

PRELUDE

Presenting . . . THE EDITORS IN ACTION

"Do you think they'll give us an ad?"
Our editors are rejected - this club apparently doesn't need the exposure. They decide to drown their sorrows in style.

"Do we look 18? - no!"
No luck at the liquor commission.

"Quickly! Someone is looking!"
Our editors are pursued by in-store detectives.

In an attempt to evade their pursuers, our heroines cleverly blend into the surroundings until the security personnel pass.

Then make a quick getaway.

"We'll have to take this shortcut, Lauren." Andrea's navigational instinct surfaces.

"Are you sure this was the right cliff Ang?"

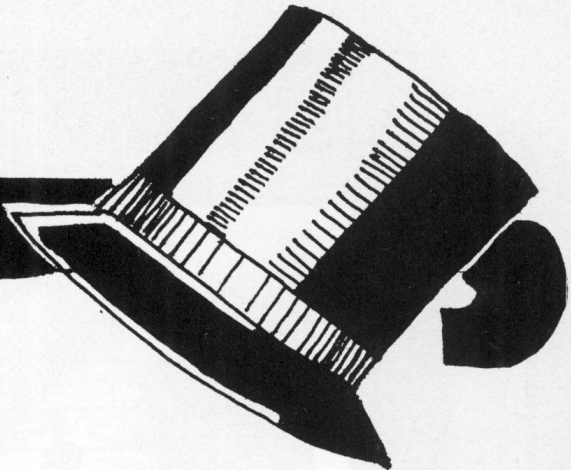

"This is NOT Wagar!"

It wasn't easy editing this yearbook, but here it is. We would like to thank every-one who helped us put it together and thumb our noses at all those who hindered us. 1986-1987 was a good year; the essence of it is what we have tried to capture in the '87 Prelude. Best of luck to our graduating classmates - may you be fruitful and multiply.

- Lauren Ptito & Andrea Caplan

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Students:

It is indeed a pleasure to write a short message to the students of Wagar High School, to commend them for work well done, to urge them to continue in their quest for academic excellence and to extend good wishes to those who are leaving at the end of this school year.

On behalf of the staff, I congratulate each and every one of you in making 1986-87 a worthwhile year at Wagar. Your contribution has made you part of Wagar and Wagar a part of you. Both are richer as a result.

To those who will not be with us next year, I extend best wishes for happiness and success. I hope you will retain this book as a record and reminder of the many events and experiences that have cemented real friendships, established correct attitudes towards others, and contributed to a self-confidence that will carry you through future years.

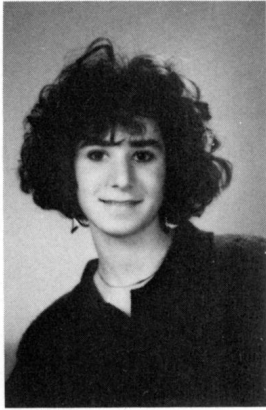

In closing, may I compliment and thank most sincerely, the editors, members of the editorial board and staff advisors for all their work in the publication of this annual.

Good luck to all of you.

CLUBS

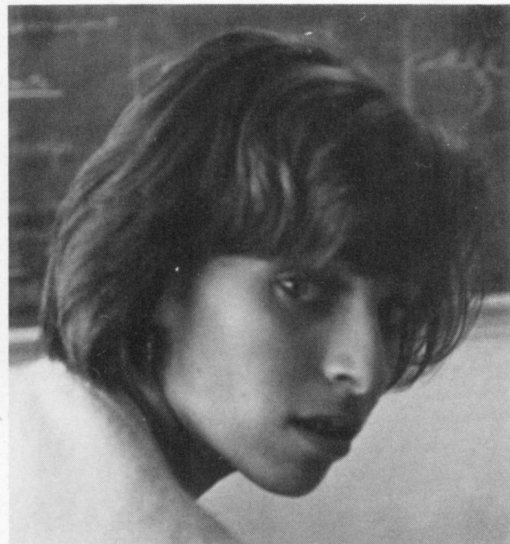

VECTORS CLUB

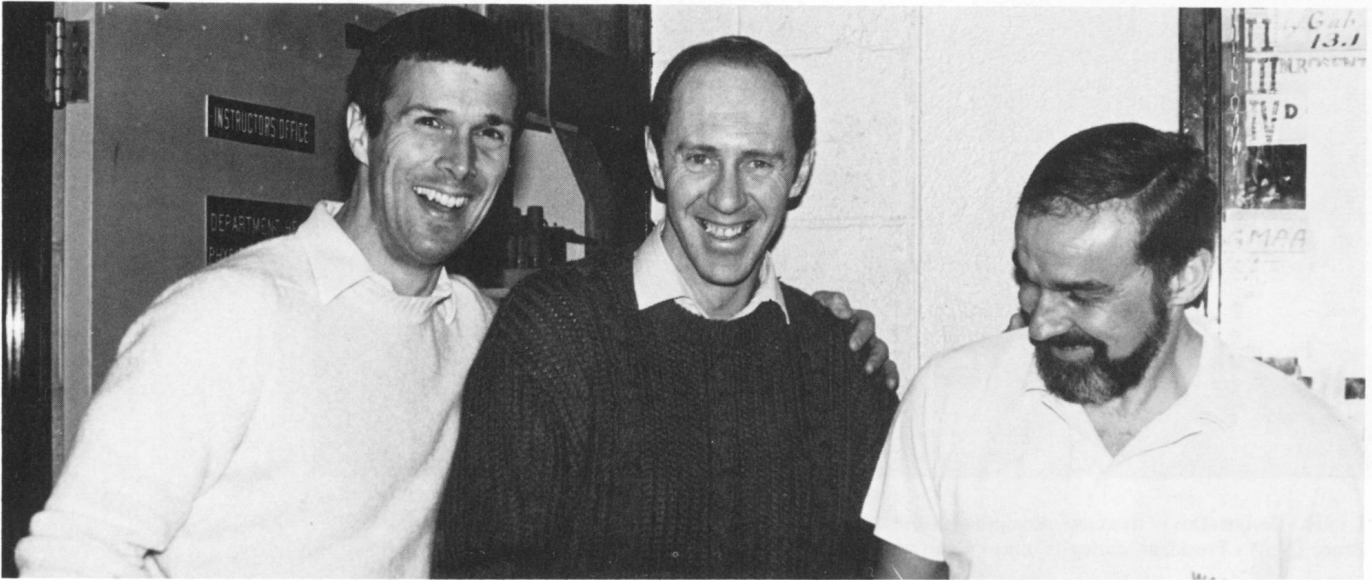

With members like Maury, Odie, Source, Lucky, Fred, George, and Mad Dog, visitors to the club may think this was a Hell's Angels meeting. To their surprise, the members of the club are actually quite a conservative bunch. Even though they like to party, insult each other, and argue with the textbook (despite threats of "Stop the talkin' - you're losin' marks!"), Smilin' Jim's crew actually learn a little bit each day - even if they don't understand it.

Highlights of this year included Perry Karnofsky's Birthday Party, where a delicious cake was served amidst music from the 105 Wallbangers. Mr. Jim Aitken (say it fast) stylishly decorated the black-board with a lovely orthogonal matrix.

UGLY CLUB

In the past, Don Ugly and Pete Ugly were the only uglies ugly enough to qualify for Wagar's very exclusive Ugly Club. BUT NOW . . . A NEW MEMBER - Jim Ugly. Jim has passed initiation (breaking the Prelude Staff's photography lens) and has been admitted. Using advanced technology, durable film, and a shatterproof lens, our staff finally managed to capture this ugliness, Now judge for yourselves . . . could anyone be uglier??!?

YEAH YOU?

They have the most modern equipment and newest techniques for saving people's lives. This is their last year at WAGAR, but remember, they will be there when you or your family needs them the most. "People ask why we do it?" The answer is simple, "it's because we care".

THE FRENAYS

Wagar's unusual basketball team, coached by P. Frenay, went 0-5, but they had fun. The team featured such superstars as Sean (3-point) Barskey, Steve (Dr. Kool) Lewandowski, Paul (Crockett) Leiba, Albert (Zube) Zbily, Alan (Big Man) Cohen, and Lishon (Gandhi) Daniel, Mark (Mr. O) Levine, & Ken (Bruce) Lee, who are unpictured. Coach Paul (Phil Collins) Frenay lent his vast basketball experience to his team, which was the only one with a PERFECT record! Congratulations, guys! Special thanks to David & Leroy (referees).

Upon learning that no one had bothered to thank Lauren Ptito and Andrea Caplan for their hard work, we took it upon ourselves to perform the task. To Lauren & Andrea; the student body of Wagar High thanks you for your extensive travails until all hours of the night. Our most sincere gratitude cannot be properly expressed in a silly ad. (Meet us at 7:00 in the Teachers' Caf.)

The Beverly Hillbillies Part Two
The Voyage Home
(sung to the tune of 'The Beverly Hillbillies')

Well, here's another story 'bout a guy named Jed
An oil tycoon with a million-dollar spread
Then one day while he was havin' a big bash
He heard on T.V. about a stock market crash
CASH, THAT IS. JED HAD NO MORE . . .
All the guests left in their chauffeured limousines
Dressed in their sequins and gold-tone gabardine
Jed said "BACK HOME is the place I ought to be"
So he loaded up the Rolls and drove back to Tennessee
WILLIAMS, THAT IS. FAMOUS PLAYWRIGHT . . .
Jed thought of his life at his home up in "The Hills"
The all-night orgies, spine-tingling sort of thrills
The Jed came to a crucial realization
He lived a better life back at home on his plantation
SHACK, THAT IS. OUT IN THE BOONIES . . .
There's a moral to this story, a lesson to be learned
Success ain't proportionate to what you might have earned
No matter how much finances with which you may be blessed
Just remember that it doesn't buy you happiness . . .
Y'ALL COME BACK NOW . . . (instrumental)
By Ari Blicker

THE UNKNOWN

Stagnant is the water as I sit watching the crystal clear pond.
A faint breeze passes through the leaves and I become aware of the soft melody penetrating the air.
The wind, the unknown.
It contains the unwanted truth which chokes us all
Until we are no longer afraid,
only horrified.
The unexpected becomes reality
There is no escape from the fear
Which envelopes all our lives.
And yet there is no enemy
In a place this isolated from the world.
Why must we live a dream in order to find happiness?
Or must we accept the martyrdom
Which many of us face
When we awake every morning?
"We live to die" (someone once said)
So why musn't we enjoy our lives and what is has to offer?
For we will one day
miss it very much.

- Lisa Carioto

BOUNDARIES

He moves with agility
As he soars through the eternal sky
His grey wings move rapidly
As he rises higher
His cries are those of glory and freedom,
Cries which I have only now learned to accept.
Like ours, his life
Is an endless trip
With many stops along the way
A trip which only contains
The boundaries that we decide to fabricate.

- Lisa Carioto

THE SKY

The sky is an infinitely large canvas
Which stretches from horizon to horizon
Upon which the creator paints.
He dips his paintbrush
Into his paint: white, grey, and other colors
He paints with endless patience
He is never satisfied
The shapeless forms are doomed
To be always changing for eternity
The clouds never rest; they drift forever
Through the enormous blue canvas we call the sky.

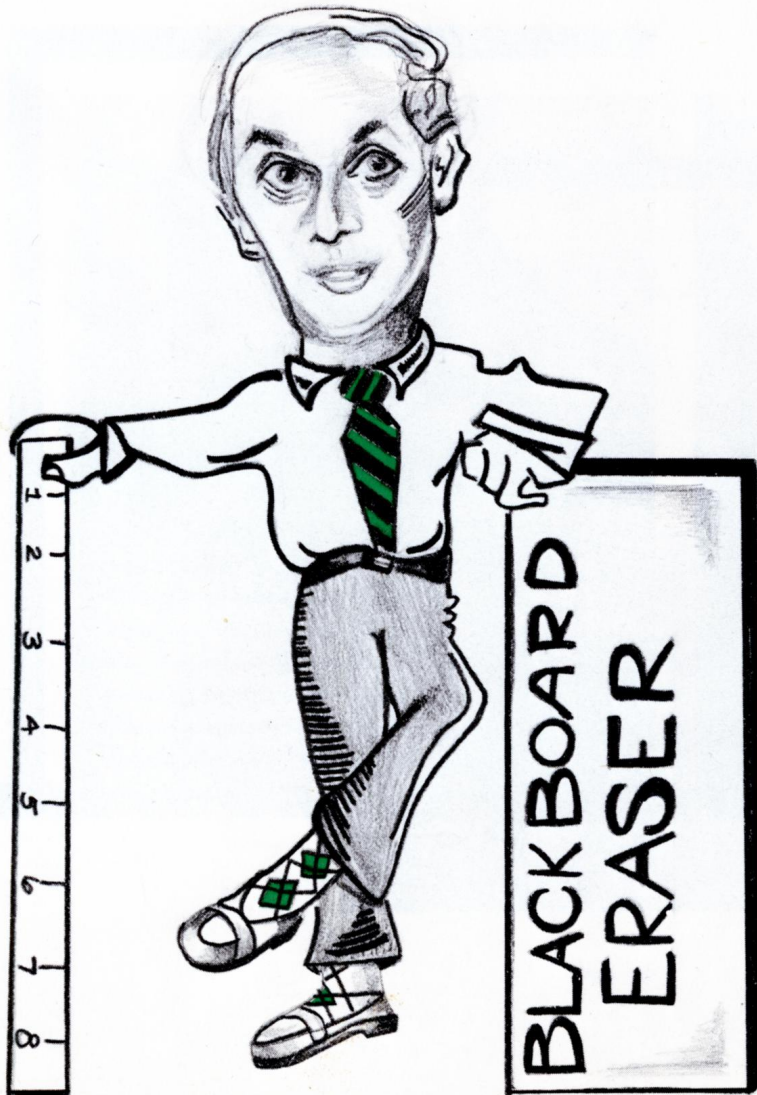

-Isaac Lin

Ode to a Math Teacher

His eyes are clear and blue
His posture so erect
His superbly coiffed hairdo
Does not suffer from neglect
His natty tie is knotted
His shirt is clean and pressed
His pants remain unspotted
Their creases are unmessed
His socks are dapper argyle
In matching red and green
His shoes click smartly on the tile
He's the swellest guy I've seen
He teaches us a function
Parabola or graph
Yet he has no compunction
'Bout having a good laugh
Yes we all love him dearly
We admire him so much
We worship him sincerely
When he says his famed "as such".

Nothing could go wrong. How could it? My two chocolate wafers had been pressed flawlessly, the insignia stood out like a rose in a ragweed field. With the thought of being devoured by a hungry child and then getting washed down with milk, I let them put me through the stuffer without a struggle.

Other wafers had said that the stuffing process was painful, but all I felt was the glorious, white, sugar substance fill my two wafers. After I came off the assembly line it was only a matter of being boxed and shipped. My life as an Oreo cookie had finally begun and I was ecstatic. Suddenly I felt a big hand pick me up and fondle me. I thought it was just procedure, but when he threw me into the box marked "REJECT", I knew something was wrong. I sat there with several maimed cookies and cried. Our lives had ended as quickly as they had started. But then, like a lottery winner I got lucky. The owner of the Oreo plant saw me. He picked me up and looked me right in the stuffing.

"This cookie was double stuffed," he pronounced, "who came up with this concept?"

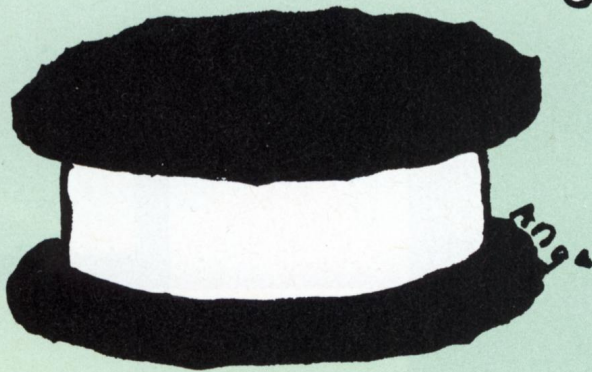

"It was just a reject," the worker responded.

"It's fantastic. Manufacture more! Oreo cookies will now manufacture a new product: Double Stuff Oreos. I'm keeping this cookie."

"Sure thing Mr. Christie!" the worker replied.

Now I'm the Double Stuff prototype and I live in a cabinet in the head office. I may never get devoured by a young child but I'll always know that Mr. Christie makes a good cookie!

L'HIVER

L'hiver est arrive
Nous devons porter des gants
Des tuques et des manteaux
On peut jouer dans la neige.

L'hiver est tres beau
Parce qu'il y a de la neige partout
La neige est blanche comme les nuages
Mais quand la neige est dans tes mains
Elle fond et coule comme de l'eau.

LA LIBERTE

La liberte est tres belle
Parce que tu peux faire
Ce que tu veux, quand tu veux!
C'est comme le chat
Qui fait son diner
Se nettoie toujours lui-meme.
C'est aussi comme l'oiseau
Qui est tres libre
Il vole partout a la recherche de la nourriture.
Moi, j'aime la liberte
Pour ce qu'elle me donne
Mais je la deteste
Pour ce qu'elle m'ote.
J'aime l'attention qu'on me porte
Plus que la liberte.

PROPAGANDA

I've been waiting for something to happen,
For a week, or a month, or a year,
With the blood in the ink of the red line,
With the sound of the crowd in my ear.

As the shadow on the faces
Of the men who seldom cry,
In the wars that are fought in places
Where no business interests lie.

On the radio talk shows and interviews,
You hear one thing again and again,
How those faces stand for freedom,
Of the men who are fighting in vain.

As the shadows on the faces
Of the men who fend the planes
Of the wars that are fought in places,
We can't even say the names.

They sell us the president the same way
They sell us our clothes and our cars.
They sell us everything from youth to religion,
The same time they sell us our wars.

I want to know who the men in the shadows are,
I want to hear somebody asking them why
They can be counted to tell us who our enemies are,
But they're never the ones to fight or die.

And there are men in the shadows,
There are people under fire,
There are children in the ditches,
And there is blood on the wall.

NEW GENERATIONS

THE FOOLISH FEW

Of all the people in this world
Who have lent their hearts to love
It is those who share the most
That lose the most of all.

They have yet to realize
Uterior motives
Sought out fortunes
Tricks of the trade.

They, the foolish few
Shall regain no more
Their dignity, grace or self-respect
In light of their sorrow.

They will hide themselves
From that permanent scar
That has stripped them
Of every ounce of potential.

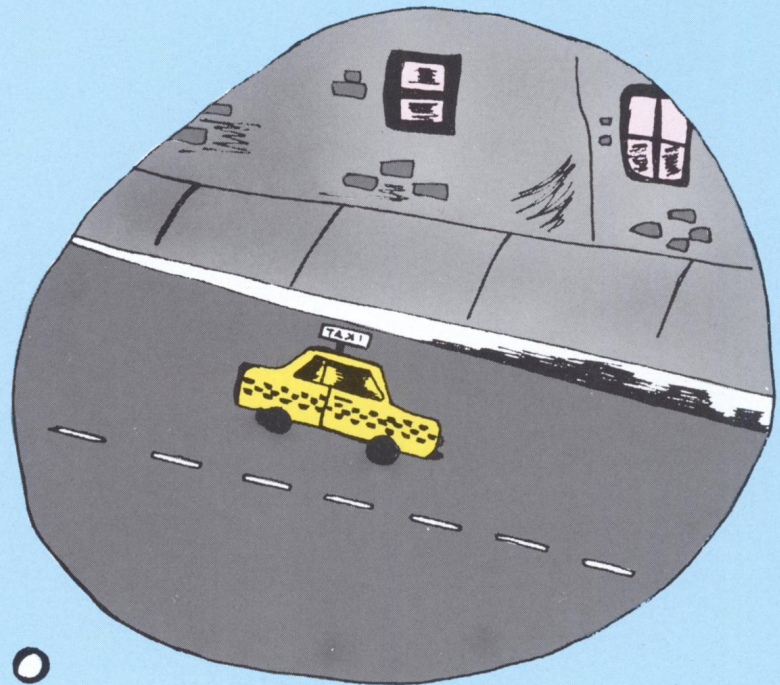

They are now the foolish few
A disgrace to the family
An embarrassment to others
A mistake to the world
And a replica of ill-fated love.

SORRY

We walked down the street
Although on opposite sides
I observed you-
You never saw me.
I yearned to cross the street
I didn't dare - you didn't care.
My brisk pace waned
You forged ahead.
Yet I noticed you began to slow down,
too.
And one day,
When I had almost forgotten you (but not in my heart),
Across the street you came
And took my hand.
Now we walk together
But my bliss is ignorance
After a short distance your steps are no longer lively-
You seem to plod.
There are new things on the other side,
Which, to you, seem more interesting than Me.
Slowly, you drift back across the street.
I despair, yet I hope you might return.
Then, you get hit and killed by a taxi.
Sorry, Charlie.

- Lauren Ptito

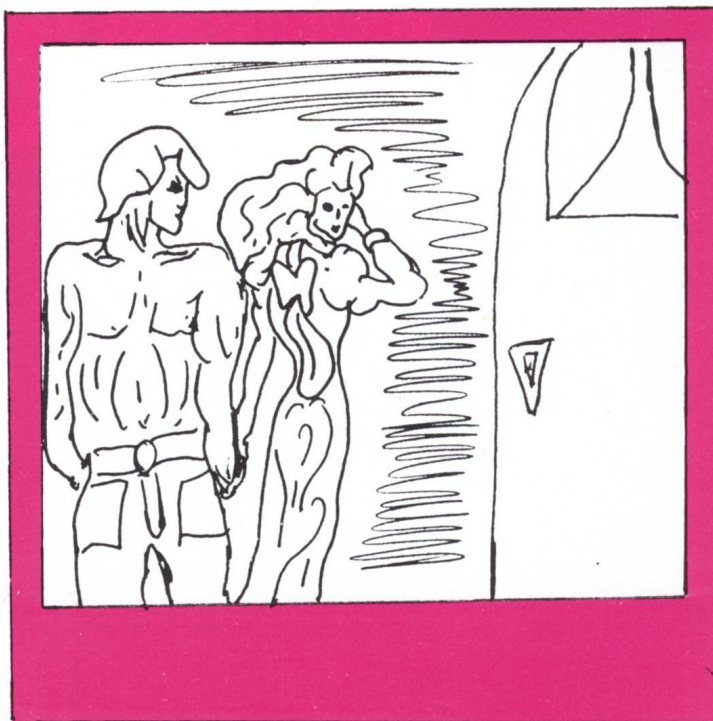

THE CAMERA

It captures emotions
And freezes smiles
To be stolen from time
And place
It holds the motion
And preserves the twinkle
In your eyes so quickly
Erased.

It redeems the memories
From another day
And you become overwhelmed
At a glance
The feelings may die
And you might forget
Or simply snap them
If you have a Chance.

A Portrait Of The Young Woman As An Artist

She stares through the mirror at her canvas
It is smooth and cream-coloured.
She dips into her paints,
Soft pinks and rich golds:
Shadows to enrich the relief.

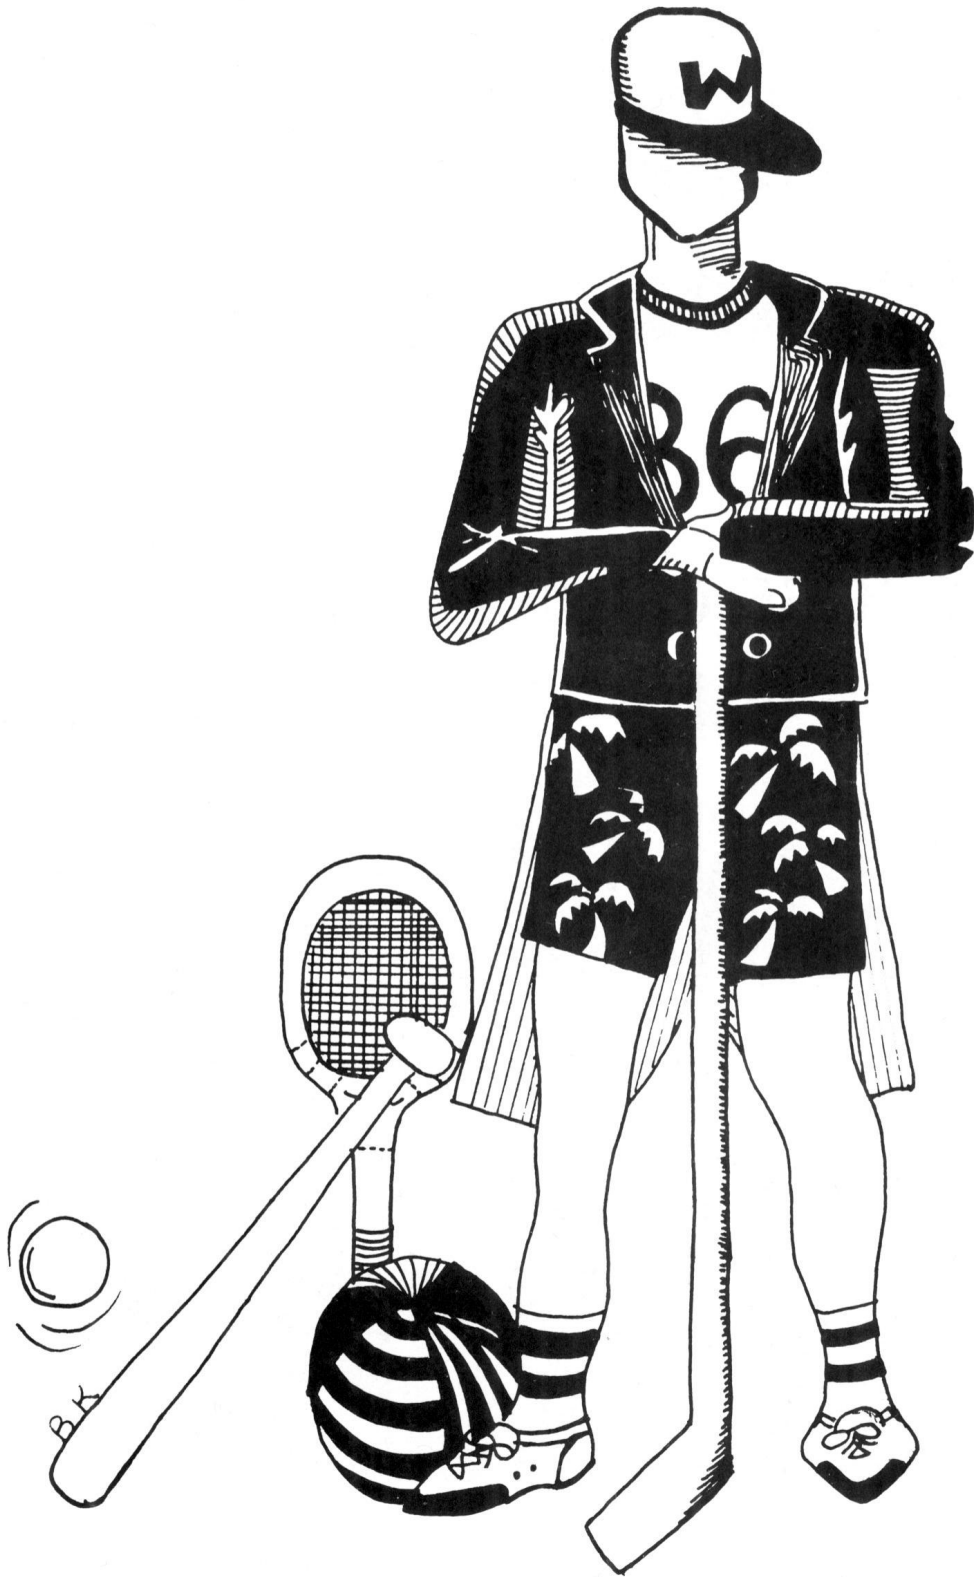

It is now possible to understand
The relationship of the artist and the art:
Possibly the most difficult form of narcissism.
The canvas may be perfect to begin with,
But it is the point of the artist to improve on it.

She's out.
Boys look but keep their distance, slightly fearful.
She doesn't approach them.
(Art is never friendly.)
She goes home alone, again, misunderstood,
Takes off her makeup and goes to sleep.

When art comes to life, the point is lost
If the purpose of the art is the paint.

INDOOR TRACK

This year's team is a group of enthusiastic young athletes intent on succeeding in competition. A small senior constituency has not hampered the team's leadership. Lead by juniors Lisa Hecht and David Rosenberg who have both done well in their respective events in the past. We believe that this year's team will be a force to reckon with in the future as three quarters of this year's team are bantams.

The Juvenile Boys' Volleyball team could have been known as "the team that almost wasn't". Despite a lack of enthusiasm originally, the team pulled together for a surprisingly successful season. We would like to thank Mr. McEwen for being so patient all year and for giving us permission to throw volleyballs at students with gym detentions. TEAM CHEER: 1-2-3- DANA!

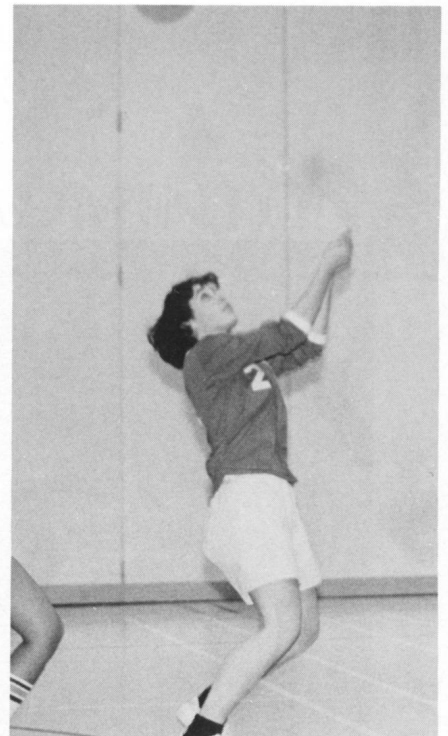

GIRLS' JUVENILE VOLLEYBALL

The Girls' Juvenile Volleyball team was made up of quite a few rookies and some experienced players from last year's team. We learned the basics, and put a lot of effort into each game we played. We'd like to thank Miss Ross and Mr. Chuprun, our coaches, for making it a most enjoyable season.

MIDGET BOYS' VOLLEYBALL

This year's team was inexperienced but very determined to do well this year in preparation for next year's Senior team. Led by co-captains David "The Doctor" Rosenberg and Reynaldo "Rey" Aquino, the team finished around the .500 mark, just missing the playoffs. Our co-captains were supported by a band of up-and-coming young athletes: Albert "Fall Guy" Sum, Sebastian "Sky" Gooden, Andy Suk, Adam Levine, Gregg "Southpaw" Silver, and Steve Potamianos, and led by coach "Sweet" Pete Butler.

Here's Wagat . . . here's basketball . . . here's Wagat's Juvenile Girls' basketball team! The ugliest coach in the league, (otherwise known as Mr. Don McEwen or the Big Mac), has taught us everything he knows, which may be why we've lost more games than we've won. Nevertheless, we've got the nicest legs on the floor (not including our coach) and we have a great time whether we win or lose. Through the effort we've put in during the season, we've found that winning isn't everything (though it makes it more enjoyable), it's how you play the game.

ACTIVITIES

CHOCOLATE BAR SALE

This year's chocolate bar sale went very well, thanks to those students who sold boxes and boxes of bars and managed to raise approximately $4000.00 for Student Council. The money was used to plan activities such as dances and Winter Carnival.

Randy Schwartz sold the most chocolate bars and received a cheque for $75.00 Miss Graham's homeroom, 208, sold more than any other homeroom and got to share a chocolate bar, which, as can be seen in the photograph, was slightly larger than the ones that had been sold. Congratulations to the Student Council on successfully organizing this event.

SOCK HOP

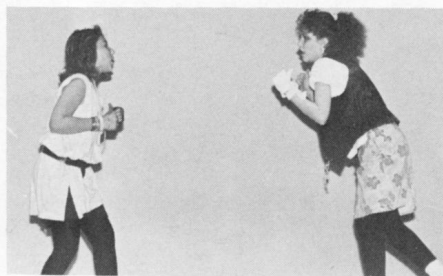

Wagar's first dance of '86-'87 was held on November 27. The theme was a '50s and '60s one, and Wagarites rocked around the clock to the swell tunes provided by Superior Sound. The overwhelming attendance demonstrated Wagar's tremendous school spirit, and left everyone looking forward to the next one.

LIP SYNC CONTEST

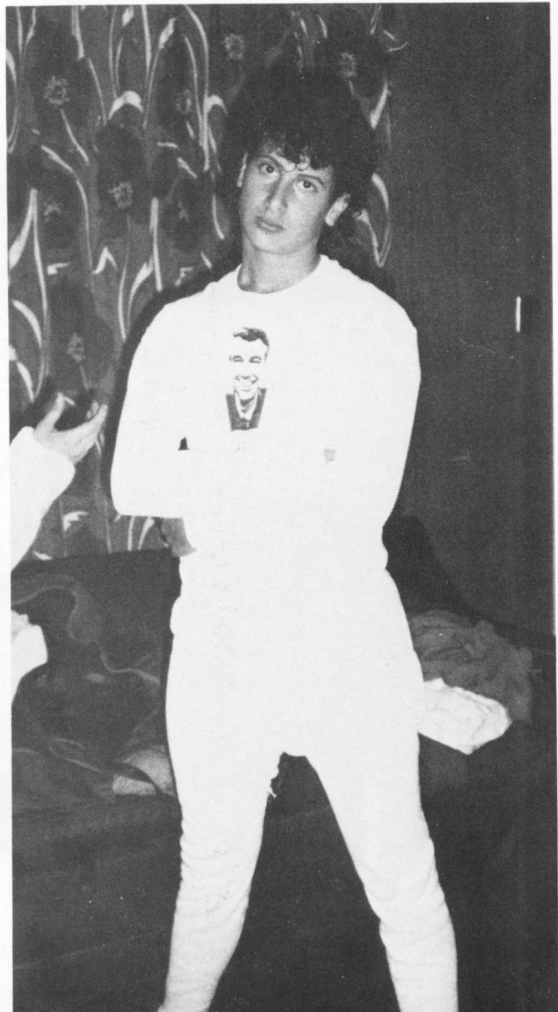

Wagar's first annual Lip Sync contest was quite a success, as students got the chance to perform on stage as their favorite musical celebrities. The contestants' acts were quite varied; songs by Madonna, Kiss, and Muppet Babies, among others, were lip-synced by juniors and seniors alike. All the presentations were great, but the winners of the contest were Rony, Steve, Brad, and Brent with "Heaven's on Fire" by Kiss (juniors) and Belinda, Jayne, and Allison with "Splish Splash" by Bobby Darin (seniors). Hopefully, the lip sync contest will become a yearly tradition at Wagar.

SHAW /87

In early October, a group of Wagar's finest set out to bustling Niagara-on-the-Lake to partake in the Annual Shaw Festival. Led by the fun-loving Ms. Cox and Ms. Rosenberg, the bunch enjoyed three days of learning and enrichment. They also saw a few plays. All those who were awake during the performances agreed that they were marvelous. Those who understood them as well liked them even better. Highlights of the trip included re-enactments of the Family Feud in the Royal Anchorage Motel's parking lot under a downpour and several searches for pizza in the wee hours of the night. Despite the slight deviation of these students from the norm, the chaperones had no trouble keeping everything (well, mostly everything) under control. This excursion once again demonstrates that Wagarites possess the ability to have fun anytime, anyhow, and anywhere.

EXPOS' VISIT

At the beginning of the school year, Wagarites had the privilege of receiving a visit from three Expos and their batting coach. André Dawson, Tom Foley, Jim Fanning, and Bobby Winkles all spoke to Wagar students about drugs and drug abuse. This was definitely a superb experience for all those who were present, teachers and students alike. These men spoke frankly and openly about situations that they had witnessed or been involved in, and their audience realized the evils of drug abuse. We would like to thank these men for taking time out of their busy schedules to come to a high school and speak to the student body in hopes that a well-informed generation will produce one that isn't self-destructive.

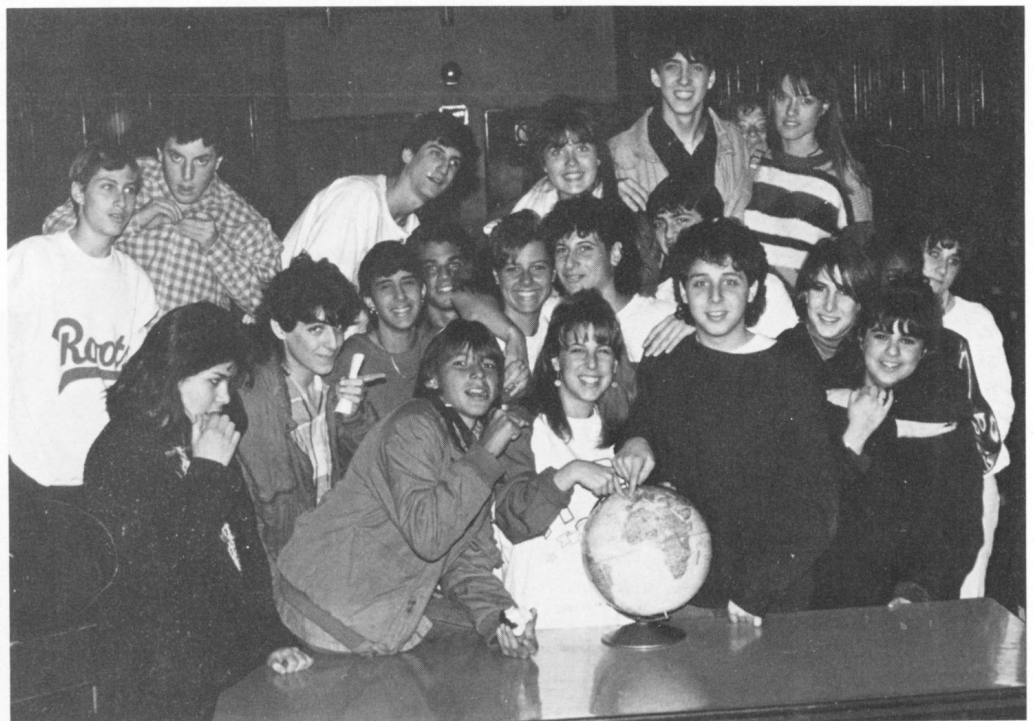

GRADUATING CLASS ORGANIZATION

It was a great year at Wagar High but that didn't change the fact that the graduating class was excited to get out. So we, GCO, had to bear the burden of planning the dance for a bunch of apathetic, yet fun-loving grads. Being constantly bombarded with questions such as, "Who am I going to the dance with?", "What am I gonna wear?", "What is the colour combination so that I can dress accordingly," the planning of grad was tough, but still fun. We managed to get the dance set for May 21, at the Sheraton Center Hotel, where we planned to boogie the night away. Bake sales, bottle drives, and raffles were the usual method of fund-raising. We also sold T-shirts and sweatshirts. A special thanks goes out to Mr. Feigen and Ms. Adams who helped to make it the best high school grad we'll ever have. Hopefully!

STUDENT COUNCIL

E. Plawutsky, Treasurer; M. Steinberg, 2nd Vice-President; C. Levine, President; A. Blicher, Vice-President; A. Cohen, Co-ordinator of activities.

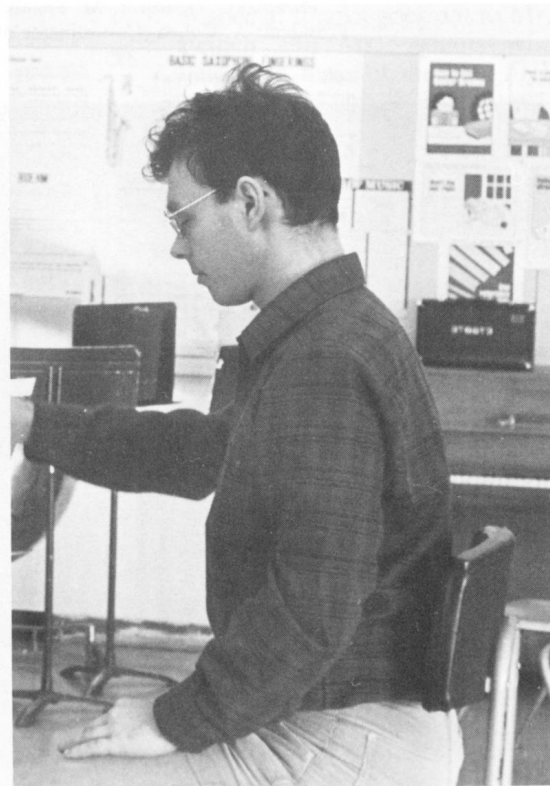

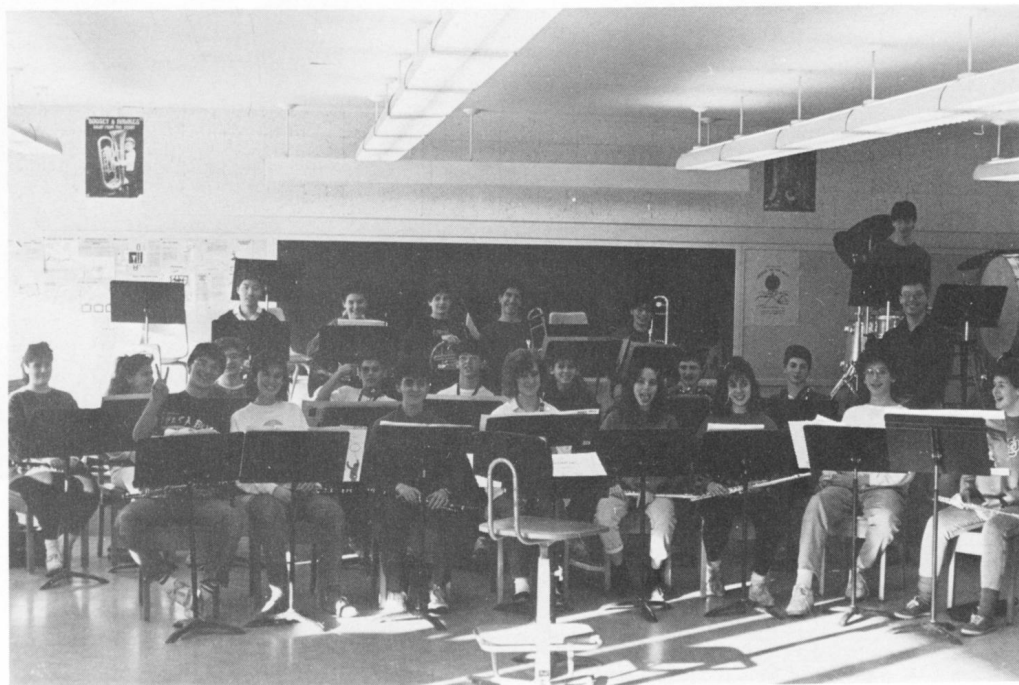

Members at Large: P. Serruya, S. Gandell, A. Wang, M. Bejerman, K. Isaac

President's Message

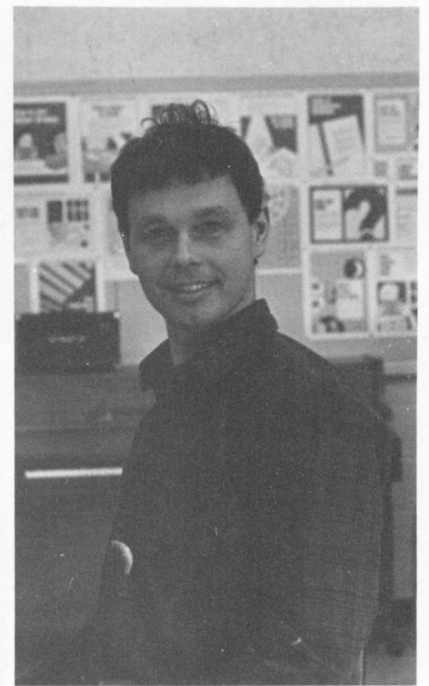

Of all the activities I have had the pleasure of participating in throughout my years at Wagar, the most significant of my accomplishments was my election to the Presidency of the Student Council. Working with the council has enabled me to develop skills in advertising and leadership. I have learned the fundamentals of working and functioning in a group and the preparations involved in the organization of activities. The position has served as a great outlet for my creativity. Above all, it's been fun. There were times when I was frustrated, but when it all came together, I was proud of what was accomplished. Wagar, for the first time in a decade, had more than one dance. Our Sock-Hop and Lip-Sync contest were great successes. All the aggravation, lunch-hour meetings and eating stale chocolate bars were worth it. However, I don't believe in solo achievements. One thing this position had taught me is the value of teamwork and the importance of cooperation. I was fortunate enough to have the best people working alongside me. Avie, Ari, Eugene, and Michael - you guys are the greatest and really deserve the recognition. I didn't feel that we occupied specific positions, but rather worked as a team. We were all equals - even though I got to meet Andre Dawson (Ha-ha!). I must also thank Mrs. Shugar for her help and for putting up with us. I would like to thank the council and the entire student body for their continued support, respect, and friendship. I hope that I've made your year as incredible as you've made mine.

The 1986-87 Staff Laff Variety Show was, well . . . interesting, to be sure. Messrs. Shuster, Rideout, and Levine performed to an enthralled audience, providing musical and comedy entertainment. These three embody the spirit of Wagar's happy-go-lucky exhibitionist faculty. (Luckily, otherwise the stage would've been empty - perhaps the rest of our fun-loving faculty just couldn't make it.)

THANKS TO . . .

- Mrs. Sherman & Mr. Druker for their reassurance and help so close to the deadlines.
- Mr. Faulconbridge for his encouragement and support.
- The secretaries for lending us Scotch tape, letting us use the phone, and for yelling at us when they felt it was necessary.
- Mr. Chupurn for the contact sheets and emergency printing jobs.
- Mr. Rideout for his help with the Grad section.
- Mrs. Soo for keeping track of our money.
- The Wagar Bands for the lovely (!) dinner music they provided us with on so many occasions.
- Connie Walkington & Paulette Chase for all the major disasters they helped to prevent.
- Steve Weeks for answering so many stupid questions. (And for the gossip).
- Teachers, for good-naturedly tolerating frequent lates and absenteeism.
- The Ugly Club, for their supplies. (Pens, pencils, Liquid Paper, and BAD jokes.)
- All those who listened to our complaints.
- All the advertisers who helped Prelude '87 turn out as it did.
- Jon Bercovitz, for taking pictures, printing 'em, driving us anywhere anytime, and being a good friend.
- Alex, for being so tolerant and helpful on all those late-night occasions.
- Anyone else whom we may have omitted due to exhaustion, malice, or just plain forgetfulness.
