ADMINISTRATION

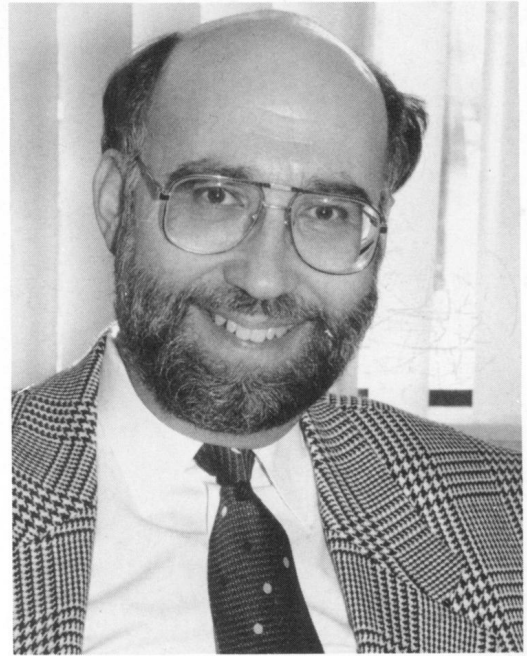

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

It is indeed a great honour for me to take this opportunity to say farewell to this year's graduates and wish them well in the future that lies ahead of them. Hopefully you will look back with fond memories of your stay at Wagar and carry with you, through life, the basic principles that we have endeavored to instill in you.

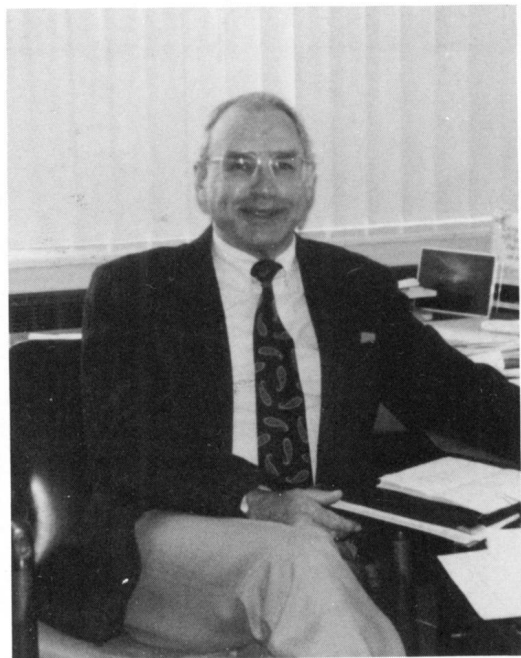

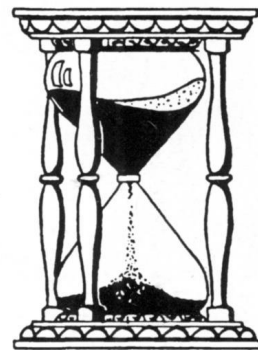

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank all those students at all grade levels who have become involved, particularly throughout this year, in the various activities that have been organized. Your input in terms of the development of new programs, the volunteer program, the leadership and Blue and Red societies, the athletic association, and the peer support program have been greatly appreciated. By becoming actively involved in the focus of the school you have truly made it yours and consequently play an important part in deciding what happens within the building.

To the graduating class I wish to say, always be true to yourself and your dreams in the years that lie ahead of you. You are our future and in your hands lies the responsibility of solving many of the crisis that now face the world. The responsible mature attitude demonstrated by many of you bodes well for the future.

GRAD EDITORS' MESSAGE

Final Goodbye

What does our future hold,
together as one we must be bold.
Now we seem to be as one,
but pretty soon it will all be done.
Five years or less we lived together,
shaped and built just like a feather.
Soft and light and beautiful too, but easily lost like me and you.

So let's keep our memories of our friends and youth,
Hold it close to your heart.
Keep it within your soul,
but whatever you do,
Don't ever let it go.

Dedicated to all those with memories.

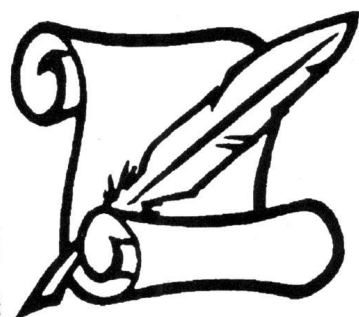

Thank You.

Adam Goodman visits the honourable Herb Gray while in Ottawa.

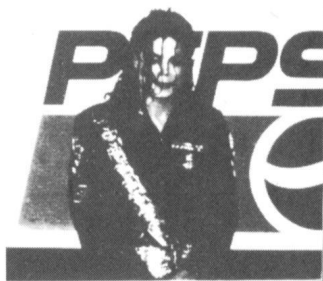

EUROPE TRIP

This year a group of students and teachers travelled across the Atlantic to France, Belgium and Holland. It truly was an incredible trip and a good time was had by all. Everyone who participated would like to thank Paul, the tour guide, and Jeff the bus driver. Always keep on the bright side of the road.

KENNY LEE & John Debusseiga 93-94

Due to the success of last year's trip to Mt Orford, Wagar decided once again to hold a trip where students were sensitized to the school's cultural diversity.

This year there was an overnight trip to Mt. Habitant that encouraged friendships, helped them understand and learn about ethnic backgrounds. The trip consisted of two days of skiing along with a racial tolerance discussion during the first night.

Ski Trips

Continuing with tradition, Wagar had several ski trips to Mt St. Anne, and Mt St. Saviour. They proved to be very successful and everyone enjoyed themselves.

MONT HABITANT

CAP ST. JACQUES

For the first time Wagar held a two day camping trip to Cap St. Jacques. Three different groups of grade seven students and peer support leaders from senior grades participated. It included two days of fun activities and a bonfire at night with storytelling.

LIFE AT THE TOP

Fashion Show

The fashion show was truly one of a kind. With hard work from models and others, the show was a success. The night proved to be quite extraordinary.

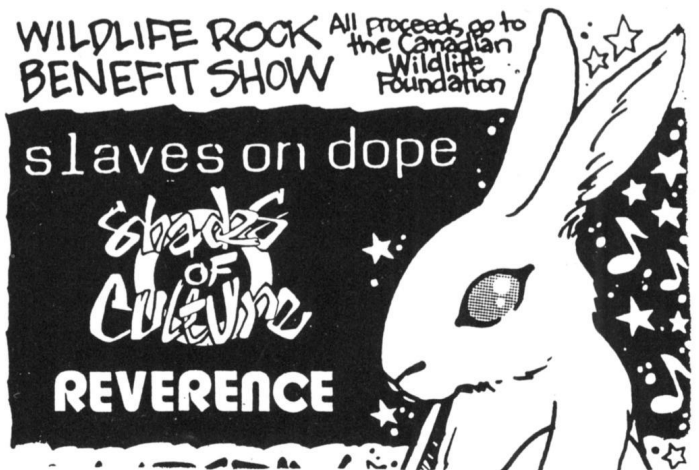

Carnival Day

Carnival Day! To add to Wagar's many returns, carnival day enjoyed new life. Many students participated in skating and skiing.

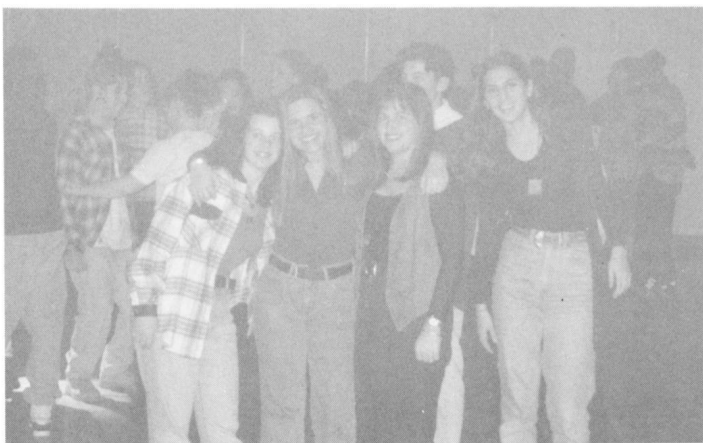

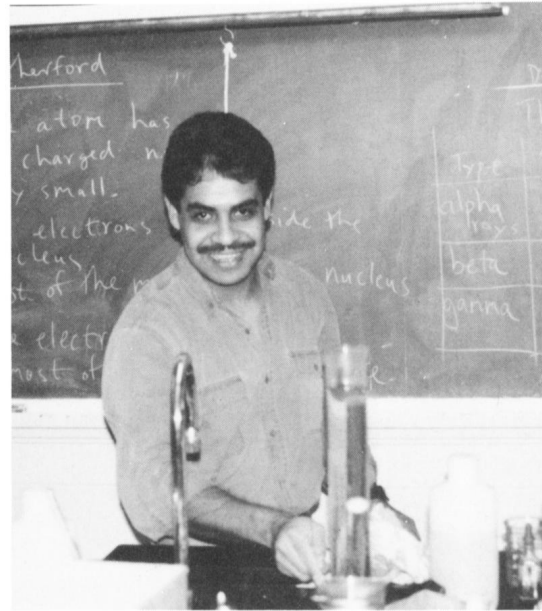

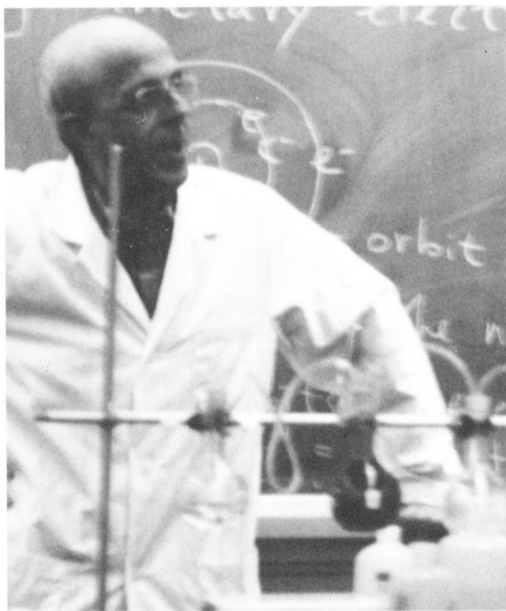

A very rare event has occurred. Wagar hosted a benefit concert for wildlife. The bands performing were Slaves on Dope, Shades of Culture and Reverence.

Open House was once again a success. The band was on hand along with Mr. Murison's infamous science/magic show. It was a hair raising experience.

Wagar enjoyed many successful activities this year. The dances were no exception. The student body and student council produced many memorable experiences.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Dear Constituents,
 We would like to thank you all for a full year of fun, productivity and profits. You made our roles on the council worthwhile and exciting. Your support will go far in inspiring us and we sincerely hope next year's council can expect more of the same.

Special thanks have to go to the two other members of the Executive council: Kimberly Strauss, our lovely and talented secretary (she can type over 100 words per minute) and Charlene Knight, our treasury officer.

A very deep thanks and congratulations to our two-man Winter Carnival Committee: Pamela Vininsky and Maya Felzenstein. You truly made Winter Carnival possible for years to come.

Thanks are also extended to our various and sometimes strenuous roles; Russell Krackovitch, Mark Nyveen, Steven Carletti, Carol Chahine, Sarah Shragie, David Lubell and Jody Engel.

Finally, Mr. Forman, thanks for everything. You are a terrific guy and most certainly the heart and soul of our student council. We wouldn't have made it through without your sometimes - shady humor, then again . . .

We certainly have had our share of memories: the two very successful dances, the fashion show, carnival, going around the calsses, and other experiences that we hold close to our hearts.

Now we would like to state the epitaph of the Wagar High School Students' Council 93-94. It is a quote from the great Steve-o: "It's not the size of the wand that makes the magic, it's the way the magician waves it."

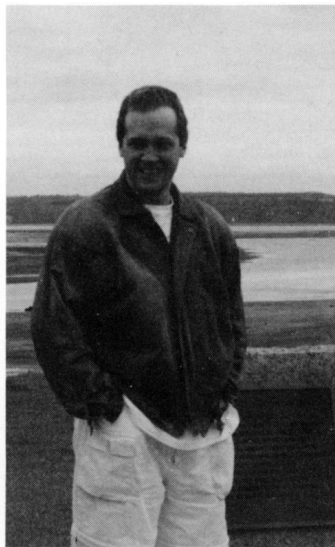

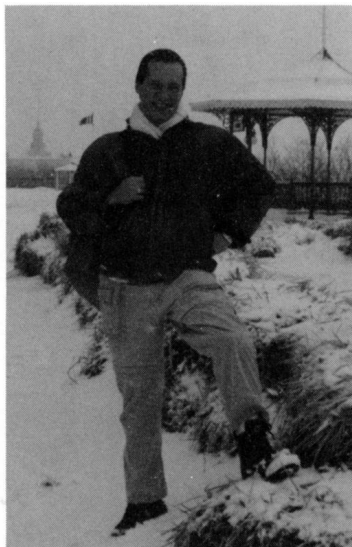

Again thanks to all who helped our mandate tade on a special meaning.

Sincerely,
 Tracey Klinger, President
 Adam Goodman, Vice-President
 Co-presidents

Quand je crois en moi,
 Je crois en mon amour.

Parce que je crois en mon amour,
 Je crois en toi.

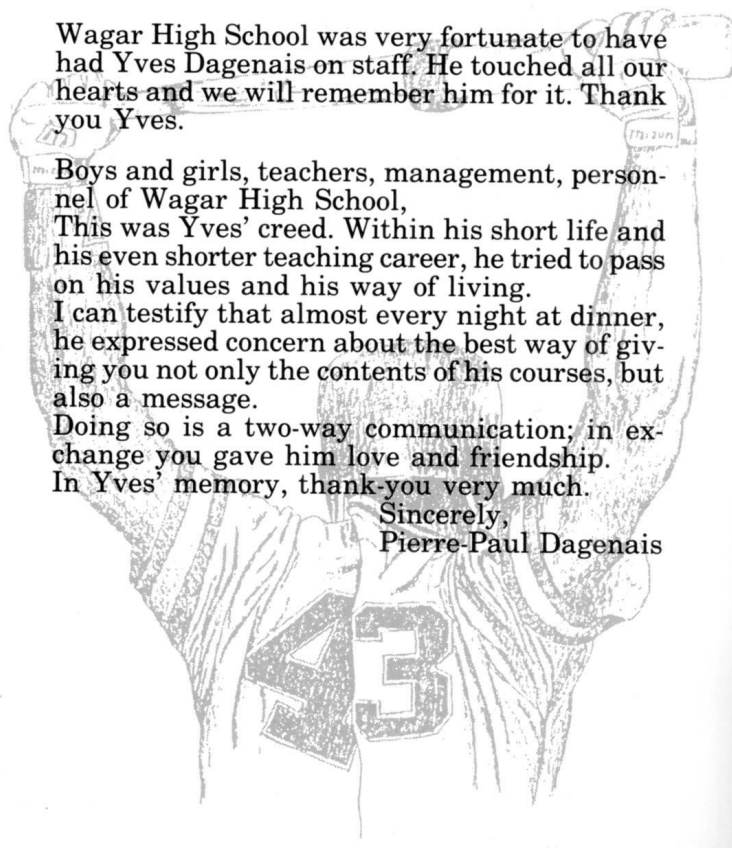

Parce que je crois en toi,
 Je crois en ton amour qui croît en moi.
 Yves et Nancy

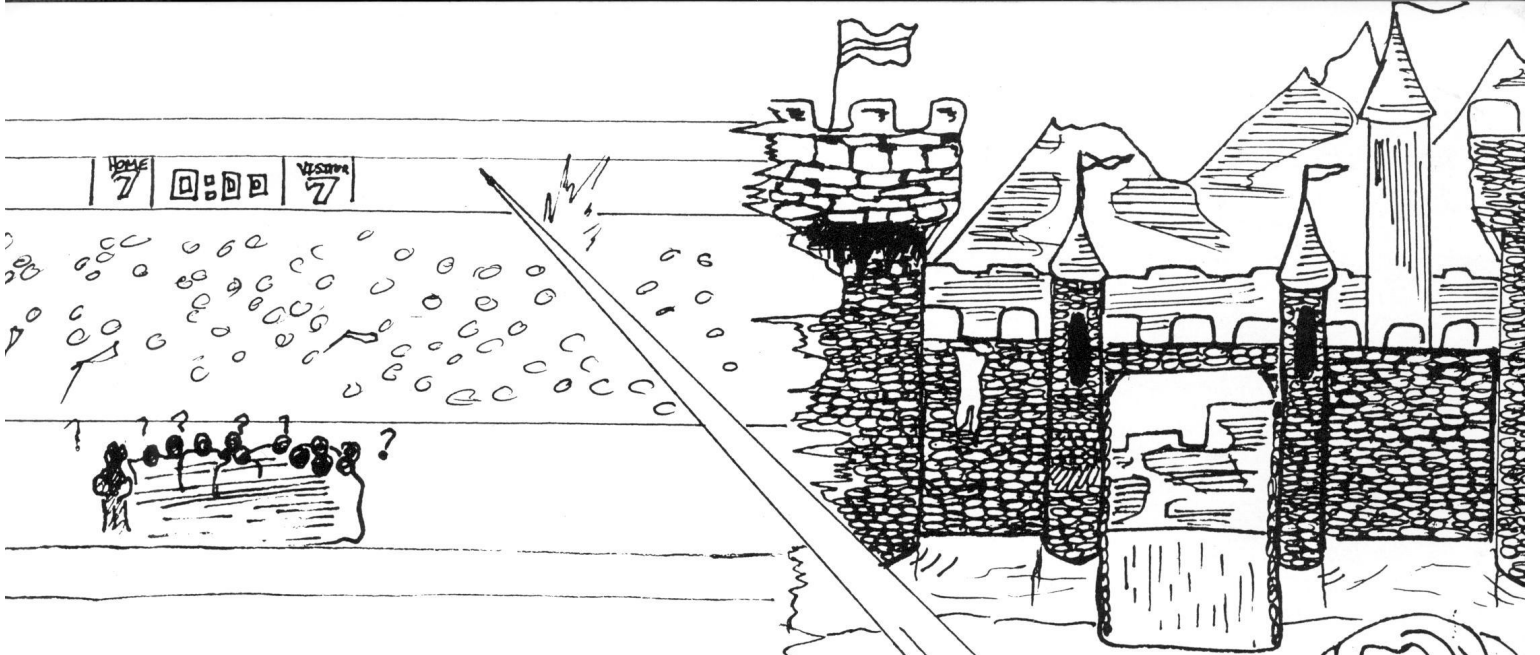

Wagar High School was very fortunate to have had Yves Dagenais on staff. He touched all our hearts and we will remember him for it. Thank you Yves.

Boys and girls, teachers, management, personnel of Wagar High School, This was Yves' creed. Within his short life and his even shorter teaching career, he tried to pass on his values and his way of living. I can testify that almost every night at dinner, he expressed concern about the best way of giving you not only the contents of his courses, but also a message. Doing so is a two-way communication; in exchange you gave him love and friendship. In Yves' memory, thank-you very much.

Sincerely,
 Pierre-Paul Dagenais

CONCORDIA'S VISIT

In 1993, Concordia's basketball players came to Wagar to hold a workshop. They also held workshops with other school's basketball teams. Concordia taught students about the importance of school and, of course, helped them with their basketball skills. Prizes were rewarded to the participants.

UGLY CLUB

Following Wagar's movement towards multiculturalism, this year's Ugly Club has a completely new look. With last year's members moving on to bigger and uglier places, it was necessary for the president to recruit new members. A large cross section of Wagar's population was interviewed, but it has been the case in past years that there were very few Wagarites qualified. As always, looks were an important factor when making decisions, but the personalities of the candidates were also considered.

After careful screening, we are proud to announce that the membership to the club is the highest in its history.

Management is considering a request from the couple above to expand the club and form a senior citizens section.

Mr. Mac and Falana H.

Lucky Penny

He sits on a corner
Arms outstretched
Palms up
Head bowed
In shame

Had you known him before
You would never assume
That this man, who sits Crumbling
Like a sand castle
Destroyed
By heartless waters
Could have been Or maybe even Was
Someone you could have known
Or maybe,
Even knew.

Some are ashamed
As they glanced his way
But for most He
Is just another face
They choose
To ignore

And if he Makes no difference
Why should they
Make a difference
Why care?
Who Cares?

One little girl Walking by Tightly grasping her mother's hand
And in the other
She clutches
Her lucky penny

And when
He shyly smiles her way
Only she Feels the warmth
Of his hollow smile
And senses the pain, behind it

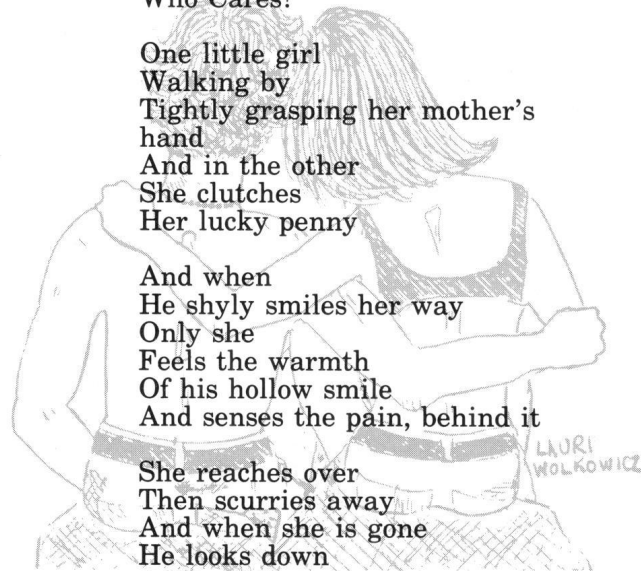

She reaches over
Then scurries away
And when she is gone
He looks down
At the shiny
Lucky penny
Nestled in his palm

Not worth much
But means life
To him
Afterall, If He's lucky,
There may be Tomorrow . . .

A River Run Dry

As I walked alone,
I hummed a tune,
That made me smile
And whisper, "soon."

I shuffled my feet.
And held my head high,
The song taking me back
To a river run dry.

A river that used to be Filled with crystal clear waters,
Until summer months began
To grow hotter and hotter.

By that river
Many children were born,
Some mischeivous creatures
Others looked at with scorn.

It was by that ol' river,
I spent my first days,
Met my first love
And went seperate ways.

Now as I know
My last days are near,
I think of the past
And shudder with fear.

For soon I will leave
This place I've come to call my home
And good-byes will have have to be said
As I continue into the unknown.

"Soon," I repeat to myself,
Soon I will see the sunset
Down by the valley
Where my husband and I met.

And over by the forest,
Where now stands that ol' tree
To my husband's proposal,
It was there I agreed.

In my life I'd seen many sunsets
But never did never did one so differ,
That eve it pink, yellow and blue . . .
Like my ol' precious river.

Conquest

I put one foot in to see what it was like and I got swpet underneath the waters of life.
Are we all soldiers in this everlasting flow?

With each stream of challenge I fight my way through,
I struggle,
Tumble,
Pull myself up to see the "scars of experience",
Marking me for the naked eye to see.
Will I ever find the quiet river of silver that seems to set others free?
I tell myself to remember that each stream leads to different waters.

But why has change washed away my path?

With my hands tied behind my back,
I hope in time the tides will turn and pull the blindford from my face.

So maybe I can finally see where these waters have taken me.

Rachel Eggins

The Dream

Never have I seen or dreamt of a land as cherished,
As the one over and under the hills
Hiding the truth from my heart,
Never to be stilled.
The sky is clear blue,
Mimiking my love for you.
The forest is aged and tall like the thought of my gall.
Never would I forgive my heart if I should fall . . .
On this bridge I stand,
Holding open my loving hand.
Waiting for the time when you and I,
Shall venture forth onto such a journey.
Together we shall stand and fall,
Find the path that is hidden to all.
And when we do . . . The land will be there,
Waiting as always.
The trees, the sky and finally,
You and I . . .

Suzanne Backover,

Happy 17th B-Day

Dear Sue

Well, happy bday Best of luck on the yearbook. Love you are so hard to shop for! I'll keep this short and sweet, (not to mention corny): You're the greatest friend a yearbook editor could ask for!
Happy B-Day, old lady!

Dear Sue,
P.s. like love, Linda J.
Sue, my clown suit!!

Hey, a yr. away from the big "18"
then you can start doing the things you do, LEGALLY!!!
Enjoy this last yr of being teenyboppy, 'cause it'll be your last.
Thankx for being a friend (not a lot of people can make me feel as stupid as the way you do to me (just joking).!

Dear Suzanne,
Surprise!! Bet you didn't think I would be wishing you a happy birthday
since I hardly talk to you!!
Happy-15day!!!

(Love,
Clayton (ya you wish!!)
Judy xxxo.

Dear Suzanne,
Happy Birthday
and hope this is not what you expected but something that you like.

Dear Sue,
What can I say but happy B-Day. Hope
All your wishes come true to make your dreams come true.
Happy B-Day.
Mandy

Dear Sue,
Hey babe, Happy Bday!
I hope you like your presnt. I know it is your no. 1 cause. Have a great 17th birthday.
Love always Vangie P.

Suzanne, Suzanne,
Suzanne, happy Birthday! Ha! He. I hope it was a bolly
one. When u wish upon a star, doesn't matter who u r..... um... Happy Bday z u!
Happy Bday z u!
Happy (u look like a Suzanne u smell like one z.)
Key Snds,
Happy Birthday z u!
I hope you will be able to do anything you want.
The Big 18. Well, you have to wait
one more year. Thanks for answering to Snds.

Dear Sue,
Original idea huh?
Well we just wanted to show you that we care. Hope you had a great year! Hope we stay friends forever! I luv ya! Love Always

Senior Editors' Message

"These pretzels are making me thirsty!" We hope you have enjoyed your ride in The Prelude Time Machine! ("So that's what the theme is!") We didn't really know what we were getting ourselves into when we took on this job but thanks to Pharmapix's special on Extra Strength Tylenol, we survived. Mr. Ioannou and Mr. Purnier will be happy to know that the entire yearbook staff is still talking to one another.

We aspired to have a flawless yearbook, but if you have any complaints, call 1-800-TOO-BADD. Just remember: it's quality not quantity.

We were put in charge of taking notes on this year, but no one ever taught us how to take notes! We hope we have captured the essence of our beloved school, as we say goodbye. "May the Force be with you!"
