PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

It is an honour for me to extend a message of good luck and best wishes to the members of this year's graduating class. Over the last five years many of you have become involved in the activities of the school and have represented the school and yourselves well in terms of various academic, sports, and fine arts competitions.

In the years ahead you will be involved in higher levels of education and will eventually join the work force. It is to be hoped that the skills you have acquired during your stay at Wagar will assist you in your endeavors. The most important advice that I can give is that you keep an open mind and learn to understand others before passing judgement on them or their actions. If you keep this in mind and develop yourselves to your fullest potential, you will be successful.

The friendships that you have formed during the last five years have played an important part in your daily lives. As you move on to bigger endeavors, keep in touch and nurture these valuable relationships.

Once again in closing I would like to thank you all for your hard work and involvement. I wish you all the best in the years to come.

Mrs. S. Pike

VICE-PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Graduates:

June 1995

This yearbook will remain one of your most cherished possessions, one you will review many times during the decades that follow. But it is more than printed words and photographs, it is actually memories of your years at Wagar High School, years I hope have been pleasant ones.

As someone who has known you for the last three years I can honestly say that, as a class, you are one I recognize as being a group of youngsters who have grown into fine young ladies and gentlemen, and who have displayed integrity, loyalty, honesty and leadership. It has been my pleasure and privilege to have known every one of you.

Please accept my sincere wishes for health, happiness and success in all your future endeavors.

 It's been a long 5yrs at Wagar. I've finally seen the light at the end of the tunnel. $will come and go but a good education is forever. Always go to the max. As time changes, so will U, so be prepared for the future. Special thanx 2 my parents and my sister who encouraged me to earn a successful education. Thanx 2 CO, KK, CB, LR, KB, JW & NB. All of U helped me when I needed it. Always believe in yourself and do what U think is right. Only this will make U succeed in life.
 Peace to the E.I. Crew.

 First I must thank GOD for his goodness towards me. I am grateful to my sister for all she has done for me. Thanks to all the teachers for all that they taught me, especially Mr. Shuster, Mr. Levine, Mr. Ioannou. Undergraduates, work hard and achieve your dreams. Fellow grads, you know what you've achieved and what you want to achieve. It is not impossible. It takes hard work to reach the horizon. This is not the end, but rather end of the beginning. Peace and God Bless.

Dear Students of Wagar,

As I look back on the school year, I can't help but be proud of what this year's Student Council has accomplished. It was never easy, but always fun and exciting. Meeting after meeting, we got together and did our best to bring to Wagar the activities requested. Memories that I will always hold near to my heart . . . 7:35am meetings in room 119. "I move that we re-schedule our lunch time meetings to 7:30am". Who made that ridiculous motion? My deepest thank-yous go to Tarra Frimmel (vice-president), Noah Witenoff (secretary), Natalie Roberts (treasurer), Zehavit Meltzer and Lori Schwartz (winter activities coordinators). You did great! Also, Keisha Ruddock and assistant Naomi Richards (dance coordinators), Vivianne Tawfik (social activities coordinator), Dara Woods-Briskin and Melissa Panambo (publicity coordinators). Last but not least, our advisors Mr. M. Kotler and Mr. S. Forman. Thanks for everything, you'll never be forgotten! Your honesty and guidance helped us more than you'll ever know. Wagar, we tried our best and are very proud of our accomplishments.

We wish next year's council all the best.

Sincerely,
Charlene Knights
Student Council President 94-95

One day it finally happened, the students of Wagar High School went on strike.

Some took advantage of the situation.

And others already had too much time on their hands.

Of course there were those who opposed the strike.

Others were so angry that they started to foam at the mouth.

Some teachers enjoyed their time off.

And others well . . . are always in the dark.

Finally the students realized that they needed the teachers . . .

. . . to help them reach new heights.

In the end everyone lived happily ever after. THE END.

First it was politics, then it was genocide.

been dulled by experiences like Somalia. "Lesson No. 1," President Clinton said last week, "is, Don't go into one of these things and say, maybe because it's a humanitarian crisis." His reluctance mirrored a TIME/CNN poll last week showed that only 34% of Americans support something to quell the violence, while 51% opposed it. Clinton affirmed that judgment with a new presidential directive on U.S. peacekeeping abroad: those operations, it says, "should not be undertaken without commitments, but linked to concrete political goals." The operation in Somalia is an almost perfect example of the problem. The horrifying slaughter is another explosion that outsiders understand imperfectly.

Life

I find myself in a world of fear
A world not so clear
I find myself in a world of need
A world to succeed.

Do I know who my enemies are
I'm sure they can't be far
Can I tell my friends
There are a lot of bends.

How's life?
Is it really okay?
You don't have to hide
There's no shame to say.

Have I learned a lesson?
I've figured my answers
When you see you life in a ball
Then you know you can't win 'em all.

A Pot of Gold

Natalie B.

Struggling to be your possession brought by fate
Makes me hard to find, amongst the outburst of shells appearing at the boarder of the shore.
The waves plunge and spread themselves to a thin,
I am part of the unwanted, I am dry and crumbling
Why do I seem so hard to attract
If only I could take you away from my surrounding
If only you could feel the vibrations of the ocean giving you my message
You could only know my appearance is disguised push to find me, I want to be chosen, by heart.
See through the grains of sand which fall upon my cover with shame and failure, due to every filled wave that shoves me
even more under the hardened ground.
My signal weakens, yet my inner colors pull me toward you.
I may be difficult to place
but if you singled me from the rest and saw my display
what you'd be looking at would be a vision far from reality.
Finally I'm spotted, my shape is found and being picked. I'm the most perfect sphere lying between a handful of innocent sand.
"I came out of my shell so that you may see my beauty.
You deserve me for your efforts"
was replied by my voice.
After hearing you, you placed my white glazed sphere
in a hole surrounded by wet solid sand, and left me for nature's will.
Picking up the dry, crumbling, pieces of shell,
which was my cover, a tear showered he rainbowed vision you'd been long looking for.

The Alone

The alone is like an ocean,
Vast and wide,
With no end, and no beginning.

People who have been there, claim,
"It's not as bad as it seems,
for some it's like a flame,
Burning up inside, just waiting to get out,
For others it's all around them,
When they scream and when they shout.

When you're freed from the alone,
You're like a flower in full bloom,
But when it has you -
It's like you're trapped in the never ending tunnel of doom

The alone is a scary thing,
Like a bird with a broken wing,
Trapped with no where to go,
A stream that fails to flow.

When you are no longer scared of the alone,
You are freed from the cage,
Away from all the anger and rage,
Because you are free, free, free,
From the alone.

Ingrid-Morena Marini

IF . . .

If I could fly
I would fly faraway.
To reach my freedom
I've longed from day to day . . .

If I could wish
It would be upon a star.
I'd wish to be loved
By whoever you are . . .

But if I had a dream
I'd dream for you to care.
And if it could be true
What feelings we could share.

TRIBUTES TO SPECIAL TEACHERS

Mr. N. Murison, long time science teacher and department head at Wagar, while on the way back from a science conference in Toronto, was seriously injured in a train accident. This shocked and greatly saddened the staff and student body of Wagar High School.

Mr. Murison had attended a conference in hopes to gain new ideas and techniques for the science department. Thankfully and miraculously, Mr. Murison is expected to make a full recovery. Special thanks must go to some heroic passengers who helped our beloved teacher.

Dr. J. and Mr. Panunzio have taken over all of his classes under difficult circumstances and are doing an excellent job. It isn't easy to be a "replacement player".

To Mr. Murison, we know that the recovery process is slow. Get well soon! Wagar needs you.

Yesim Ilkin and Daniel Zolov

The students of Wagar regret very much that Mr. Zelniker, a highly competent and dedicated teacher, has been absent since January, due to an injury.

In his absence, Ms. Wilson, a caring and patient teacher has been filling in for him. We would like to thank her for her dedication.

We the students and the staff miss Mr. Z. very much and wish him a speedy convalescence.

Rupa Narahari

New, young teachers help to make a school vibrant and alive. They bring a certain energy and panache that has eroded away from the seasoned veterans who have been teaching since our parents were students in their classes.

In a time when many of the Wagar teachers are counting down the last years before retirement, it is a pleasure to welcome Mr. Pannunzio, Ms. Drolet and Ms. Dansereault as the wave of the future. We hope that Wagar will continue to benefit from their efforts for many years to come.

YEARBOOK ADVISOR'S MESSAGE

This is the first time either Ms. Hecht or I have ever been associated with yearbook. Aside from some timely tips from the outgoing advisors, Mr. Ioannou and Mr. Prunier, we really did not know what to expect. In actuality, most of the work in putting together this yearbook was accomplished by the students themselves.

Despite the fact that the last Prelude '94 left us almost in the black (without deficit), we came onto the job last June in a state of chaos. A late June delivery date meant that there were no more home room classes to which we could deliver the yearbook. Not only that, but Jostens lost our proofs including the baby pictures, some of which had high sentimental value and were irreplaceable. We had to apologize to all the '94 grads for something that was not our fault. Also, the Grad Supplement (hereafter called the March to May Supplement) should have been ready in June and delivered in August, but it was finally prepared at the end of August and delivered in October. This is why we set early deadlines, to get you your books (hopefully) before the end of May, and the baby pictures should be returned even earlier.

The fact that we were able to finance this book and produce it is a miracle that I still do not quite comprehend. Indeed, special mention must be made to several people who stepped in and worked above the call of duty.

The editors-in-chief, Mary and Yesim and the photographers, Janna and Benny and the other editors get full recognition for their accomplishments. However, special mention must go to several individuals who stepped outside their portfolios to help out in other areas.

The book would never have been completed or financed without the extra help of Miriam Bambonye, Voula Balabanos, Rose Wu, Dan Spiegelman, Andrew Low, Pam Naymark, Randy Dublin and the Halloween crew, and many others who pitched in when they were needed. We must also thank the Students' Council for helping us and permitting us to help them.

SENIOR EDITOR'S MESSAGE

We hope most sincerely that you have enjoyed the 94-95 Prelude. For us it was much more than composing and dictating orders to put forth a book. It was the indication of our growth, together. It was certainly an experience for us.

When people look through yearbooks, they tend not to consider the amount of work that each person contributes. We've been enriched by this experience in several ways. We've become stronger people. It was important for us to do this.

We urge the student body of Wagar to indulge in school activities. It is always the same people who do things, this surely cannot represent the capacity of the entire student body. Everyone has so much potential, so much to give and so much to learn. Seeing how getting involved helps people to develop, we would hope you will get involved. In future years. It is always easier to do nothing, but how much can you grow and accomplish your dreams by doing nothing. So we urge you, go defeat your fears, learn to get along with those around you because this is certainly an important step, and never stop reaching for the sky, nothing absolutely nothing is impossible.

One thing is certain, this yearbook could not have been without the help of every staff member. Each of you made this possible and we thank-you for your competence and incredible time and patience of Mr. Shuster and Ms. Hecht. Thanks for taking on this incredible task. Thanks to Mr. Druker, our money man, Mr. Rideout and Mr. McEwen. Thanks to the following for patience, time and energy; Steve Weeks from Jostens, office staff and administration, Canada Post, the Student Council, parents, very patient janitors, and Twin Pizza - (no offence, but we're so sick of pizza!). A special thanks to Rose Wu, Benny Chan and Janna Rovniak. Where would we be without you?

So thanks once again to everyone for hanging out with us and helping us to come through, you can't do everything alone.

In all sincerity, Yesim Ilkin and Maria Kouloumentas
