you were 1 year old, she fed you and bathed you.

You thanked her by crying all night long.

When you were 2 years old, she taught you how to walk.

You thanked her by running away when she called.

When you were 3 years old, she made all your meals.

You thanked her by tossing it on the floor.

When you were 4 years old, she gave you some crayons.

You thanked her by colouring the dining room table.

When you were 5 years old, she dressed you for holidays.

You thanked her by plopping in the nearest pile of mud.

When you were 6 years old, she walked you to school.

You thanked her by saying, "I'M NOT GOING".

When you were 7 years old, she bought you a baseball.

You thanked her by throwing it through the next door neighbour's window.

When you were 8 years old, she handed you an ice cream.

You thanked her by dripping it all over your lap.

When you were 9 years old, she paid for piano lessons.

You thanked her by not even bothering.

When you were 10 years old, she drove you all day, from soccer to gymnastics to one birthday party after another.

You thanked her by jumping out of the car and never looking back.

When you were 11 years old, she took you and your friends to the movies.

You thanked her by asking her to sit in a different row.

When you were 12 years old, she warned you not to watch certain TV shows.

You thanked her by waiting until she left the house.

Those teenage years: ~

When you were 13, she suggested a haircut that was becoming.

You thanked her by telling her she had no taste.

When you were 14, she paid for a month away at summer camp.

You thanked her by forgetting to write a single letter.

When you were 15, she came home from work, looking for a hug.

You thanked her by having your bedroom door locked.

When you were 16, she taught you how to drive a car.

You thanked her by taking it every chance you could.

When you were 17, she was expecting an important call.

You thanked her by being on the phone all night.

When you were 18 she cried at your graduation.

You thanked her by partying until dawn.

Her growing old and grey: ~

When you were 19, she paid for your college tuition, drove you to campus and carried your bags.

You thanked her by saying good bye outside the dorm so you wouldn't be embarrassed in front of your friends.

When you were 20, she asked whether you were seeing anyone.

You thanked her by saying, "It's none of your business".

When you were 21, she suggested certain careers for the future.

You thanked her by saying, "I don't want to be like you".

When you were 22, she hugged you at your college graduation.

You thanked her by asking if she could pay for a trip to Europe.

When you were 23, She gave you furniture for your first apartment.

You thanked her by telling your friends that it was ugly.

When you were 24, she met your fiancée and asked about your plans for the future.

You thanked her by glaring and growling. "Muuhh-ther, please"

When you were 25, she helped you pay for your wedding.

and she cried and told you how much she loved you.

You thanked her by moving halfway across the country.

When you were 30, she called with some advice on the baby.

You thanked her by telling her, "Things are different now".

When you were 40 she called to remind you of a relative's birthday.

You thanked her by saying you were, "Really busy now".

When you were 50, she fell ill and needed you to take care of her.

You thanked her by reading about the burden parents become to their children.

And then, one day she quietly died.

And everything you never did came crashing down like thunder.

"Rock me baby, rock me all night long. The hand who rocks the cradle may rock the world".

Let us take a moment of time to pay tribute, to show appreciation to the person called MOM.

Though some may not say it openly to their mother, there is no substitute for her. Cherish every single moment with her. Though at times she may not agree with our thoughts, she is still your mother!!!!

She will be there for you...to listen to your woes, your bragging, your frustrations etc.

Ask yourself, have you put aside enough time for her, to listen to her "blues" of working in the kitchen, her tiredness???

Be tactful, loving and still show due respect though you may have different views from hers, once she is gone, only fond memories of the past and regrets will be left.

DON'T take for granted the person closest to your heart. Love her more than you love yourself. Life is meaningless without her.

Love

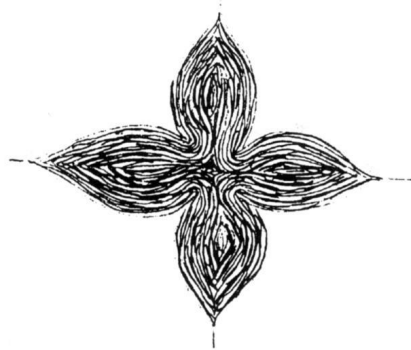

Love brings happiness,
Love brings tears.
Love can hurt, right in the heart but love can bring two people together.

Love is something you feel right
in there,
when you know you found true love.

Love is fate and destiny,
it's something you believe in.

Love meant everything to me,
when I fell in love with you.
But love comes first from you.
There is no love,
if there is no love within you.

Love is something you can show to others,
by the actions you do.
Love is feeling,

Love is speaking,
Love is eye contact,
Love is something that comes from two hearts.

Love is something special,
That comes from two people's hearts.
This is what love means to me.

Daddy's Song

Not every single father could say they raised their son,
At least not mine because father God I've got none,
I heard mad stories about you were happy to conceive me,
But if you were so happy how come you couldn't take care of me,
November 14th should have been the best day of your life,
your first born son,
you gave Gods gift a life,
I was born with your eyes but Momma had to hear me cry,
a strong black woman but whos gonna ease her silent cries, she rushed to the hospital every time I got sick, while you bailed out on us when the pressure got thick, probably joking with your friends saying you've got the biggest . . .
whatever,

Moms had to hold me up at night,
leaning on the wall trying to get some shuteye,
she never shed a tear,
I always knew my Momma was there,
but where were you,
when you were needed I couldn't find you anywhere, broken promises constantly hurting me,
now you think you can stabilise the past,
with some visits and some cash,
the whole thing about it is that I got your name, and instead of bringing pride the only thing it brings me is shame,
I have sisters through you, don't even know their middle names, and the biggest pain of all you don't even remember my birthday, you must have had my trophy to say you have a son have a son, but like I said in the first,
god son you got none . . .

Now I see you around my way trying to fix what was wrong, trust me the love I had for you daddy was lost in the storm, and just because I got myself into some problems you think you can barge in like a chief,
when you thought you made my life better all you brought me was grief,
you think just because you bring me some bus pass
and ten dollars cash, that we're gonna be best friends and our relationships gonna last,
in the past it might have been nice and dandy,
but you left me broken hearted like brandy,
I can't understand how you can go to sleep and feel like a man, when you know yours sons standing out here in the concrete land, if you wanted to be of service you would've extended a helping hand before,

I turned from a boy to man, see I learned how to stand on my own two feet without you there to guide me,

Moms is the powerful force in my life,
not to mention my family,
my big sister Jen is my truest best friend,
I got my cousins, my aunts, my uncles and my friends,
I got girls all around 360 degrees,
so you can step out of my life,
you think I need you - please,
and I know it might pain you when you read these words,
take it noun by noun and break down these verbs,
and I ain't apologetic about anything I said,
and if you think I'm taking it back you must be sick in your head, my birthday's coming up let's see if you make it pass again,

for the record,
I wish we could've been the perfect father and son,
The end.

PARKER 98

The following was written by a student at Columbine High School upon the reopening of the school.
 The paradox of our time in history is that we have taller buildings, but shorter tempers; wider freeways, but narrower viewpoints.
 We spend more, but have less; we buy more, but enjoy it less.
 We have bigger houses and smaller families; more conveniences, but less time; we have more degrees, but less sense; more knowledge, but less judgement; more experts, but more problems; more medicine, but less wellness.
 We drink too much, smoke too much, spend too recklessly, laugh too little, drive too fast, get angry too quickly, stay up too late, get up too tired, read too seldom, watch TV too much.
 We have multiplied our possessions, but reduced our values. We talk too much, love too seldom, and hate too often.
 We've learned how to make a living, but not a life; we've added years to life, not life to years.
 We've been all the way to the moon and back, but have trouble crossing the street to meet the new neighbour.
 We've conquered outer space, but not inner space.
 We've done larger things, but not better things.
 We've cleaned up the air, but polluted the soul.
 We've split the atom, but not our prejudice.
 We plan more, but accomplish less.
 We've learned to rush, but not to wait.
 We build more computers to hold more information to produce more copies than ever, but have less communication.
 These are the times of fast food and slow digestion, tall men, and short character; steep profits and shallow relationships.
 These are the times of world peace, but domestic warfare; more leisure, but less fun; more kinds of food, but less nutrition.
 These are the days of two incomes, but more divorce; of fancier houses, but broken homes; disposable diapers, throw-away morality; one-night stands, overweight bodies and pills that do everything from cheer to quiet, to kill.
 It is a time when there is much in the show window and nothing in the stockroom; a time when technology can bring this letter to you and a time when you can choose either to share this insight, or to just hit delete.

LIFE

Life is just a dream on the way to death.

Replay it over and over again, 'till I wake.

Life is just a scream on the way to death, louder and louder 'till I break.

Life is just a dream on the way to death.

Shake me, break me before I fall.

Life is just a scream on the way to death, death shall come to us all.

Missing

We toss darts
 And dig in the daggers
 We stop his heart
 We stop his soul
 He cries, shouts, fury flares.
 Then he punches and fights,
 But nothing he does can replace what he lost.

Music in the Millennium

What a millennium many are saying, for many different reasons, and one of those reasons is because we have witnessed the massive maturing of today's music industry. When this decade began it was riddled with sounds of Bach and Beethoven. As it progressed people were subjected to sounds of the early crooners such as Pat Boone and an early Sinatra. Those sounds later became doo-wop, jazz, blues, and the ever-popular rock and roll. Many will say that nothing will ever compare to those early days of rock, when it was superstars such as the Beatles, Springsteen, Presley, and Dillon, who graced stages around the worlds and literally opened the doorway for today's superstars. I am not going to contest any ones beliefs, who am I to say that the Doors did not make a vital contribution to our industry, because they did. If it weren't for these controversial groups, we would have never seen the emergence of Nirvana and Green Day, or even Offspring and Korn. Every decade the music industry has a face lift, the 60's was the rock era, the 70's was the disco days, when the Bee-Gees and Donna Summer ruled the charts, the 80's was the emergence of what was simply labelled then, Rap music, and the decade gone was what I seen as one of the most interesting era's. Music grew so much in these last ten years, that now music is simply the soundtrack to life. Music is the definition of style, and I believe it will always remain that way. There were the early fads of the nineties such as Hammer and Vanilla Ice, those were the days when the backstreet boys were still on an elementary playground and the new kids on the block were occupying the space that N'Sync and 5ive now share along with many other boy groups. Alanis Morissette was simply known as a first name only act, which at the time was one of Canada's biggest r and b stars. NWA and Public Enemy served as a threat to the American Governments, bringing about the first elements of gangster rap and mixing it with rebellious monotones, and Run DMC were still kicking in their Adidas. Once a couple of years passed, we seen the achy brakey hearts phase pass, the warm it up Kris phase pass, and the Bogle and Butterfly days went out the door. Soon groups such as the Wu-Tang Clan and Limp Bizkit took centre stage. We seen Dance and house music reach new heights with the computer world growing so quickly, we seen a Legend single handedly take the Country world by storm and made sure his presence was felt around the world, Garth Brookes. The British invasion resurfaced with the Spice Girls, and now S Club 7, and the skaters finally had music to call there own in Serial Joe and many others. Hanson held up the teeny bop side of things, and Toni Braxton came and went through r and b.

This decade Brought about sad moments such as Garnett Silk, Tupac, Biggie, Big L, Freaky Tah, Kurt Cobain, most recently Big Pun and many others, who each died senselessly?

Now we are standing in a time when music is to me at it's peak in every area, Bounty and Beenie, along with names as Baby Cham, Lexus, Sanchez, Beres Hammond, and Capleton are now the Dancehall rulers. Limp Bizkit, Rage against the machine and Korn have created their own sense of music, and gained their own followers. Most recently we have witnessed the invasion from south of the border with mega superstars like Ricky Martin and Latino bombshell Jennifer Lopez. R and B music is at its peak with Mary J. Blige and Mariah Carey at the helm of things. Country has implemented rock into it's sounds and brought about Shania twain and Leanne Rymes, and Rap music has now become hip hop music, which is the largest explosion of them all. After seeing The Notorious B.I.G and Pac rule things in the days when basketball players were trying find their identities in the music industry, now we have hip hops greatest emerging in Shawn Carter, Nastradamus, DMX, Snoop, Slim Shady, The Roots, and the Canadian explosion, Choclair.

Music has come a long way since the 1900's, there are more acceptances of the different types of sounds that are being played, but still I hope that we see a couple more changes. I hope that the content of a song is more valued and looked at, so we don't make these Noreaga's and Ol' dirty bastards superstars so quickly. I hope that groups such as Boys 2 Men are looked at and accepted as legends. I hope that the Canadian industry is more accepted worldwide and given the respect it deserves. I also hope that rock and metal leave out the Manson influences and bring about a more conscious vibe to it. I hope that roots rock reggae that has Bob Marley as its king is more appreciated than the Ward 21's and the Sarah McLaughlin's are more looked upon as a remedy to our generation. Last but not least I hope that the world realises the contribution that Will Smith, Kid and Play, and LL made to the hip hop game, and begin looking upon the Jigga's, Nas's, Black Thought's, Rakim's, and Common's as our legends and in their own rights Prophets.

I wish everybody the best in there musical listening, in whatever it may be that blares from your radio.

STAFF ADVISORS' MESSAGE by Mervyn Weekes

It has certainly been an honor, a privilege as well as a learning experience being part of this grad undertaking, being that of the Class of 2000's yearbook. I must admit that I knew nothing of being an advisor to the yearbook, however, working together with such dedicated loyal and enthusiastic students made this role for me a positive one!

Luckily, the majority of this year's group of students working on yearbook were experienced however, we were faced with many obstacles and for a while we were not even sure if there was going to be a yearbook. The school year of 1999 began with the teachers' working to rule meaning that all student life activities were canceled. Realizing this, the yearbook committee began their uphill battle trying to produce their first millennium yearbook without the usual assistance of the teachers. This fact alone, heightened the anxieties of not only the yearbook committee, but the entire graduating class! Questions arose such as "Can we do fundraising? If so, How? . . ." All of these questions seemed to have headed somehow in my direction. As I mentioned before, I knew nothing about being a yearbook advisor but after looking at the expressions of worry and concern on so many faces, it was difficult not to get involved. Thus began the uphill "battle" of producing the new millennium's yearbook.

With much determination, the reality of having a yearbook began to materialize. The students worked diligently day in and day out to put this final product of memories together. As I approached room 120, I could hear the turning of pages, the cutting of paper, the enthusiasm in their voices as they discussed their ideas dealing with new sections and finding creative ways to improve them. These sounds warmed my heart because I knew that they were going to win this "battle".

Don't get me wrong - this "battle" came with its fair share of frustrations, heated debates, disagreements, missed classes, many pressing deadlines and at times, the reassigning of tasks so that committee members continued to function. Many times, we wished that there were twenty five hours in a day! This group of students was able to meet, strategize and attack in order to overcome the many obstacles that they faced. It was admirable to witness the bonding, this could produce lasting friendships - All of which took place in room 120!

I would personally like to extend special thanks to the Co-editors-in-chief, Mathieuson Beaujour and Chrystal Foz. Chrystal came on board on last minute notice and help to put the yearbook in perspective. Thanks is also extended to Jackie Lumba, Kenton Layne, Leslie Houle, Patricia Brown, Jessica Krasner, Zai Ransome, Shannon Lalonde, Brinette Catterson, Andrea Karpman, Casie Vilhena, Melodie Cohn, and Deena Zilman.

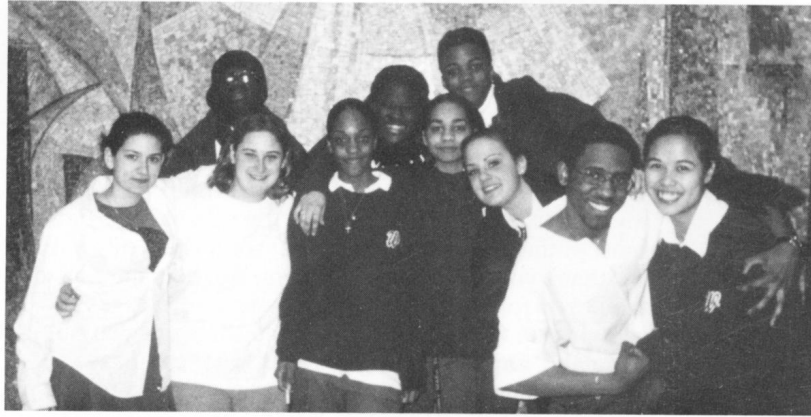

As I flip through the pages of this millennium yearbook, I feel proud! I will treasure each memory of our battle that was won!

Congratulations to the Yearbook committee for a job well done and a heartfelt thank-you for allowing me to be a part of this wonderful experience. To the graduating students, I wish you all, not only successful endeavors, but also God's peaceful blessings. To the undergrads, continue to reach for the top and you will achieve your goals.

MATHIEU'S MESSAGE

"Success is only sweet when it is earned"

I've never seen anything bring about so many problems as this book did. As you read this message remember that it was written with mixed emotions, a lot of people will not appreciate what is written, but that's my purpose in life, to provoke the mind, in any manner possible.

On the sunny side of things, I do have to one up the people who actually worked and saved my butt from uttermost humiliation. Verbal and Fabulous, you know that you held up most of the book, Fozzy bear I'm sorry that you ended up with so much responsibility, but thank you for sacrificing yourself to help me, Casie and Jessica, you ladies are dolls, thank you for bearing with all the mixed messages and controversy, Brinette, thanks for showing up to all the meetings and the work you put in, Jackie, you are Superwoman, plain and simple, thanks, Melodie, what can I say.....

Matthew, one of the most gifted artists, thanks for the pictures, keep up the good work. Abstract, Mr. Photo, respect, Andrea and Denna, you guys should go into advertisement, but just don't advertise here. Shannon, you are a gem, don't stop being you.

Patricia, you worked a lot, thanks for every moment of it, but more importantly thank you for bearing with me and keeping me leveled, not just in room 121, but in life, you will always be my Goddess. To all the teachers who beared with it thanks, but to those who didn't, if I could only bring words to paper to express myself. Mrs. Labbe, the coolest secretary, one day I'll win the lotto and pay your wages, Ms Ross, thanks for believing in me, Ms Nik, thanks for making me feel bad, it actually helped me, Mr. Acton for the support, Mr Laplante, thanks for being one of the wickedest teachers I've ever encountered, I hope you never grow up, Ms Louisma, I'll find Mr. right for you, but you know since I'm taken that'll be hard, you are a good friend, Mrs. Vasopolis, thank you for the support, even though you may think I don't like you, your words and time meant a lot to me, Nicole, thanks for caring, your great, Stella, wow, without you I would not have been here at all, thanks for caring that much to actually go out of your way for me. Mr. Semeniuk, thank you for believing in me through out all these years, you gave me more than an education you gave me hope, I'll never forget you. Mrs. Gordon, you actually proved to me that a teacher could care for a student as more than just a student but as a human being, thank you for looking out for my best my best interests; I wish you all the best. To all those who left me stranded with this book.....to all the students who helped out with the development of this book, thank you. Mervyn, simply put, RUN WAY... & MORE FIRE, I hope that everybody realizes that most of this administration is the reflection and definition of Babylon, we nuh represent dem tings seen. To next years staff, make sure that your advisors are capable of the work, and not using you, as there pawns to success, do not become anybodies puppets, And Count on Steve Weeks, He's a mastermind (thank you so very much sir). I leave this school with sadness but joy, I love Wagar, because this is what made me, but in the end we'll all say the same thing, Fire Bun pon you seen. My life has just begun. CHRYSTAL'S MESSAGE

Now that this book is finally finished, there are a couple of people that I'd like to thank for without them, this would never have been possible. First and foremost, I'd like to thank my partner in crime, Mathieuson. It's finally over! No more running around for people to take pictures or for their layouts! Remember, I'm here for you whenever you need me! To my cuz, Jackie Lumba. Without you, there would be no yearbook. Thanks for everything you've done for the staff and I. You did a great job and I really appreciate you helping out. To Patricia and Kenton, thanks for making stressful days in the yearbook room fun. To Patricia thanks for being the organized one because without you, all would be lost, literally. To Kenton, the jokes were nonstop, THANKS! To the rest of the Prelude staff, congratulations on a great job. All your hard work paid off in the end. Although there were some differences this year, we all learned to work together and get this book done. Many thanks to our advisor, Mervyn Weekes for all of your time and effort. Although you were learning right along with us, your input and support was greatly appreciated. To Mr. Steve Weeks, countless thanks for all of your advice and help in getting this book on its way. I'd also like to extend some gratitude to Mr. Buttino and Mr. Acton for their support. Much appreciation to all of our teachers for their understanding and for allowing us to work during their classes. To all those who have helped me this year during my most stressful times 'cause they THOUGHT I was doing too much, you know who you are, THANK YOU! To the Prelude staff of the future, there are a couple things you need to remember, never leave things till last minute, make the deadlines and most of all, have fun. Good luck!! Lastly, to all those reading this, good luck and I hope you like it!

A Poem by the late Tupac Shakur

And 2 Morrow

Today is filled with anger,
Fuelled with hidden hate,
Scared of being outcast,
Afraid of common fate,
Today is built on tragedies,
Which no one wants to face
Nightmares 2 Humanities,
And morally disgraced,
Tonight if filled with rage,
Violence in the air,
Children with ruthlessness
Because no one at home cares,
Tonight I lay my head down,
But the pressure never stops,
Gnawing at my sanity,
content when I am dropped,
But 2morrow I change
A chance 2 build a new built on spirit,
Intent of heart and ideals based on truth,
And 2morrow with second wind and strong because of pride,
2 know I fought with all my heart
2 keep my dreams alive.

Good luck everybody,
in everything you do.

STUNNING MEMORIES

I didn't know you that well,
But everyday I'm wishin' you in heaven not hell,
My pain has to get felt,
I wonder if you slipped, fell then heard the bells of the lord callin',
Were you gone? I couldn't tell,
I met you on da' court, where God wanted us to meet,
You schooled me real bad, didn't take long for us to speak,
Why you talked to me is still some s I can't figure,
But still after that day I felt like I was your n**,
Here today, gone tomorrow is the way I would describe it,
Can you tell me where my heart is?
Since you left I can't find it,
Thinkin' bout all this is killin me inside,
I stayed up 'til one o'clock just to write this rhyme,
When I first found out, I didn't want to believe it,
Just the thought of you gone, I didn't want to conceive it,
Alot of people like me have taken this s to heart,
Just to know that you were and now you're a thought in the dark,
I used to be bad, smokin', runnin' from beast,
Now the one thing on my mind is having you rest in peace,
Six foot whatever y'all want to call me in height,
I swear to God I shed tears from my n last night,
I don't know why I come to school,
I can't focus on work,
I just keep thinkin' you were here now you're under the dirt,
We gotta get rid of this pain cuz you know that's our mission,
But from now until were gone it's gonna be Clint we're missin',
