WAGAR HIGH SCHOOL

If the shoe fits . . .

read it!

FROM THE EDITORS:

TEN STEPS ON THE MAKING OF A YEARBOOK:

1. Recruit staff crazy enough to take on this task.
2. Learn ALL the rules early into the year, this makes it easier to cut corners later on.
3. Take an all-expense paid, round trip to sunny Saint-Hippolyte.
4. Send head photographer dressed as tourist (camera, Hawaiiin duds and all) out to journey around the school, in constant fear of him never coming back.
5. Steal the master key for easy access at any time . . .
6. Avoyd ilitirit protoes.
7. Delegate authority whenever possible.
8. Memorize long and complex lists of fast-food delivery restaurants for those late nights.
9. Learn the art of fitting an object into an envelope half its size.
10. And no matter what else you do, NEVER say the words "No problem, Trust me, or Don't worry" out loud!

All joking aside, even with the many hours spent working, worrying and rushing to meet deadlines, it was all worth it in the end. We hope that when you look at Prelude 88, you will get as much enjoyment out of the year's memories as we did in trying to capture and preserve them. Congratulations to our fellow graduates. Good luck in the future!

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

I am pleased to write this message to the students of Wagar High School to commend them for their accomplishments during the year, and to wish them every success for the future.

A careful examination of the records of previous graduating classes indicates the effect our students have on the communities they live in. Graduates of Wagar High School have received degrees from colleges and universities throughout Canada and the United States. They are involved in a variety of professions and contribute greatly to these communities.

It is difficult at times to impress on young people the values and assets to be derived from high school and university education. However, as our graduates increase in number, the reports of their achievements make it obvious to all as to the rewards of hard, honest work in school. It is my hope that the efforts of our former graduates, as well as the efforts of the class of '88 will leave our student body with an excellent model to follow.

To all who are graduating, and to those who for a variety of reasons will not be attending Wagar next year, may I extend my best wishes for success and happiness in their future endeavours.

BROWSING THROUGH ANCIENT ARCHIVES

One day, while looking through Wagar's files to discover the whereabouts of a Corned Beef sandwich (which I had accidentally left over the night before) I came across some strange ancient artifacts. These archives turned out to be nothing less than six graduating protos of students who eventually went on to teach at Wagar. These bits of nostalgia, dating back to 1959, have been hidden away for over twenty-five years! It is about time they see the light in YOUR yearbook . . . Besides, we needed something to fill this page . . .

A.J. LEVINE

President's Message: The pressure was on! The Student Council had to act as Wagar's government, entertainer and organiser. With world oil prices falling, gas prices rising, Iran, Iraq & the fall of the world's stock market average indexes, we had to get rolling. The Chocolate Bar Sale stabilized the economy (we had to offset the quickly rolling in Depression). The Wagar Halloween Day was a great success, (costumes, candies, & a pumpkin carving contest. Wow! What fun!) There were successful dances & carnivals. True appreciation goes to our advisor, crutch and friend, Mr. Forman. He filled the gap between our dreams and truthful realities. We also have to thank Mr. Faulconbridge for his patience and eagerness toward our projects. Good luck to all of you in the future and thank you for making it a very successful year.

Those not familiar with this homely pair of gym teachers, we introduce the sole members of THE UGLY CLUB: Don & Pete Ugly. If you've been following the sleazy trail of this beast-like troupe of slobbering basset hounds, you might find the picture less repulsive than past years, due to the exclusion of ex-UGLY Jim "Too handsome-to-be-ugly" Aitken, who was given the boot. Regardless of numerous pleas to get "Pretty Boy" Terry Chuprun into this elite club, Don & Pete refused saying, "Hey, the guy's just too swinging for us."

W.I. ALLEN: ON THE BEAT

I was awakened, one afternoon, from a deep sleep, by an angry postal worker on my doorstep. He was being forced to work 22 minutes after five o'clock (which was 22 minutes longer than he'd like . . .) Inexplicably, amidst the latest strikes, a pile of junk mail, curiously had accumulated on the floor of the ladies' washroom, at the post office. This massive accumulation of junk was left on my front walk and alas, there was no way out for me . . . I had to read and answer the following questions . . .

Who invented cheese balls and why?

Actually, it has been a reasonably well kept secret as to the origin of this cheesy snack-time treat. In 1952, the United States government was performing tests on perfecting the flawless T.V. game show host. Well, there was a little accident, a few fires started, some mice revolted and certain well-known physicists were transformed into small, round, orange cheese balls. It still remains an unexplained phenomenon and till this day, the US government denies any involvement.

It's acceptable to lick your fingers when eating fried chicken, but what about someone else's?

It is, as long as the other person:

- Is smaller than you;
- Has worse manners than you;
- Does not look like the type who might start a fight (if so, refer to a);
- Presents an adequate amount of crumbs on his fingers. (There has to be enough for the both of you or it's not worth the effort.)

Are there any people who have never eaten library paste?

I wish I could say there were, but I can't. Because of a mix up in delivery, the library got the shipment of mayonnaise and the cafeteria received the case of library paste. The kitchen staff wishes to convey their deepest apologies and can almost promise that only 3 or 4 gallons were used in a period of 9 months.

Who invented the "Thick Stuff" they use in all school cafeterias?

Elmer's (see question regarding library paste.)

Do space aliens have naval lint? If so, is it white like ours?

I have never met an alien face to face (or naval to naval) but according to Mr. Ioannou, who claims to have been abducted by U.F.Os on several occasions, "Naval lint? Nah, those buggers don't even have noses!"

Has anyone under the age of 16 ever eaten brussel sprouts voluntarily?

Seven year old, Billy Meyers of Paris, Texas was found to have accidentally eaten a brussel sprout. In his defense, Billy was quoted to have said, "How was I s'posed to know? It looked like an olive and by the time I realized my error, it was too late . . ."

Is it true what they say about black jelly beans?

Yes.

What do they say about black jelly beans?

This one's a toughy. I'll have to let you know in NEXT YEAR'S YEARBOOK . . .

ACTIVITIES

HALLOWEEN

Halloween day . . . did it actually happen? Did half the school actually come in costume? Did Wagar develop school spirit? Did a Wagar student council organize something that worked . . . Yes! The student council, dressed as the seven dwarfs, organized and judged a pumpkin carving contest, as well as a costume contest. The participation in both contests showed a phenomenal amount of school spirit, seldom seen in this school.

CHOCOLATE BAR SALE

Wagar's annual chocolate bar sale, which took place in the fall of '87, was once again a success. Congratulations to winners, Robbie David, Michael Paa, Brad Kaine and homeroom 231. Thanks to everyone else who made an effort to help raise money for the Student Council.

LEGEND'S DANCE

This year's lineup of carnival activities had everyone scampering to get their tickets for skiing, tobogganning & horseback riding, activities at Recreothèque and ice skating as well as for the very successful video dance which was held in the evening and featured the band 'Bad Attitude'.

WINTER CARNIVAL

In Fall '87, a bunch of supposedly literate students went to the home of Trivial Pursuit (yes - Niagara-On-the-Lake) to see a few plays. After we figured out that what we thought was a shopping mall was really the town, we had a great time terrorizing the locals by taking over the barroom. We also saw three plays: Noel Coward's Hay Fever (of which we did an even better imitation), Bernard Shaw's Major Barbara (which was, no offense, a major bore) and Arthur Watkyn's Not In the Book, a hilarious murder mystery. Special thanks to Ms. Rosenberg and Ms. Cox who, although they pretended not to know us, put up with us.

WAGAR FOLLIES

Ladies and Gentlemen . . . If you would turn your attention to center stage . . .

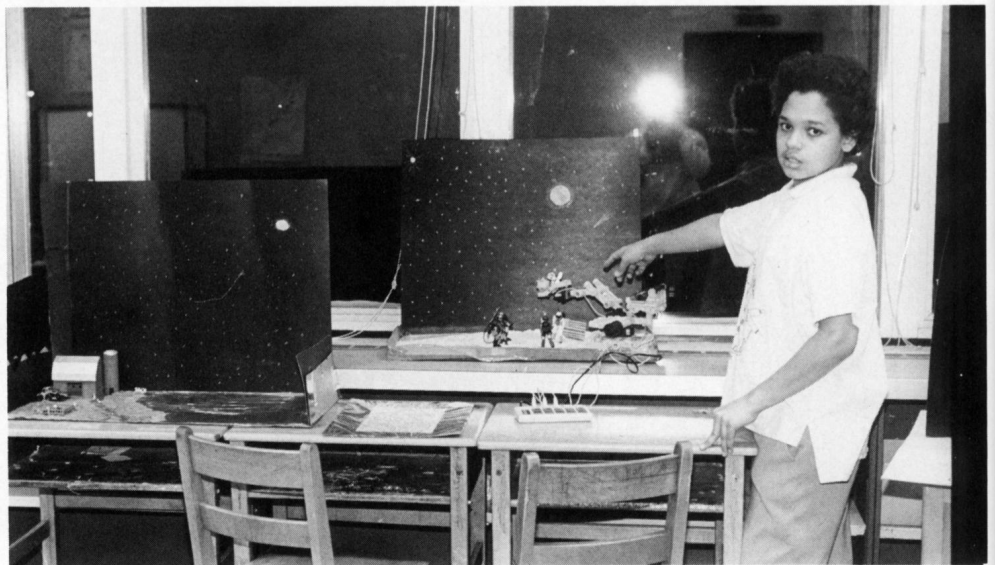

Once again, Wagar's finest singers, dancers, and actors displayed their talents in the annual "Wagar Follies" variety show. As in previous years, the show was a success thanks to the commitment of the students who took part. The success of the show should also be attributed to the dedication and organization of the directors, without whom, it would not have been the same. The show was as much fun to put on as it was to watch.

Once again, Wagar threw its doors open to the world during its annual Open House, on Jan. 26, 1988. The masses were enthralled by the various demonstrations and displays in History, Economics, Geography, Home Ec., Math, Theatre Arts, by Scenes Tennessee Williams Didn't Write, by Chemical Magic and by the Wagar Band, among other displays.

THE STING

The Senior Band's holiday concert in December of 1987 was a tremendous success. Over 600$ in ticket sales was raised to help fund the exchange trip to Caldwell, New Jersey in April, 1988. These concerts and trips would not be possible without the help of the band executives, G. Silver, President; D. Torjman, Vice-President; A. Suk, Treasurer; J. Anson, Librarian; and of course conductor Mr. Pederson.

THE HISTORY OF WAGAR

What a fine institution Wagar High School is. It carries many fine memories as well as an impressive list of fine graduates who have gone on to succeed in a variety of professions. Filmster Michael Douglas, for example, never attended this school whereas song-writer/composer David Bowie didn't.

Expo '67 had nothing to do with Wagar, this fine institution, and the olympic torch has never passed through it's glorious fields. This list of fine people never attended the mighty WHS:

Bob Barker
Gary Hart
Ghandi
Peter, Paul or Mary either
The Jacksons
Sting
John Cougar Mellencamp
Mickey Mouse
Ricardo Mantelban

"Feed the World that wasn't fed by the Feed the World Benefit Concert" Benefit Concert on the other hand was seen somewhere on the second floor by two janitors, three large basketball players and a rabbi in early December.

The following theatrical events and concerts were never seen in Wagar's beautiful auditorium:

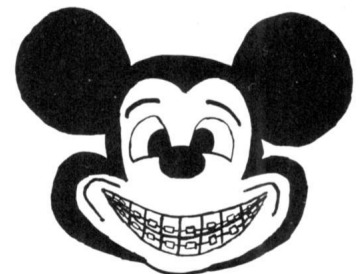

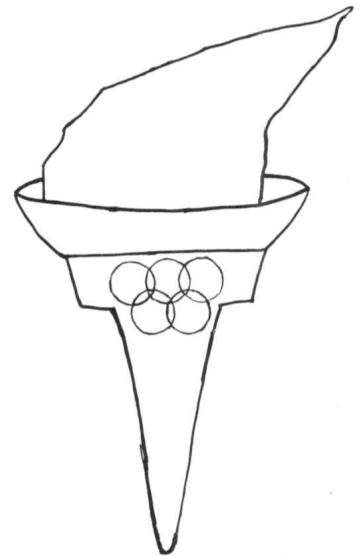

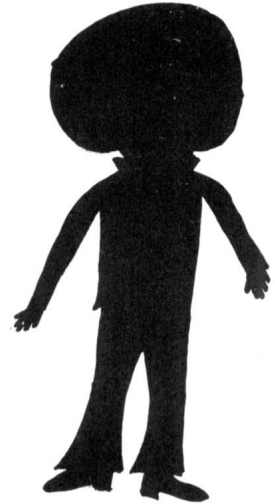

The Police, 1982
Cats, 1983
Paul Simon, 1987
Farm Aid, 1982
Les Miserables, 1987
Evita, 1981
The Box, 1985
Elton John, 1979

The following have been caught several times misspelling Wagar (Wager):

M. Uditsky, Grade 9
P.W. Herman, Grade unknown
M. Thaw, Grade 7
C. Searles, Grade 10
B. Berko, Grade 8
L. Best, Grade 7
W. Faulconbridge
L. Alvo, grade 10
P.U. Butler, staff
D.U. McEwen, staff
A. Parsons, Head staff
I. Salsberg, Janitorial Staff

*Ed's note:

Upon further studies of the Wagar files, it is apparent that Mickey Mouse DID graduate from this high school.

WAGAR LOCK PHANTOM STRIKES AGAIN

It has been reported that a major crime has been committed right here in the havic like halls of Wagar high (unfortunately the janitorial staff has been off this week). No it's not stealing, nor is it the big "M" . . . murder. Somebody, namely the phantom, has been locking lockers together, leaving one wide open and it's tenant bewildered. If anybody has any information leading to the apprehension of the phantom please call PHA-NTOM. The accused is considered invisible and not dangerous, although he may annoy you to death!!!

STUDENTS BEWARE

An underground undergrad anonymous committee has been sending threatening letters to our student council, ask them to relay a message to the students. The message was apparently labeled "too vulgar and disgusting" to be relayed to the students but with a lot of effort and a little work, I acquired permission to have it printed! Yes, right here and right now! Wait until you hear this one! This is definitely a HUGE secret! Boy, are all you students privileged to be approximately the fifth group of people to hear this! Ooops! I've run out of space! I guess you will simply have to wait for the next edition of the WAGAR LION.

BECOME ANOREXIC; GYM UNIFORMS TOO TIGHT!

A sudden shock of red and blue hits you as you venture down the second floor hallway. A sale at K-Mart? A clearance at Boni-Prix? Did the gym staff go nuts? All of these are right but it's not the cause that worries us but the consequences.

Recent government reports show that seventh grade Wagarites wear gym uniforms all day not because they can't change their own clothes, but because the uniforms are too tight. Says P.T.A. representative Willimina Willington, "We'll have to starve them out of them." Apparently many seventh grade students are permanently stuck in their red and blue attire.

So far deaths are none, but the casualty rate is high and still growing; seven children have become anorexic in hope of slipping out of their uniforms. The armed forces have been brought in and everything from blow torches to sand blasters have been tried, so far nothing has worked.

The real question still remains unanswered, "WHY ARE THE GYM UNIFORMS RED AND BLUE?" Maybe next year if they use the school colours the uniforms may fit.

WHAT KIND OF SHOE ARE YOU??

Different personalities are often compared by other things. Cars, food, and animals are some, but how about shoes? Everybody wears them, you do . . . don't you? Of course you do. But what we at the Prelude want to know is are you right (not left) shoe, the shoe, that's really you! Answer these questions and find out.

1) What's your favorite store?

- a) Roots
- b) Your local army surplus
- c) Sports Experts
- d) The thrift shop around the corner.
- e) Reitman's
- f) Jonny Brown
- g) Bonimart

2) Where would you like to spend your next vacation?

- a) Club Med:Cancun
- b) Wild Wood N.J.
- c) Hockey Camp
- d) Libia.
- e) Centennial Day Camp (camper)
- f) With Le Grand Ballet (Canadienne)
- g) Toronto

3) How do you wake up in the morning?

- a) Your mom wakes you up with a kiss on the cheek.
- b) To your favorite S.C.U.M. album.
- c) Rolling out of bed, landing in a push-up position, ready for 250.
- d) Your cat jumps on your face.
- e) To the tedious buzzing of your calculator wrist watch.
- f) CBS's Monday morning Mozart (on tape 5 days a week)
- g) To your brother playing drums on your head.

4) What was the last book you read?

- a) Hollywood Husbands - Jackie Collins
- b) Hop on Pop - Dr. Seuss
- c) Sports Illustrated - Various
- d) Freud: The Man in the Dreams - Anonymous
- e) Webster's Encyclopedia Volume X
- f) The Life and Times of Mikail Barishnykov
- g) Sweet Valley High #64 - Francine Pascal

If you choose mostly A's, congratulations, you're a desert boot.

If you choose mostly B's, our condolences, you're a combat boot.

If you choose mostly C's, good for you, you're an Adidas Running Shoe.

If you choose mostly D's, perhaps you'll grow out of it, you're a high cut black converse.

If you choose mostly E's, you have our greatest respect, you're a kangaroo shoe (with velcro).

If you choose mostly F's, you have our highest esteem, you're a black chinese ballet slipper.

If you choose mostly G's, terrific! You're a Sporto running shoe.

ODE TO AN UNDERGRAD

They start in grade seven
With Bar-mitzvahs and zits
A warped type of heaven
For a strange group of twits

In the eighth grade
They think they're in like flin
But as long as they have elders
They'll never win

Soon comes grade nine
With geography tests
Much harder math
And of corse I.P.S.

Then comes grade ten
With sweets and cars
Close to the end
But seems further then Mars

The undergrad years
Are the ones you remember
'Cause they go so quick
June straight from September

Autumn Leaves

I run blindly
So far, so fast (so free?)
Away from all the pain that your love stood for
I have to close my eyes
For if I look behind me
I'll see the autumn leaves
Whose colours remind me so much of you
And if I look in front of me
I'll see your smile in the setting sun
To the right I hear your laughter
To the left I feel your hand on mine

So I must look towards the sky
And hope for the day
When I can open my eyes
Without bumping into you
At every turn

Mara Goldstein

The Way It Was

Do you remember when we were in elementary school?

So young and innocent,
We were clean slates to work upon.

No one cared who was who,
just that we were friends.
Clothes, looks and money,
didn't matter to us,
but we still got along.
It's hard to believe,
isn't it?

Then something happened
We lost each other in the rush-
somewhere along the line.
Things changed quickly
after that.

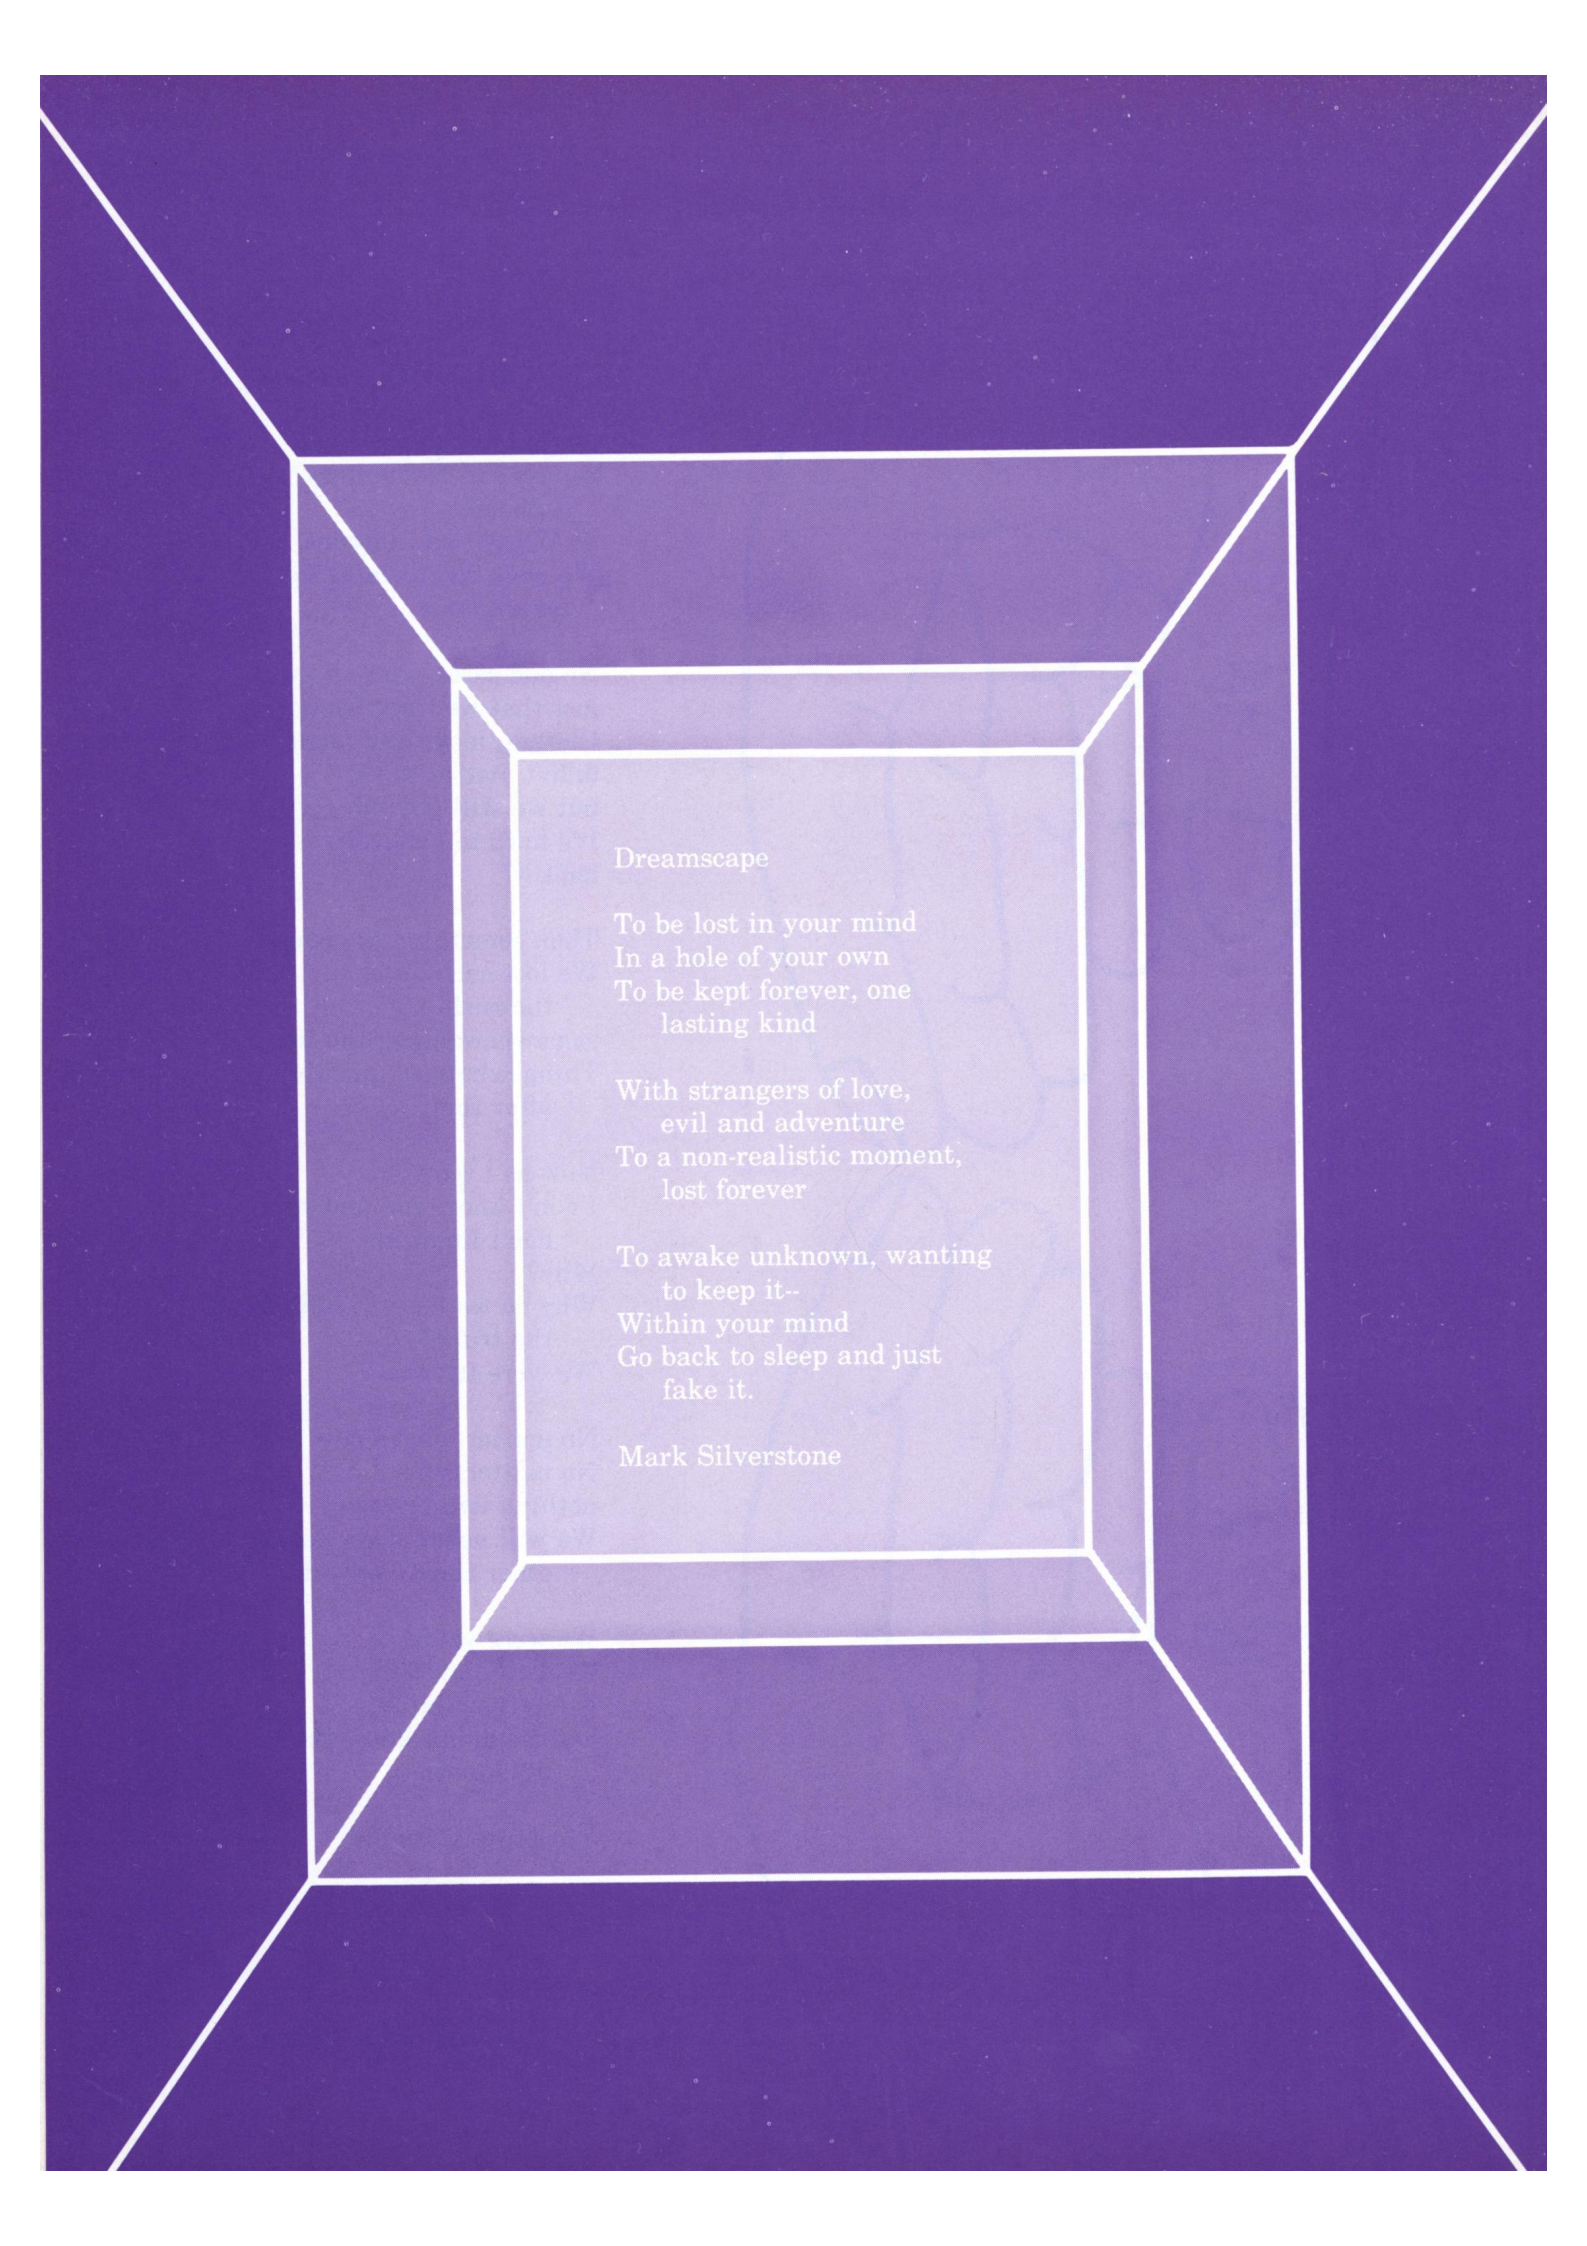

Now as I see you,
I don't know you and you don't know me.
Why?
Why do we have to hide from the truth?
We were friends.

No matter what I say
No matter what I do,
nothing will change.
We will never know each other the way we did.

We were young,
we were innocent,
we were children;
and we didn't know the difference.

Christine Mathieu

Dreamscape

To be lost in your mind
In a hole of your own
To be kept forever, one lasting kind

With strangers of love,
evil and adventure
To a non-realistic moment, lost forever

To awake unknown, wanting to keep it--
Within your mind
Go back to sleep and just fake it.

Mark Silverstone

THE ROMAN

Choices

Confused of life,
Decisions are their hardest

As I grow older
In age and in mind,
I feel my thoughts are too
    thrown behind

I look beyond my dreams,
and cast a spell

It's a choice to make,
Or is it HELL!

Hideaway

Sometimes I need a place to hide
Away from the busied world
Where I can go to be alone
To think
To dream
To cry
Where I can open up
To feel secure
And find peace with my self
A place all my own
Where I can smile at simple little things
Knowing no one can ever find me.

Pamela Rosenblum

The Tree

The tree,
Stands alone.
The tree stands alone.
Why?
“Why not,” says God.
The bird nests,
The bug eats,
Grover climbs,
The tree.

For You

Francine Frydenberg

I said for you I'd climb the highest mountain,

but I couldn't.

I said for you I'd solve the hardest problem,

but I can't.

I said for you I'd reveal lifelong secrets,

but I shouldn't.

I said for you I'd always be strong,

but I'm not.

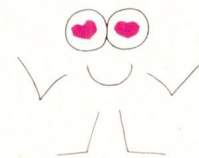

And I said for you I'd keep all my promises,

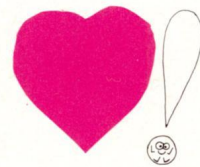

but I haven't.

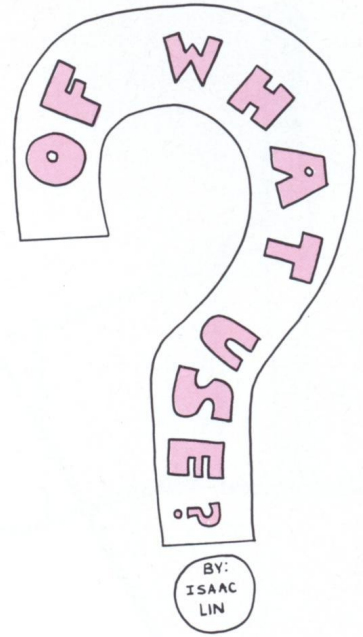

But when I say to you, I will always love you,
please know,

I will.

Of What Use?

Of what use is a seed?
It is simply a little thing
As insignificant as a weed.

Of what use is a cocoon?
It only consists of tiny fibres
Which are as white as the moon.

Of what use is a newborn baby?
It cries, it wails, it kicks and screams
It only causes trouble to some man and lady.

Of what use are poems?
Are they not only words written by poets
That make sense only to them?

From a seed, a flower blooms
A beautiful sight that eliminates gloom

From a cocoon emerges a butterfly
A splendid addition to the sky

A newborn baby is the birth
Of our future leaders for the Earth

A poem is a method of expressing oneself
To make one's feelings known to everyone else

So before saying "Of what use" think carefully
Because you might be acting quite foolishly.

Isaac Lin

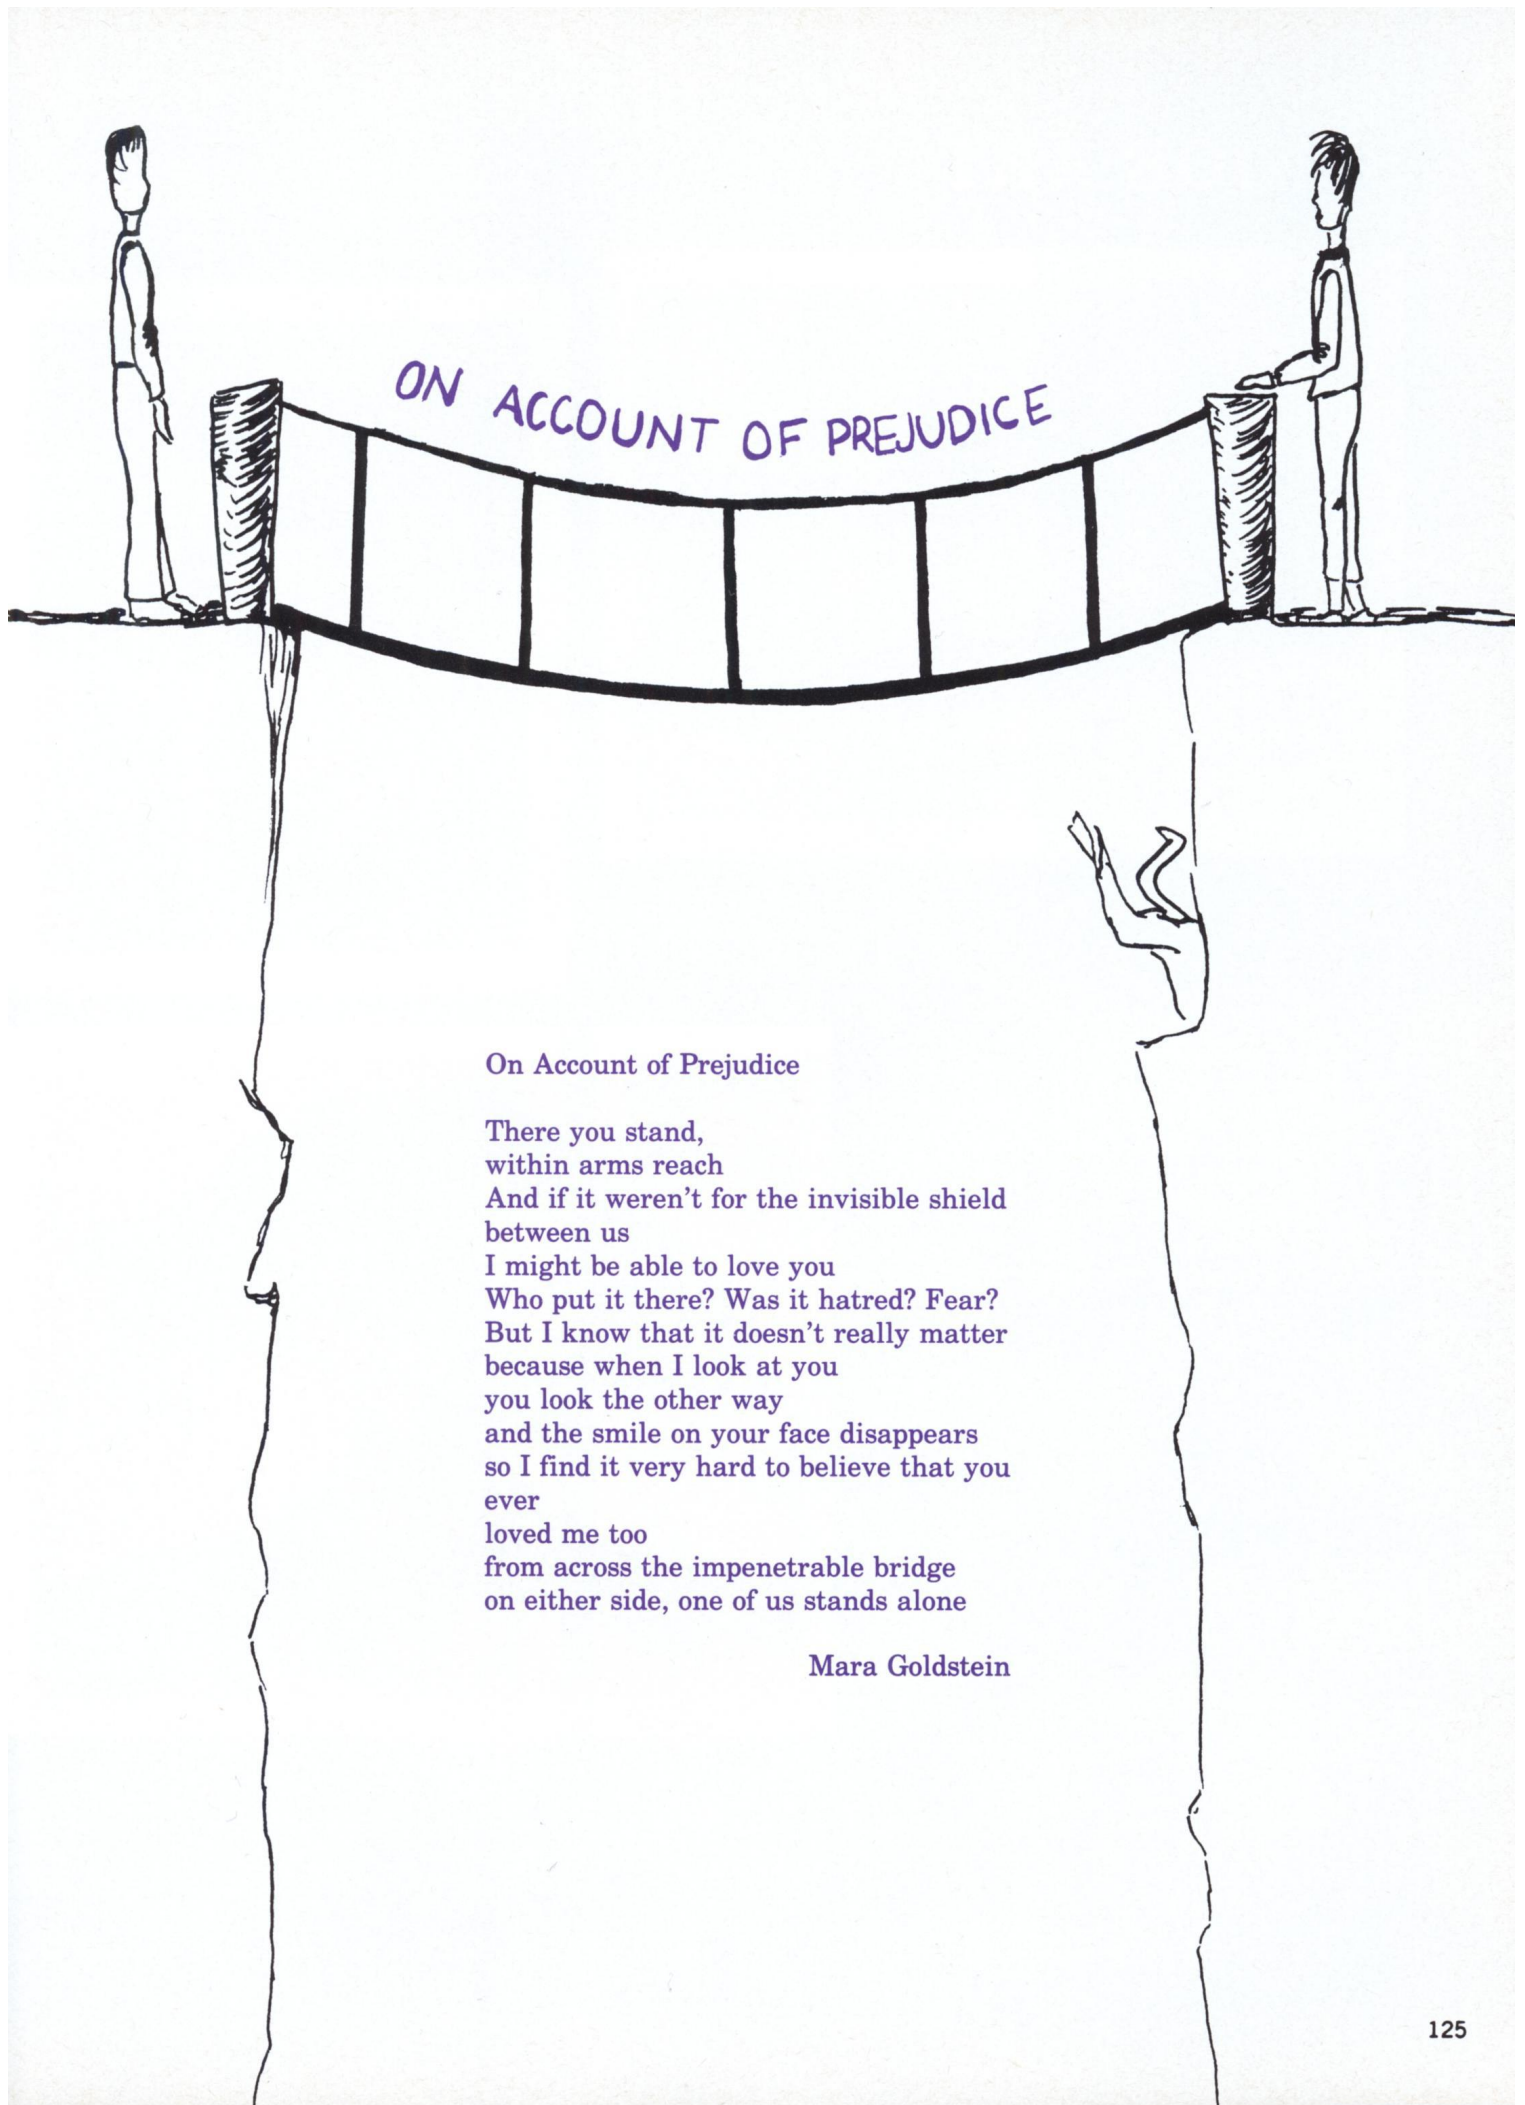

Now and Then

Look at me, I'm down again
I get this way, now and then
It's not that I have a reason to cry
I'm just not happy I don't know why
I just can't look forward to anything new
It seems like life is old and used
My problems are old, from the past
My sometimes happy moods don't last
I guess it's time to change scenes once more
Throw all those depressions out the door
Pick up my life, start over again
I get this way, now and then.

Pamela Rosenblum

ON ACCOUNT OF PREJUDICE

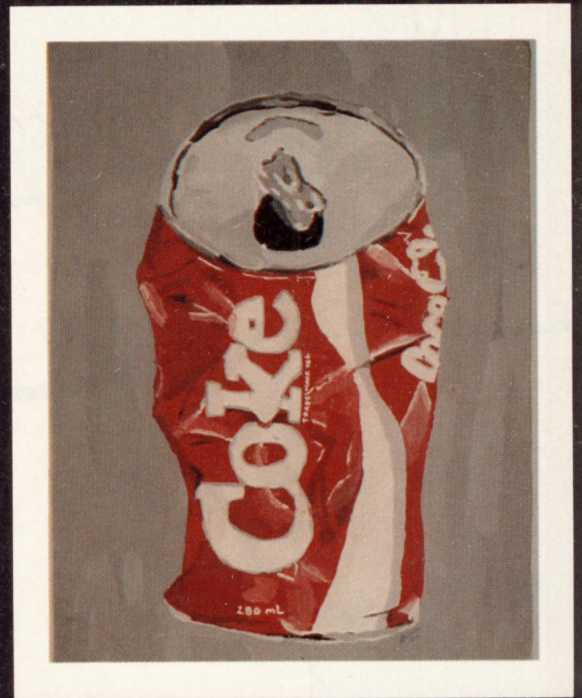

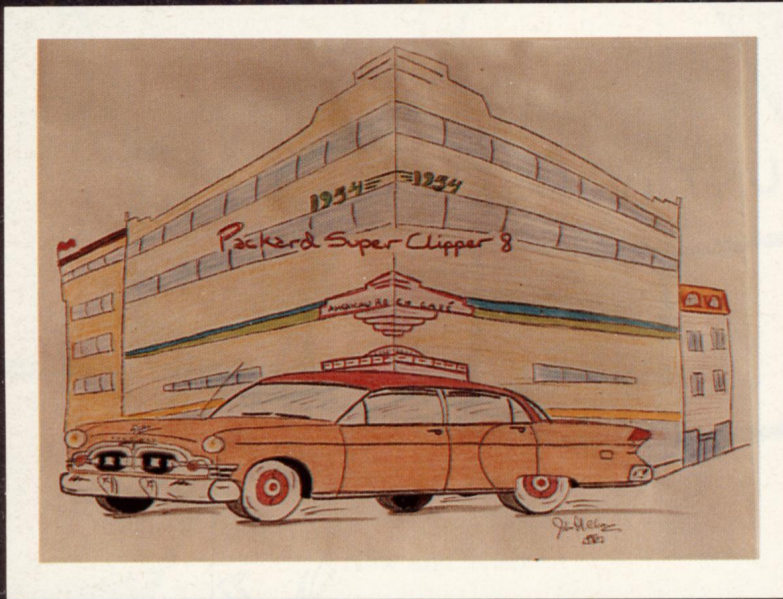

On Account of Prejudice

There you stand,
within arms reach
And if it weren't for the invisible shield between us
I might be able to love you
Who put it there? Was it hatred? Fear?
But I know that it doesn't really matter because when I look at you you look the other way and the smile on your face disappears
so I find it very hard to believe that you ever loved me too
from across the impenetrable bridge on either side, one of us stands alone

Tears in the Rain

The sky weeps for the earth,
I cry because of the hurt.
My tears pass unnoticed to all,
They're hidden in the rainfall.

Tonight, I cut the ties that bind,
The pain is sharp, but brief I find.
Salty tears, sweet for pain,
Squeeze from my eyes, lost in the rain.

Now I can go on with life,
No longer affected with internal strife.
Will I ever be whole again?
I answered myself, with tears in the rain.

THANKS TO . . .

- Mrs. Sherman and Mr. Druker for all their support and encouragement.
- Steve Weeks and Paulette Chase for taking a genuine interest and answering our many questions.
- Mr. Faulconbridge, Mr. Sutherland and Mrs. Russel for opening doors, putting messages over the PA system and for their general effort to help us out.
- Mr. Rideout for his assistance with the grad and faculty sections.
- Mr. Chuprun for the contact sheets and extra help with photography.
- All the teachers who tolerated our frequent absences and lates.
- The gym teachers for being so patient with the problems encountered in the sports section.
- The secretaries for lending us supplies, letting us use the phone and simply being friendly and helpful.
- Mr. MacCrimmon for letting us use the photocopier, the library after hours and for liking our unique ideas when no one else did.
- Mrs. Soo for handling our money.
- The maintenance and cafeteria staff for putting up with our constantly being around.
- Mr. Feigen for his generous contribution to the Prelude fund and the short term lease on the radio.
- Mr. Ioannou for naming us, lending us paper clips, signing bulletins and his sincerity in his offers to help.
- Steven Rudy for the rides to the airport and extensive darkroom work.
- Ira, Jeremy, Brian, Steven and Evan for making us laugh.
- All the advertisers without whose help Prelude 88 would not have been the same.

DEDICATIONS

- 35691 oops, I mean 19653
- BEEP, BEEP, BEEP, BEEP . . . ha, ha, ha!
- Of course I'll take my hat home.
- No, we're not leaving. We're just waiting for our pizza.
- They're probably not that bad. They just sound like that from down here.
- Boy are they gonna laugh when they see this . . . well . . . we really didn't think they would.
- Wadda ya mean $42.50?
- Brown Banana Club - we love you peeopels!
- Where's the: (insert name of missing implement)
- RULE #1: We're dealing with . . .
- If you were an apostrophe, where would you be?
- Whatever . . .
- Famous last words: We'll clean up tomorrow.
- No, I'm Frac, you're Fric!
- Do you want one layout, I mean eggroll, or two?
- I'll trade you a potato knish for a pica ruler.
- Why are you laughing? . . . I don't know.
- Is this the runway? How do we get outta here?
- You know, you really shouldn't leave that open so close to your nose.
- Can I have Cocoa Pebbles in a bowl, a green fruit, and a place mat for my shoes?
- P.S.: Yes, his tie IS for real!!!
