Dear Graduates,

As you look through your yearbook I am sure that, like me, you will wonder where the time went. The 5 years years that loomed ahead when you first entered High School as small, "shy" pre-adolescents are over. If you have looked in the mirror lately you will see how you've grown.

I sincerely hope that you leave Wagar with a sense that the time spent here has been a positive part of that growth. I see you as a group of confident able young people ready to start the next stage in your journey. Please ensure that your journey includes further education, it is essential that you continue to develop your own skills so that you are prepared to inherit the world.

The future holds many challenges for you, the greatest of which is to make a conscious decision to make the planet a better place. It is your role as tomorrow's leaders to ensure that your generation does not merely repeat history! Worldwide peace is achievable, poverty is unnecessary, discrimination of any kind is unacceptable, responsible consumption is a must if the planet is to survive. Believe that you can have an effect, by acting locally you can improve things globally!

Good luck, good health and please return to visit so that we may learn of your conquests. To those students not graduating this year, have a happy & safe summer. I hope to see you all in the fall when you return to face a new school year. Refresh yourselves & return with the resolve to improve areas of weakness while maintaining the areas where you already achieve success.

Dear Graduates,

Allow me to offer you, the graduating students of Wagar High Class of 1998, my most sincere congratulations.

Your determination and tireless efforts during the past several years have finally produced the desired results -academic success and personal achievement, of which you must be very proud. The decisions you will be making both now and in the future will reflect the quality of education received as well as the influences to which you have been exposed here at school, at home and in the greater community. These experiences must serve to inspire you to pursue your personal goals while continuing to contribute to the building of a better, more positive society.

This school is fortunate to have in this graduating class, a strong leadership in student activities. They are generally courteous, considerate and enthusiastic. There is sufficient evidence to warrant confidence, that this class will be well prepared to face the challenges of their generation.

Remember, the future is as bright as your hopes, so keep hope alive!

ACTIVITIES

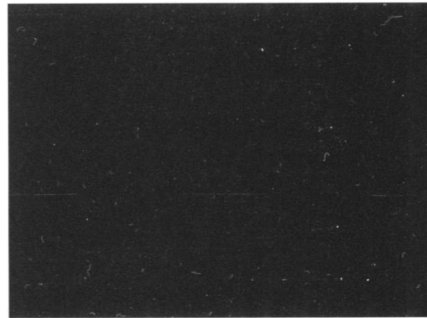

WHO DUN IT?

But then... a sudden blackout came upon the school...

When the power came back on,
the pennies were missing!

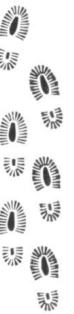

The Student Council were happily counting the pennies from the, "Pennywar", to raise money for the Elizabeth House

A group of concerned students investigated into the matter quickly...

And suspect 1 + 2 were questioned...after questioning, they quickly concluded that the pirate and sailor didn't do it!

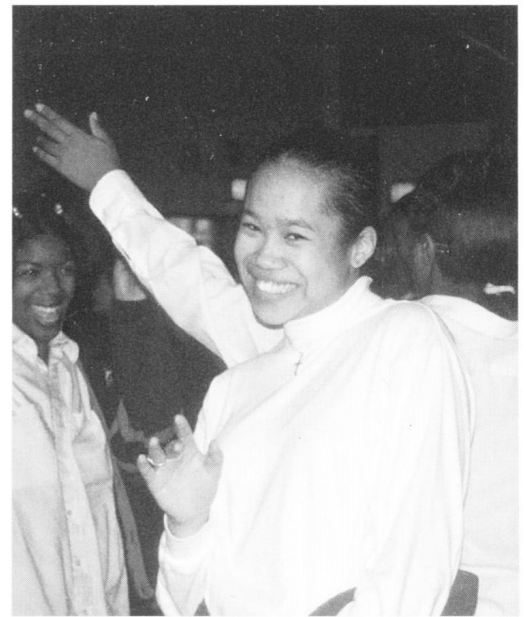

The Fundraising Committee were appalled by the crime that was committed and they quickly pointed their finger to someone. But concluded that she didn't do it.

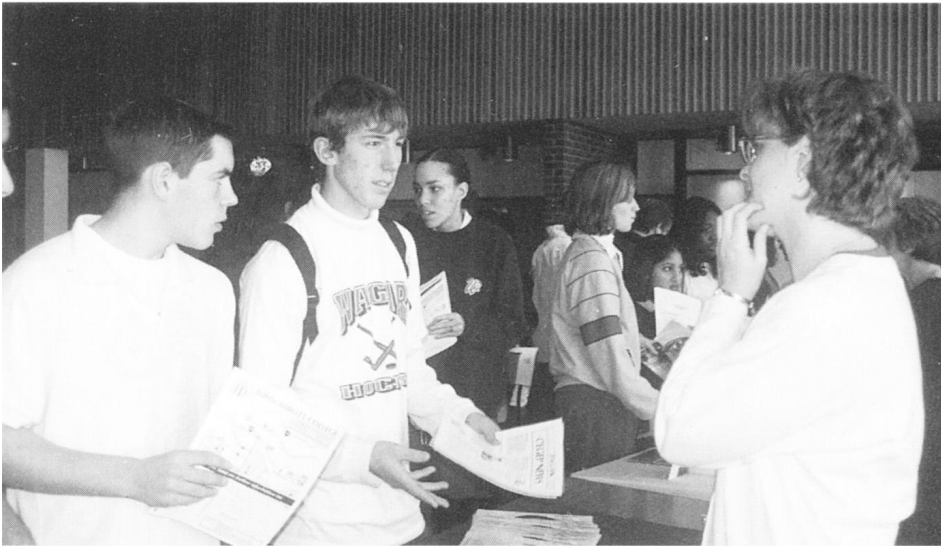

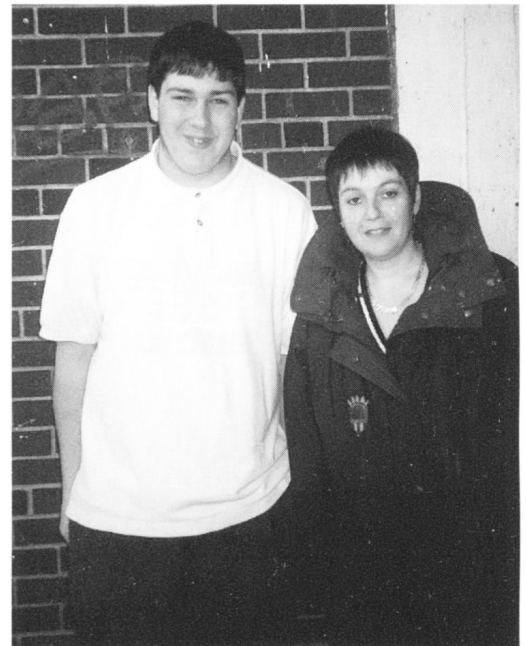

Some students held a meeting about this matter... over lunch.

The shy girl wiggled her fingers and said, "If you want to know who dun it, go and seek... G."

A Wagar Hockey player quickly questioned people.
 "Do you know who, or what G is?"
 "Hmmm... let me see. Oh yes, it's downstairs to your left!"
 "Outside!" and off they went

"Yeah! We know who dun it, just go to the office and see yourself."

Caught in the act counting pennies, was... Ms. Labbé. "but, I didn't do it, I was just being kind of helping the S. C." she was apologized for our accusation, THE END!

CEGEP INFORMATION DAY

Every year, representatives from CEGEPS around Montreal set up in our school cafeteria and give information about their CEGEP, to the Secondary V students. They are there to help the students choose which CEGEP to go to...and answer their numerous questions.

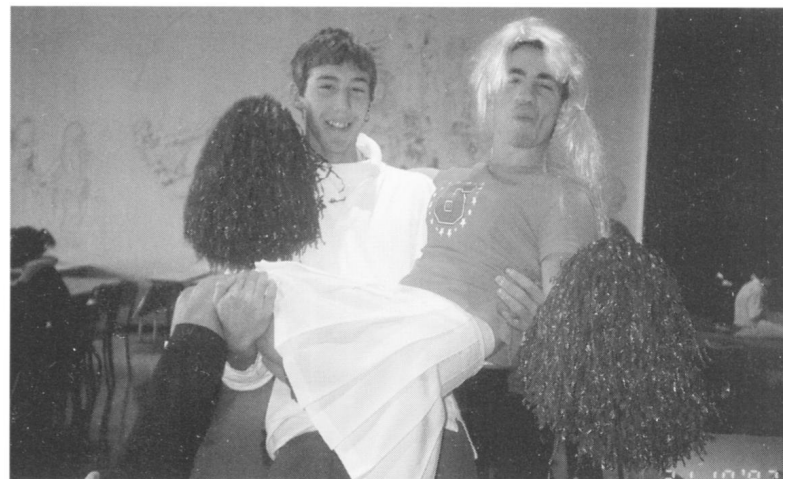

Students file into the cafeteria to see what is offered.

Some Secondary V students read the information and others... want to ask questions.

One just stood out from the crowd by just staring at the representative from... which CEGEP?

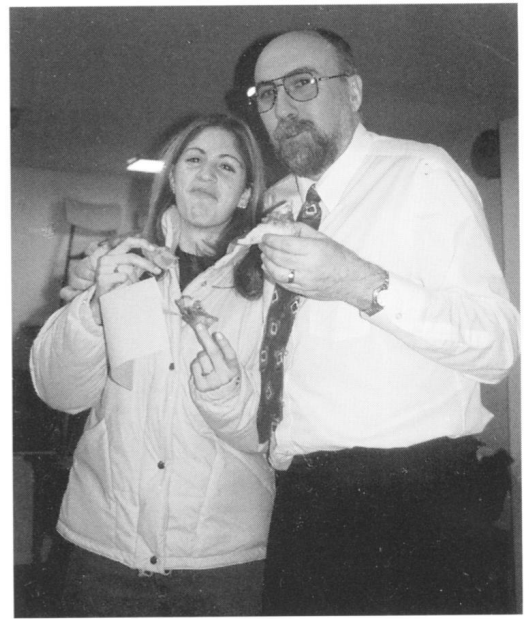

Some were just too enthusiastic about the day!

BINGO NIGHT

Left: "Don't even think about taking my card!"

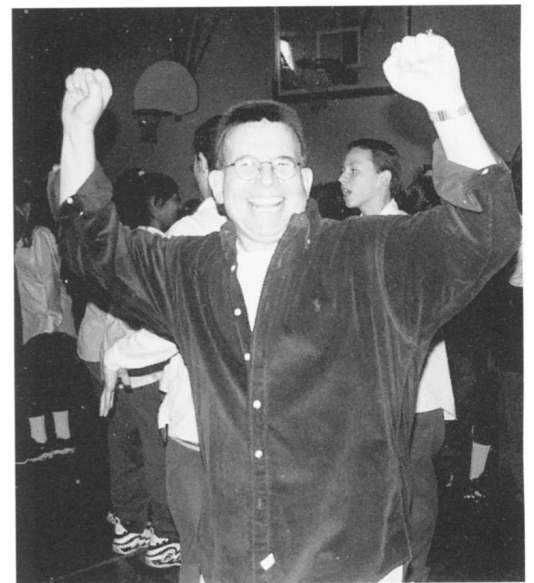

SOCK HOP IN THE GYM

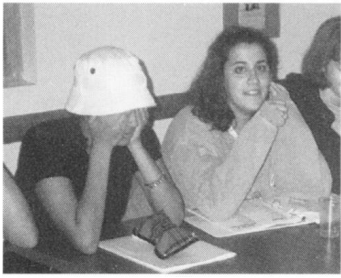

Above: "Groovy!"

Left: "Wud up!"

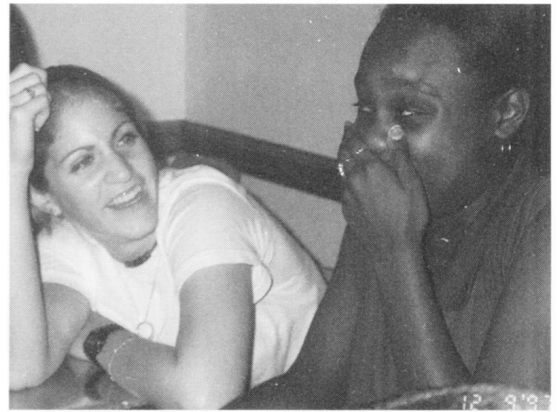

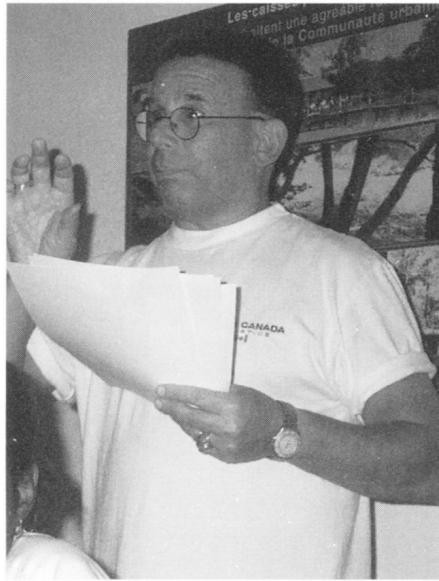

Right: "I am the wo...wait, I mean, man!"

STUDENT COUNCIL RETREAT / HALLOWEEN DANCE

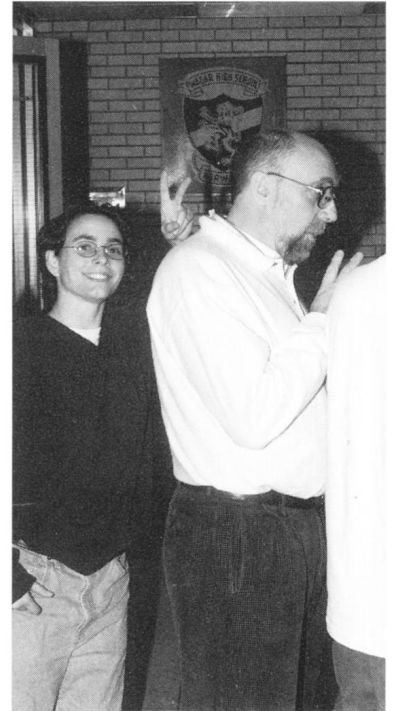

Right: Excuse me... I have something to say.

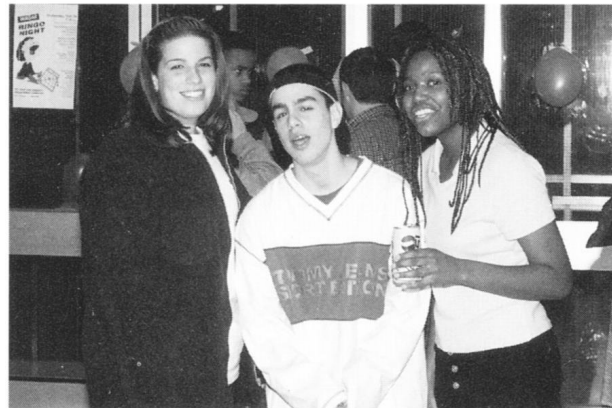

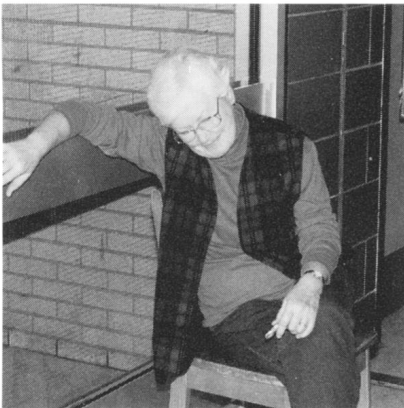

Oh my gosh! I think I'm going to be sick

All the great student council activities for the year are planned at this retreat (which was held at the beginning of the year)

Can you see what's going on?

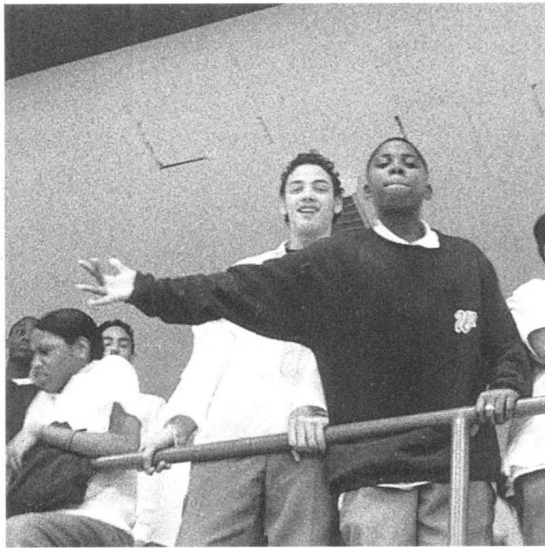

WINTER CARNIVAL

One last place everyone! One last place.

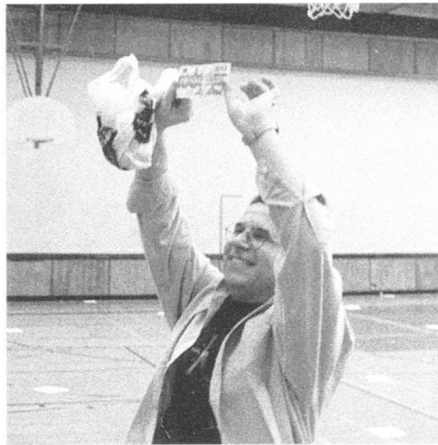

Buried treasure

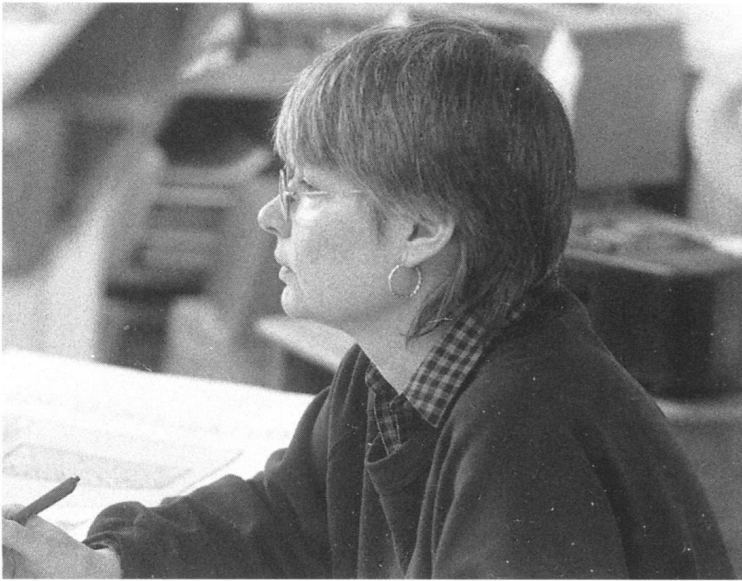

You wanna piece of me? What's your problem punk?

LOOK OVER THERE!

ANOTHER WAGAR TALE

...even rather boring as she took some time to yawn.

Now, this girl looks like she know some secrets but she won't tell!

To an outsider, it would look like Wagar was a normal school...

We were going to ask her but...

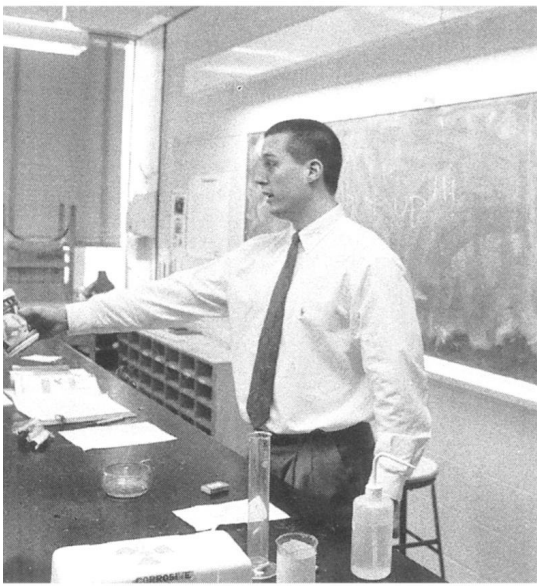

Finally, after sometime (and money) later we got a whole bunch of volunteers who took us around...

UP!!!

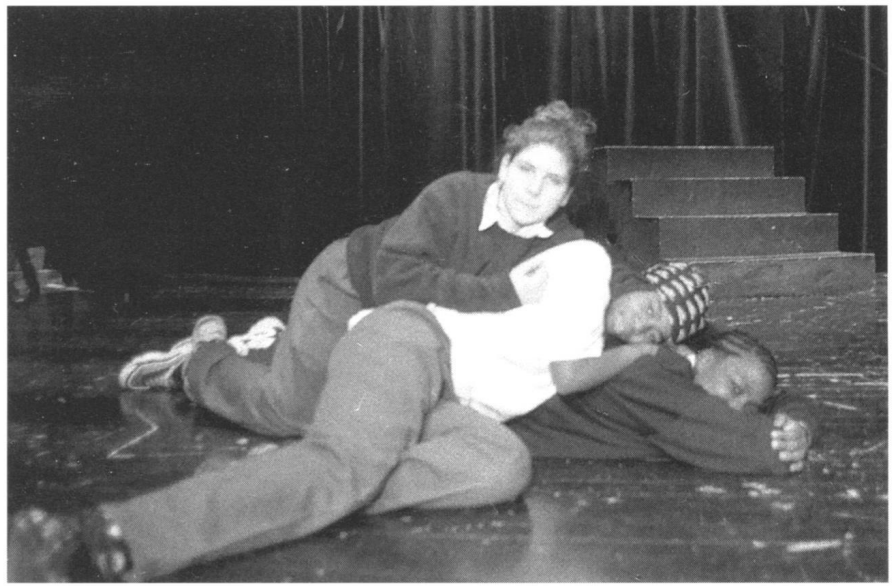

We met some people trying to contact the Devi... uhh an Angel!

And Away!!!

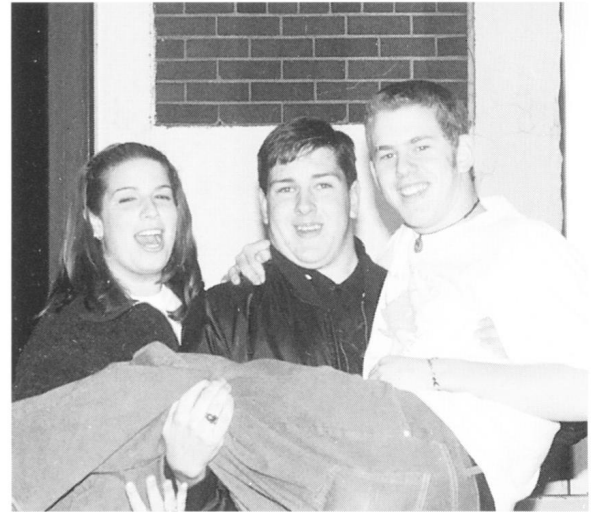

This is the class many students take especially when they are low on cash:
HOW TO COLLECT MONEY ON ST. CATHERINE'S STREET.

Then we met them,
the class where you lie around
all day and do nothing.

Of course, there is always time to dance.

Then things went back to normal.

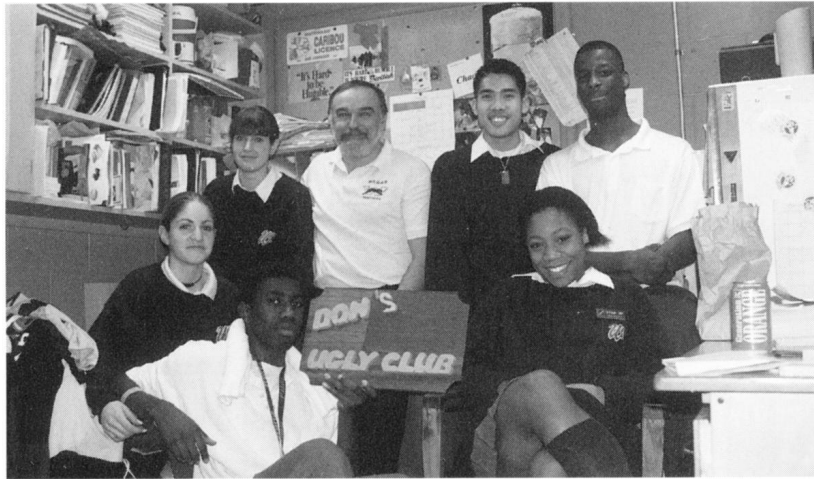

AS USUAL!!!

A Message From Your Student Council

We came in with high expectations. Now, as we leave, (some of us forever) we know that we not only achieved our goals, but we rose above our expectations. We have succeeded beyond what even we thought was possible. We know that, years from now, we can look back on our time at Wagar with pride and honour (and a good laugh).

We had our fair share of problems, but, with help, we overcame. For this we owe thanks...

First and foremost Mr. Forman; your dedication to the council was inspirational to all. Mr. Meades, Ms. Ross; your enthusiasm was unparalleled. The Teacher's Council was a great help, not only approving our ideas, but even giving us some of their own. Mr. Jones it hasn't it been the same without you. We certainly can't forget the students of Wagar, without your participation, nothing would have happened.

But most of all thank you to the members of the student council:

JULIE+MEL.H, great Winter Carnival day...MEL.B, it wouldn't have worked without you. SHIVALI+DAVIS, uh there's some pennies up in the office, would you mind? TASHA+ADAMA (sam), the fashion show, the carnival, the talent show you did more than your part! NAOMI+NICOLE, the dances were great this year. ELIANE+MARCIA, you really kept our spirits up. JACKIE+SHALESHA, you have amazing ideas, future councils will be lucky to have you. BIMAL, nice dance tickets. GISELLE, you were excellent in promoting our activities, you have amazing spirit! SUZIE+SYLVIA, great job on getting the word out!

VERONICA, I couldn't have asked for a better partner. It was a pleasure working with you.

-Noah

NOAH, We made it through so much, I'm shocked we're even talking! We made a great team.

-Veronica

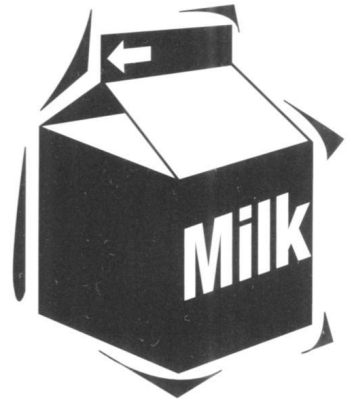

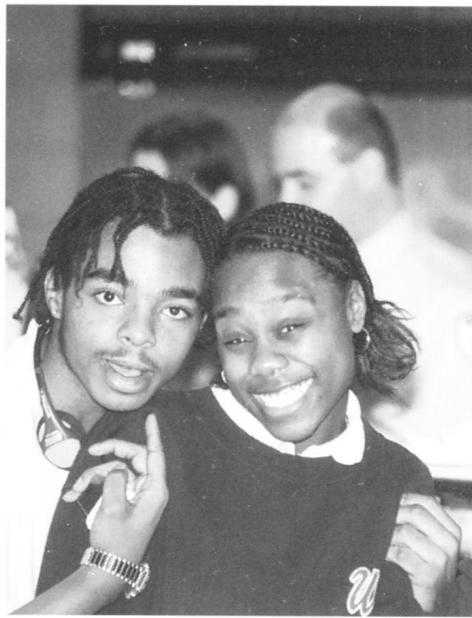

. All in all, it was a great year. We had our ups, we had our downs, but when we look back on the whole thing, it'll be the UPS! that we'll remember.

Thanks for everything,
Noah Sidel &- Veronica Leblanc
Student Council Co-Presidents 1997-'98

Shawn Kemp

(Reminiscing on the days of Seattle)

*He was in a trance as sweat dripped from his face,
And in his ears he could hear his heart race.
To actually let the Bulls get to game 7 was Seattle's little deed, And play against Michael Jordan, who the Bulls didn't need.*

*In his mind he knew he had to represent,
To ever live up to his name, Shawn Kemp
"I just have to remember coach George Karl's plans"
As he turned he met the faces of his many fans.*

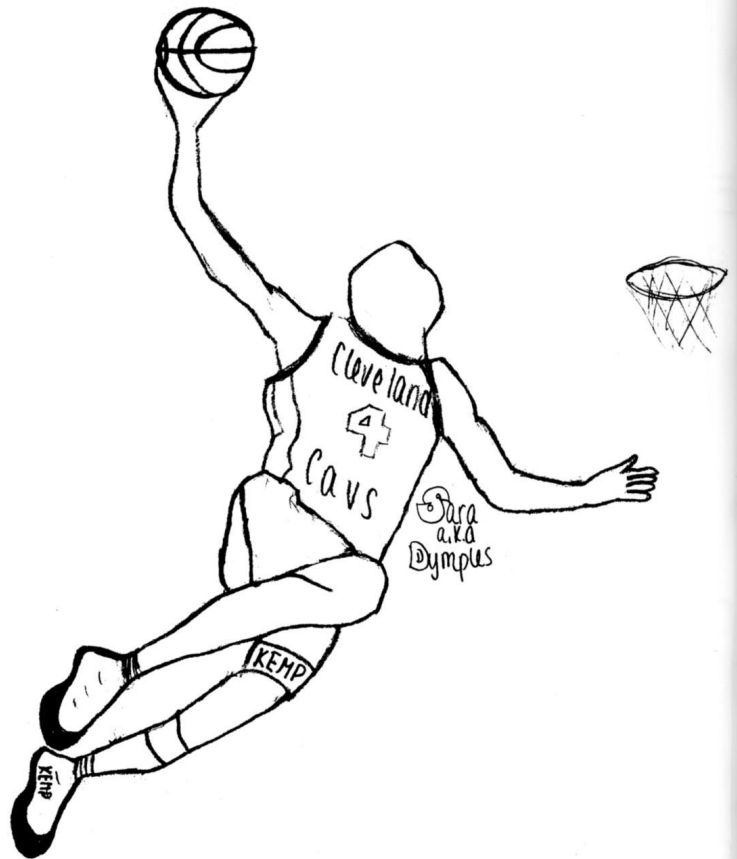

*I saw him on the court he looked as if he saw a spirit,
"Have faith" I yelled and he turned as if he could hear it.
Then everything went into slow motion as in a dream,
The 10 seconds on the clock is the only thing to intervene.*

*Detlef takes the ball from the ref and focuses on the sport,
Then makes a quick pass to Payton at half court.
8 seconds left on the clock, no time to waste,
Kemp is at free throw. Payton passes to him with haste.*

*Knowing he's the best and is the bomb, He takes 2 steps reinventing the name Shawn.
To think God gives this talent to only this man wasn't fair.
Shawn lifted up and up and up into the air.*

*He did like the song "I believe I can fly",
To say this was written for Jordan is a lie.
To him and me this was everything, this effortless stunt,
As he did a many times, over Jordan he dunked.*

As Time Goes By

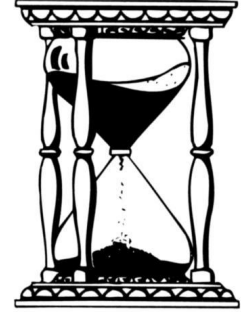

My air gets cooler everyday, my wind is blowing with more force,
My eyes are dewy from the rain, my mind is leaking from the source,
My arms are missing what is warm, my nerves are shivering and tense,
My heart is beating way too fast, my words aren't making any sense.

*This disconnection from my angel, bidden on the bottom floor,
I miss the joy I felt to see her standing by that open door,
I'm doubting she belongs straight down that ball, I often wonder why,
She doesn't live there anymore, and so I write, as time goes by...*

My thunder scares the clouds away, my lightning strikes without a song,
My lids are drooping from fatigue, my face is feeling mighty long,
My hands are grasping what is wet, my veins are sticking to my skin,
My love is fading and unsure, my rhymes are churning from within.

*Such deprivation of my angel, bidden on the bottom floor,
I fear she plans to shut me out, to take the key and lock her door,
I'm doubting she belongs straight down that ball, she's lucky she can fly,
She doesn't live there anymore, and so I write, as time goes by...*

My darkness threatens to control, my shadows linger in the night,
My pupils focus on the sky, my spirit needs to see the light,
My nails are screeching on the board, my bones are tired from the ride,
My voice is hollow and severe, my moods are flowing with the tide.

*Whatever happened to my angel, bidden on the bottom floor,
Why won't she let me in, why can't she bear me knocking at her door?
I'm hoping she'll come back to find that ball, I wish that she would try,
She doesn't live here anymore, and so I write, as time goes by...*

My Life

Day one I came to ice land took my father's hand.
 Never even, look back this territory is wack.
 I never understand why my pops gave the verbal abuse.
 Sometimes I felt a ten story drop from the roof.
 I was a living proof that abuse gives you the most suicidal boozy.
 I try hard to please this man but it seems like hard ain't good enough.
 So I might as well give up.
 I tried to turn rough, smoke stuff, drink beer, hoping this old truck would bust.
 But just my luck, all he did was lose my trust.
 Before that, I was the hardest athlete always willing to defeat.
 Now all I do is eat and sleep, love the streets.
 Kept the positive mind but now and then smoked a dime to let my inner self unwind.
 I was two-faced Gemini, 1980 June eight (8th), love that ace of spades.
 always took a chance with the good ones,
 but all they do is let me tap they buns and drop me like a hundred tons, everyday was like a rerun.
 My heart laid in my hand broken down in fractions.
 I came to the conclusion about what I'm representing.
 If things get crazy and I still have my lady maybe
 I'll just make new connections remove unwanted sections.
 If people want to make the assumption about my way of living,
 they could just get a stepping cause Stiche ain't listening.

Untitled

If humans use
 The art of communication,
 Why do we not speak
 Of our true feelings.

Are they just mine
 I do not know
 But my intuition,
 Is making me
 Not think so.

Or maybe its the longing to have someone of my own.

I get so weak
 Everytime that you walk by,
 I want you half-heartedly,
 Yet I'm still nervous to say hi.

I fantasize to,
 Hold you,
 Kiss you,
 Friend you,
 Love you,
 Yet I don't know where to start,
 Time's ticking, a dreadful tick
 Soon you will depart.

Will this be an empty crush...
 ... Or something more full
 Like my first love?

A broken heart

My heart is broken
 and my soul is dying.
 My love is gone
 and I can't stop crying.
 The pain is too hard to take
 I can't help how I feel.
 My love was always real.

I thought I could hide my pain.
 But I had to let go.
 My tears keep falling down.
 The pain hurts me so.

I didn't know my love
 until his last word.
 I tried not to cry
 But my heart felt to die
 So now am alone
 with no more love of mine

“My Sweetheart”

*Since you are my sweetheart
you must be kind and true
For I have no other sweetheart in the world but you.*

*Love searched the world all over and found not one like you
So treat me as the sweetheart
That you’ll be honest to*

*You have no idea Sweetheart of how I think of you
My love can’t be more true
Knowing I have a Sweetheart like you.*

*How comely are your virtues
How sacred how divine
no other love can fill my heart
Except your love Sweetheart*

*I’ve promised to you
To play a faithful part
Never to break your heart
And always to be true*

*Now so long my dear Sweetheart
But bear this in mind
Your heart belongs to no one else
Because I’ve made it mine*

DEAD CONSCIENCE
 AWAKEN SENSES.
 A WORLD DESERTED
 BY OLD ABANDONED SOULS.
 I THOUGHT MYSELF LUCKY TO WALK THIS LAND
 BUT I AM ALONE,
 VENTURING TOWARDS MY OWN END.
 PERHAPS TODAY,
 PERHAPS TOMORROW,
 ONLY CELESTIAL ONES KNOW.
 WHAT FATE HOLDS FOR ME.
 HOVERING,
 FOREVER DUSK
 ON EDGE OF MY LONELY TOWN.
 MY MIND CLOUDS OVER,
 AND I MUST NOW DRIFT
 TO THE INFINITE NIGHT.

 CRYING OUT FOR AN EAR
 CHASING THE COLD, DRY RAIN.
 HOORAY FOR ME!

DYING OF HER OWN DISEASE,
 SHE DROWNS IN HER TEARS
 AND PRAYS TO HER GOD
 TO TAKE HER AWAY.
 IT IS WINTER FOREVER
 IN HER MIND AND HER SOUL
 EACH STEP SHE TAKES IS SLOW AND SINKING.

The dark sky flashed brightly. As the rain poured, the children ran. They ran to their parents, fearful of the dreaded storm outside. The black clouds grew and grew until the sky, that was once blue, became a blanket of darkness. The rain continued to come down, harder and harder. For hours, days, weeks, it pounded on the roofs of the houses they called home. The children cried as the water level rose to terrible heights. Families had to take sanctuary on the upper floors of their houses, taking whatever food they had with them. This food quickly ran out as the storm continued.

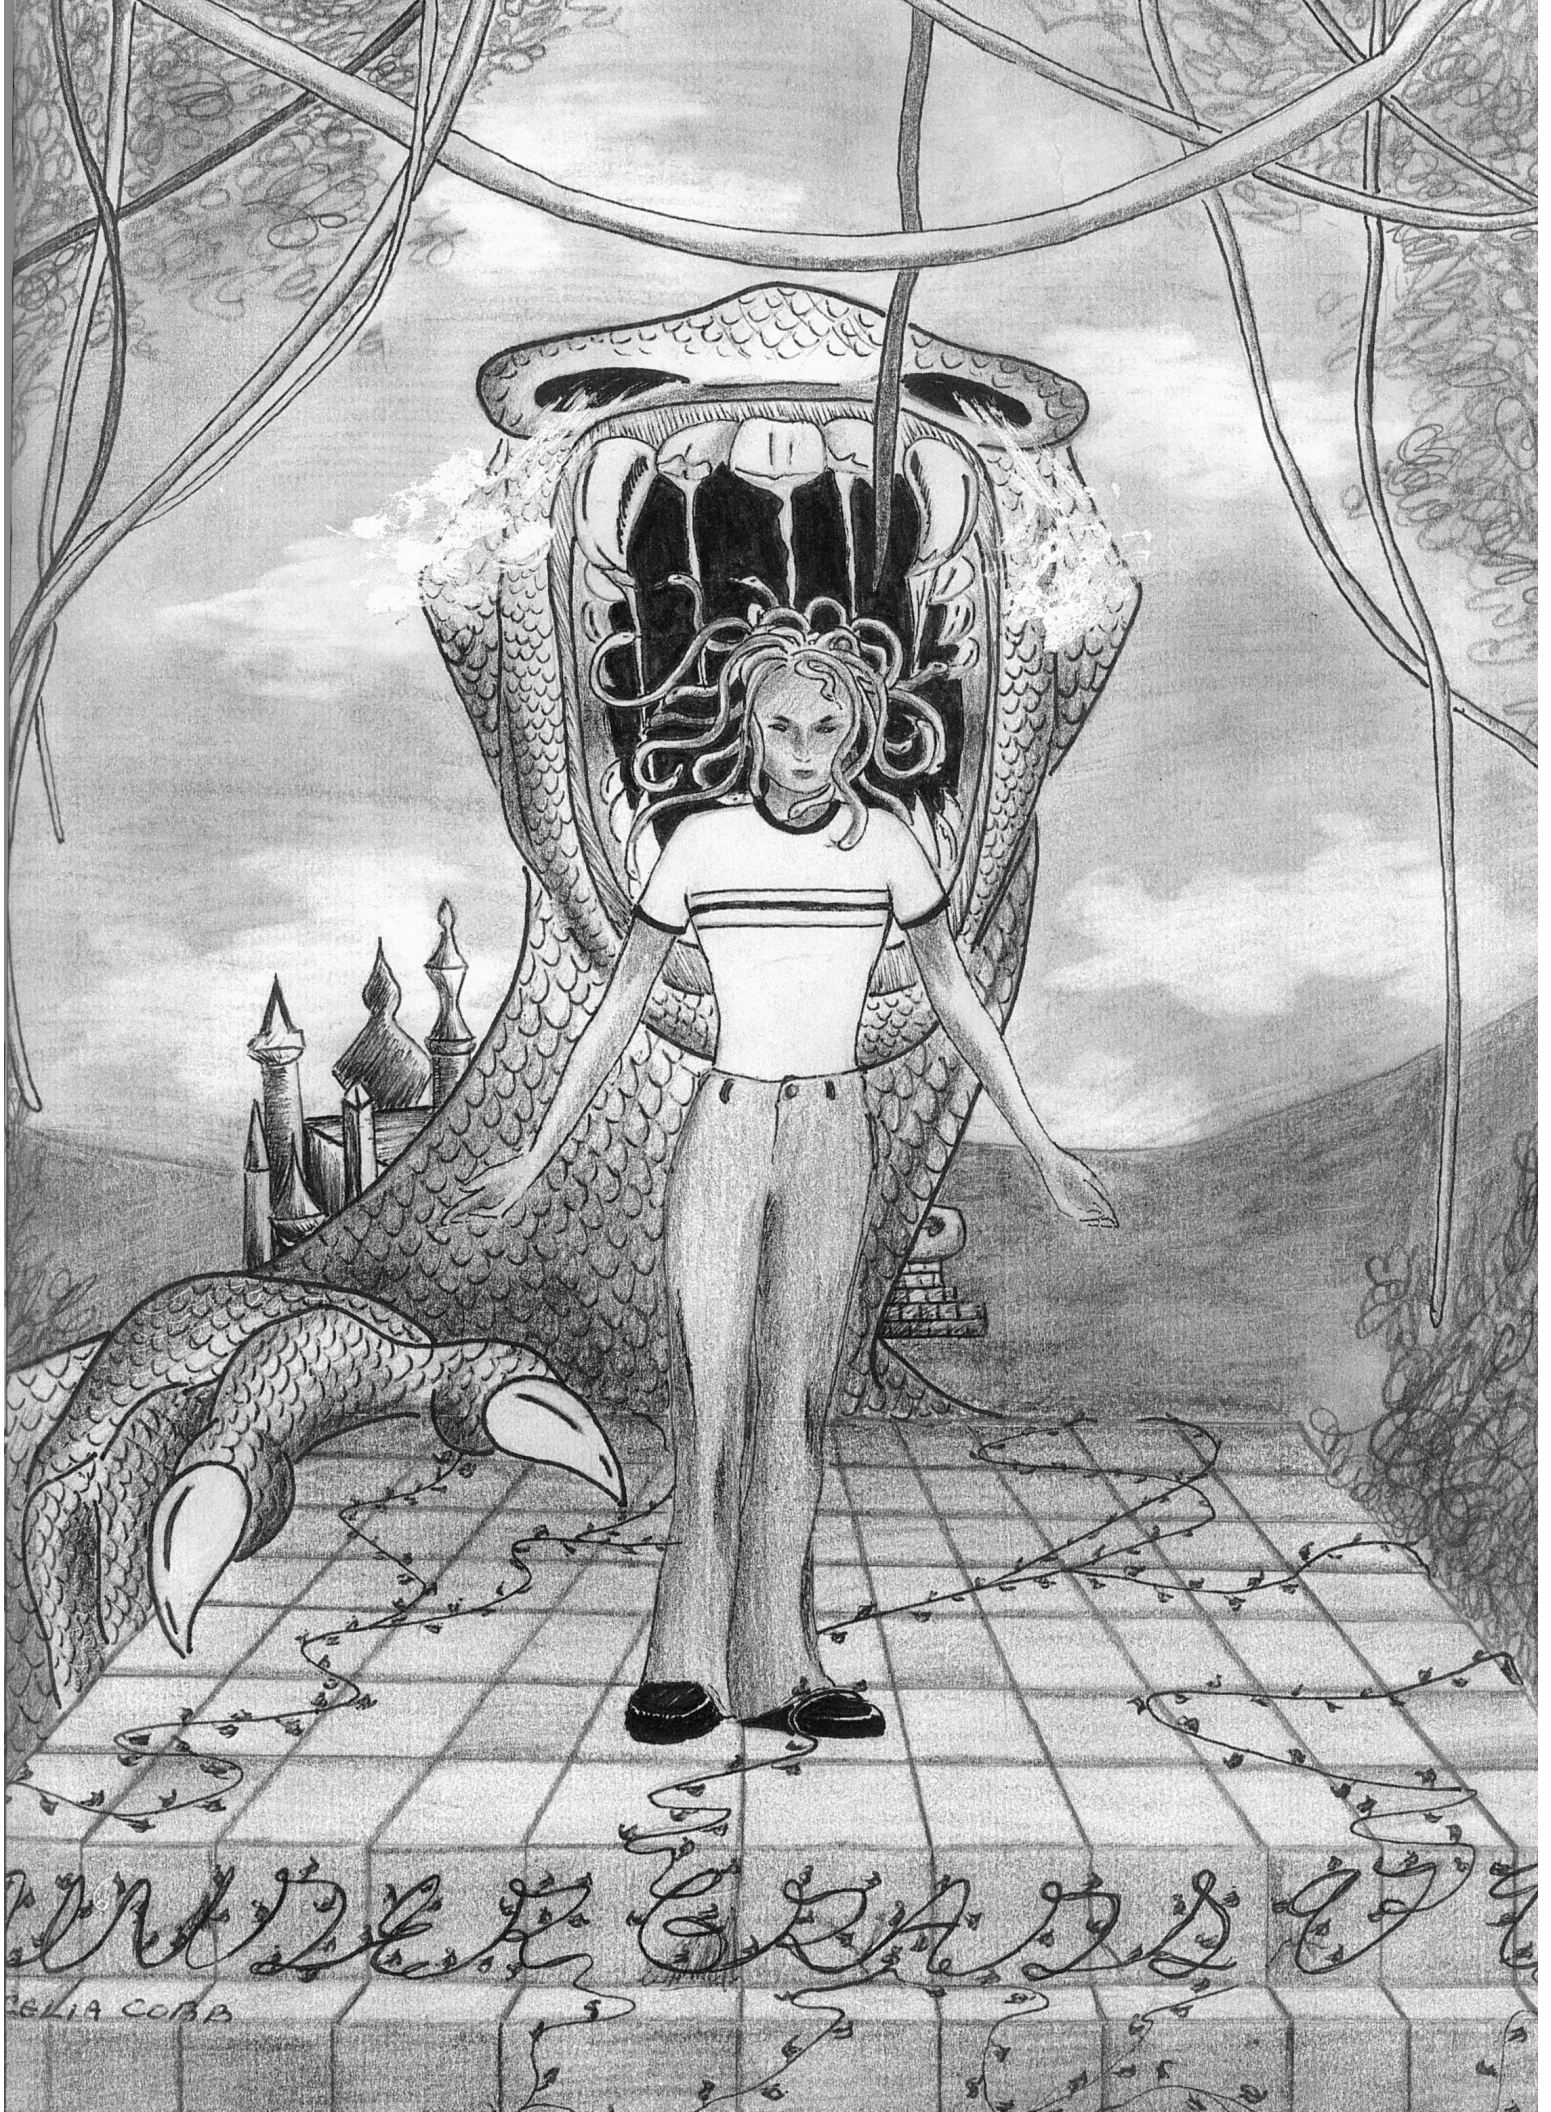

I laughed. I laughed a maniacal laughter as I watched them run. "Pawns", I thought. "They are simply pawns in the game I call life." I sat in my house on the hill, far above these pawns. I was their ruler, I owned their houses, stores, cars. I owned their souls.

They cursed me, they hated me from the depths of their souls that belonged to me. But they respected me nonetheless.

I had power that they could only dream of. I controlled the sun, the moon and the stars. I controlled the weather. Yes, it was I who was the cause of the dreaded downpour and they knew it. I heard them yell to me. I heard them pray to their "God". Peasants. Poor little peasants. As they prayed, I laughed even more. I thought, "I am more powerful than this "God", I am more powerful than anything known to mankind."

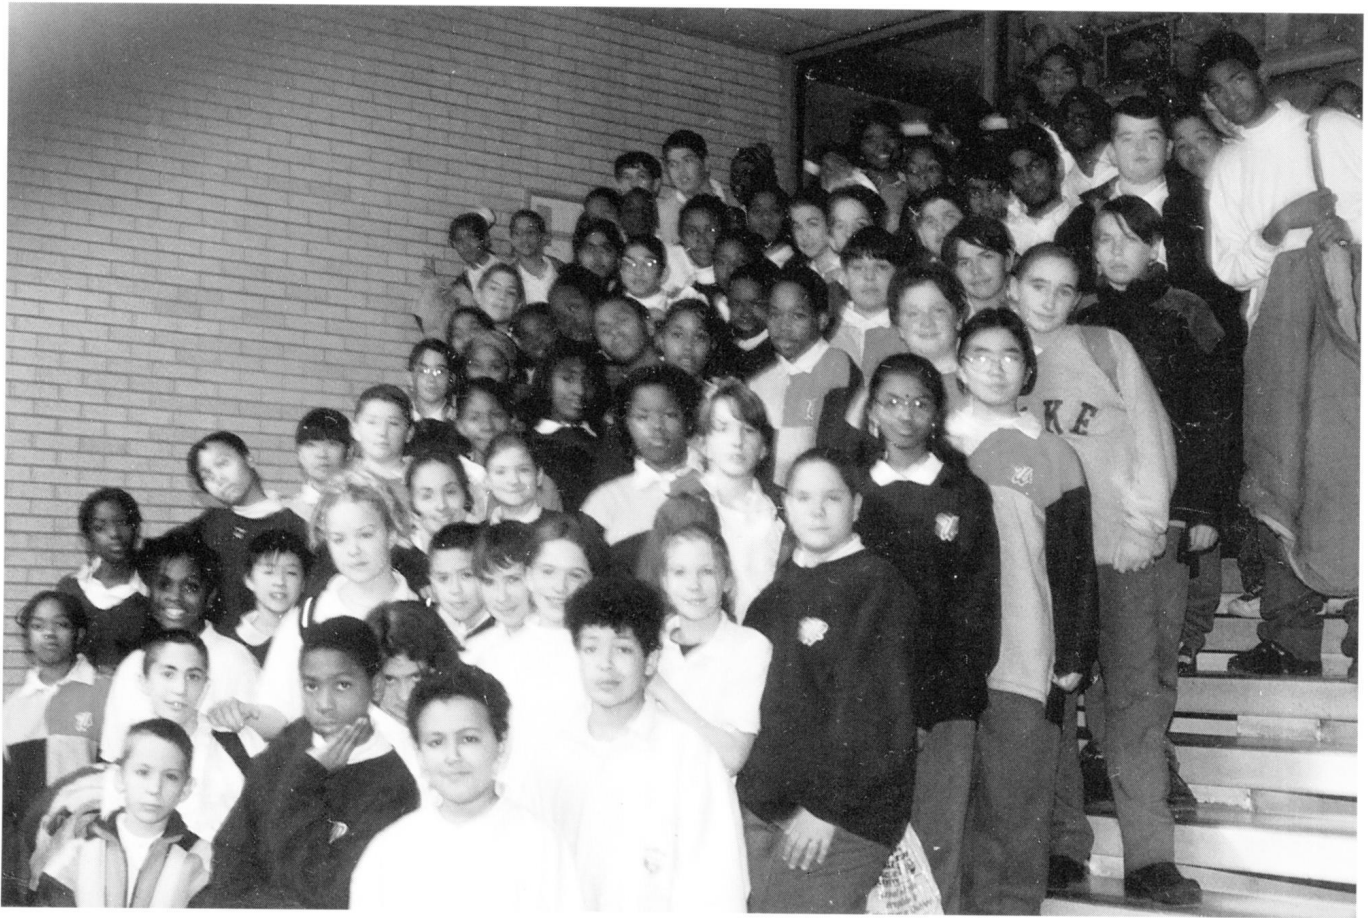

They gave me many names, the peasants. Some people called me Damien, some Lucifer, some Satan. I prefer to go by The DEVIL...

"Hardship=Growth" Moving is never an easy thing, but I'd like to thank those who have made it easier and my 1st + Last year at Wagar enjoyable. First my P's they have been an inspiration and a constant refuge when things were difficult. I would also like to thank the supportive teachers and friends at Wagar, They welcomed me and made me comfortable in a different, strange environment. My year here has been enjoyable and leaving will be just as difficult as my first day here. Thanks Wagar!

GRAD EDITOR'S MESSAGE

Has it been five years already? We know that most of the grads this year can't wait to get out of here, but we also know that everyone will bring with them the memories that we all have shared through good or bad, throughout our High School years. Remember that these were the years that have made us who we are today and hopefully the friendships that we have made will be close to our hearts for as long as we can remember.

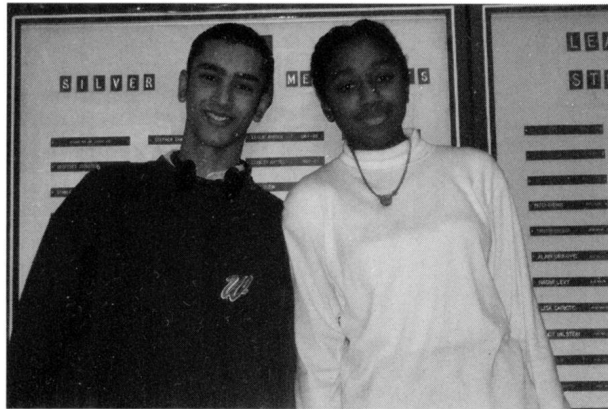

For many of us this will be the last time that we see of each other, but always remember that no matter where we are, Wagar will always be part of all of us.

Thanks for the memories, your grad editors,
Jackie Millington & Helene Boucher

SUPERLATIVES 97/98

Every year Wagar's yearbook has a section called Superlatives. They were the grade 11's vote on particular topics.

The first question asked was who was MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED. The nominees were for the girls: Julie Levinson, Giselle Crouch, Genell Tonge, Suzie Leung and Peky Tsang. For the guys: Devashis Bhowmick, Michael Nit2ti, Alex Fung, Mohammed Mohamed and Derek Shannon. Even though it was close.

Genell T. & Devashis B won.

Question number two was BIGGEST FLIRT! There were many nominees for this section for Wagar is famous for its flirts. The final runners ups were: Stephanie Cohen, Natalie Davey, Marsha Courtney, Eliane Shrybman, Nick Trainor, Randy Samuel & Omar Smith.

But when the final results came in Jamie John & Tanika Weekes were the winners.

Moving on we came to the NICEST SMILE! There were many people smiling in Wagar the day of the vote and this was the group that got on the list: Jelanie Hinkson, Sacha Mungal, Natalie Davey, Andrew MacDonald, Jackie Millington, Randy Samuel & Adama Romeo.

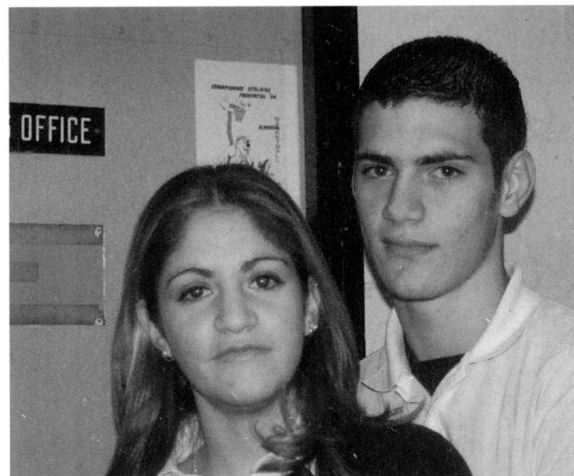

The voting was very close between the nominees but in the end...Adama Romeo & Jelanie Hinkson won for nicest smile.

CARDED AT 50: This topic is for those who look younger than they really are. These were the chosen ones: Shivali Misra, Rohit Bhopal, Jelanie Hinkson, Trinh Nguyen, Melissa Chin, Sacha Mungal, Eric Benton & Thy Nguyen AND THE WINNERS WERE...DRUMROLL PLEASE: Shivali Misra & Jelanie Hinkson!

There were many people lining up for Mr. & Mrs. Cutie Pie, but only a few were chosen: Kim Lloyd, Julie Levinson, Tanvi Patel, Letitia Brookes, Shivali Misra, Sacha Mungal, Jelanie Hinkson, Jason Leone, Sean Avraam...and the cutest of them all were: Julie L & Sean A.

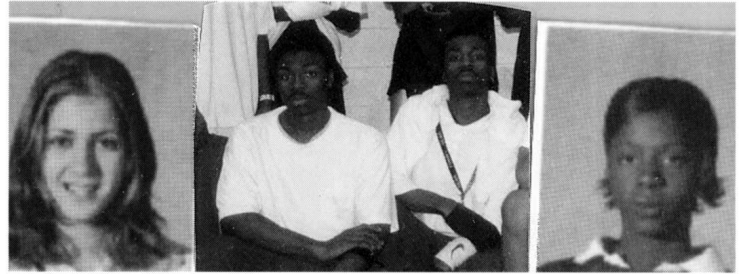

Another topic was that of the nicest hair and the nominees were: Thy Nguyen, Marsha Courtney, Gina Porter, Jackie Millington, Letitia Brookes, Miguel Ransome, Roberto Foz, Sean Avraam, Joey Tozzi. And the winners of this topic were Gina Porter and Roberto Foz.

We have looked far and wide for the funniest people in Wagar for CLASS CLOWN and we have found only a few that were funny enough for this category: Melanie Halpert, Adama Romeo, Cheryl Haynes, Samantha Joyette, Noah Sidel, Rohit Bhopal, Bimal Patel & Joey Tozzi. And the class clowns are Samantha J and Joey T.

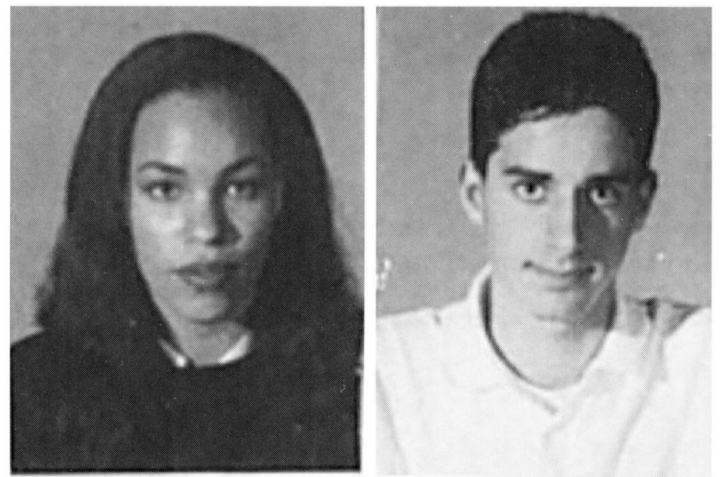

Mostly likely to become a model was one of our hardest category to choose. There were many beautiful people out there. The nominees were Marsha Courtney, Natasha Ellington, Nick Trainor, Omar Smith, Sean Avraam, Megan Ranco, Derek Shannon, Natalie Davey, Eric Campbell and Randy Campbell. When the smoke cleared, four people were left standing:
Natasha E, Megan R, Eric/Randy C.

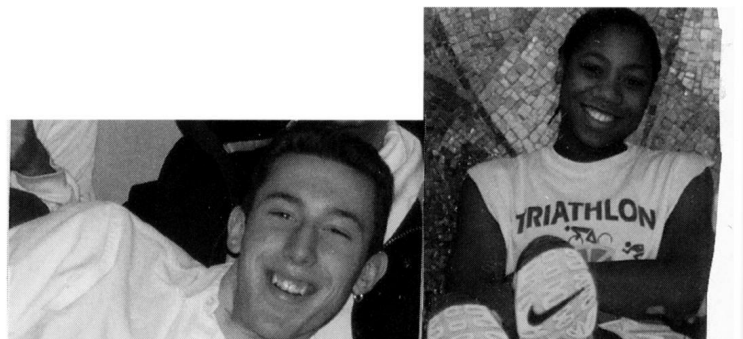

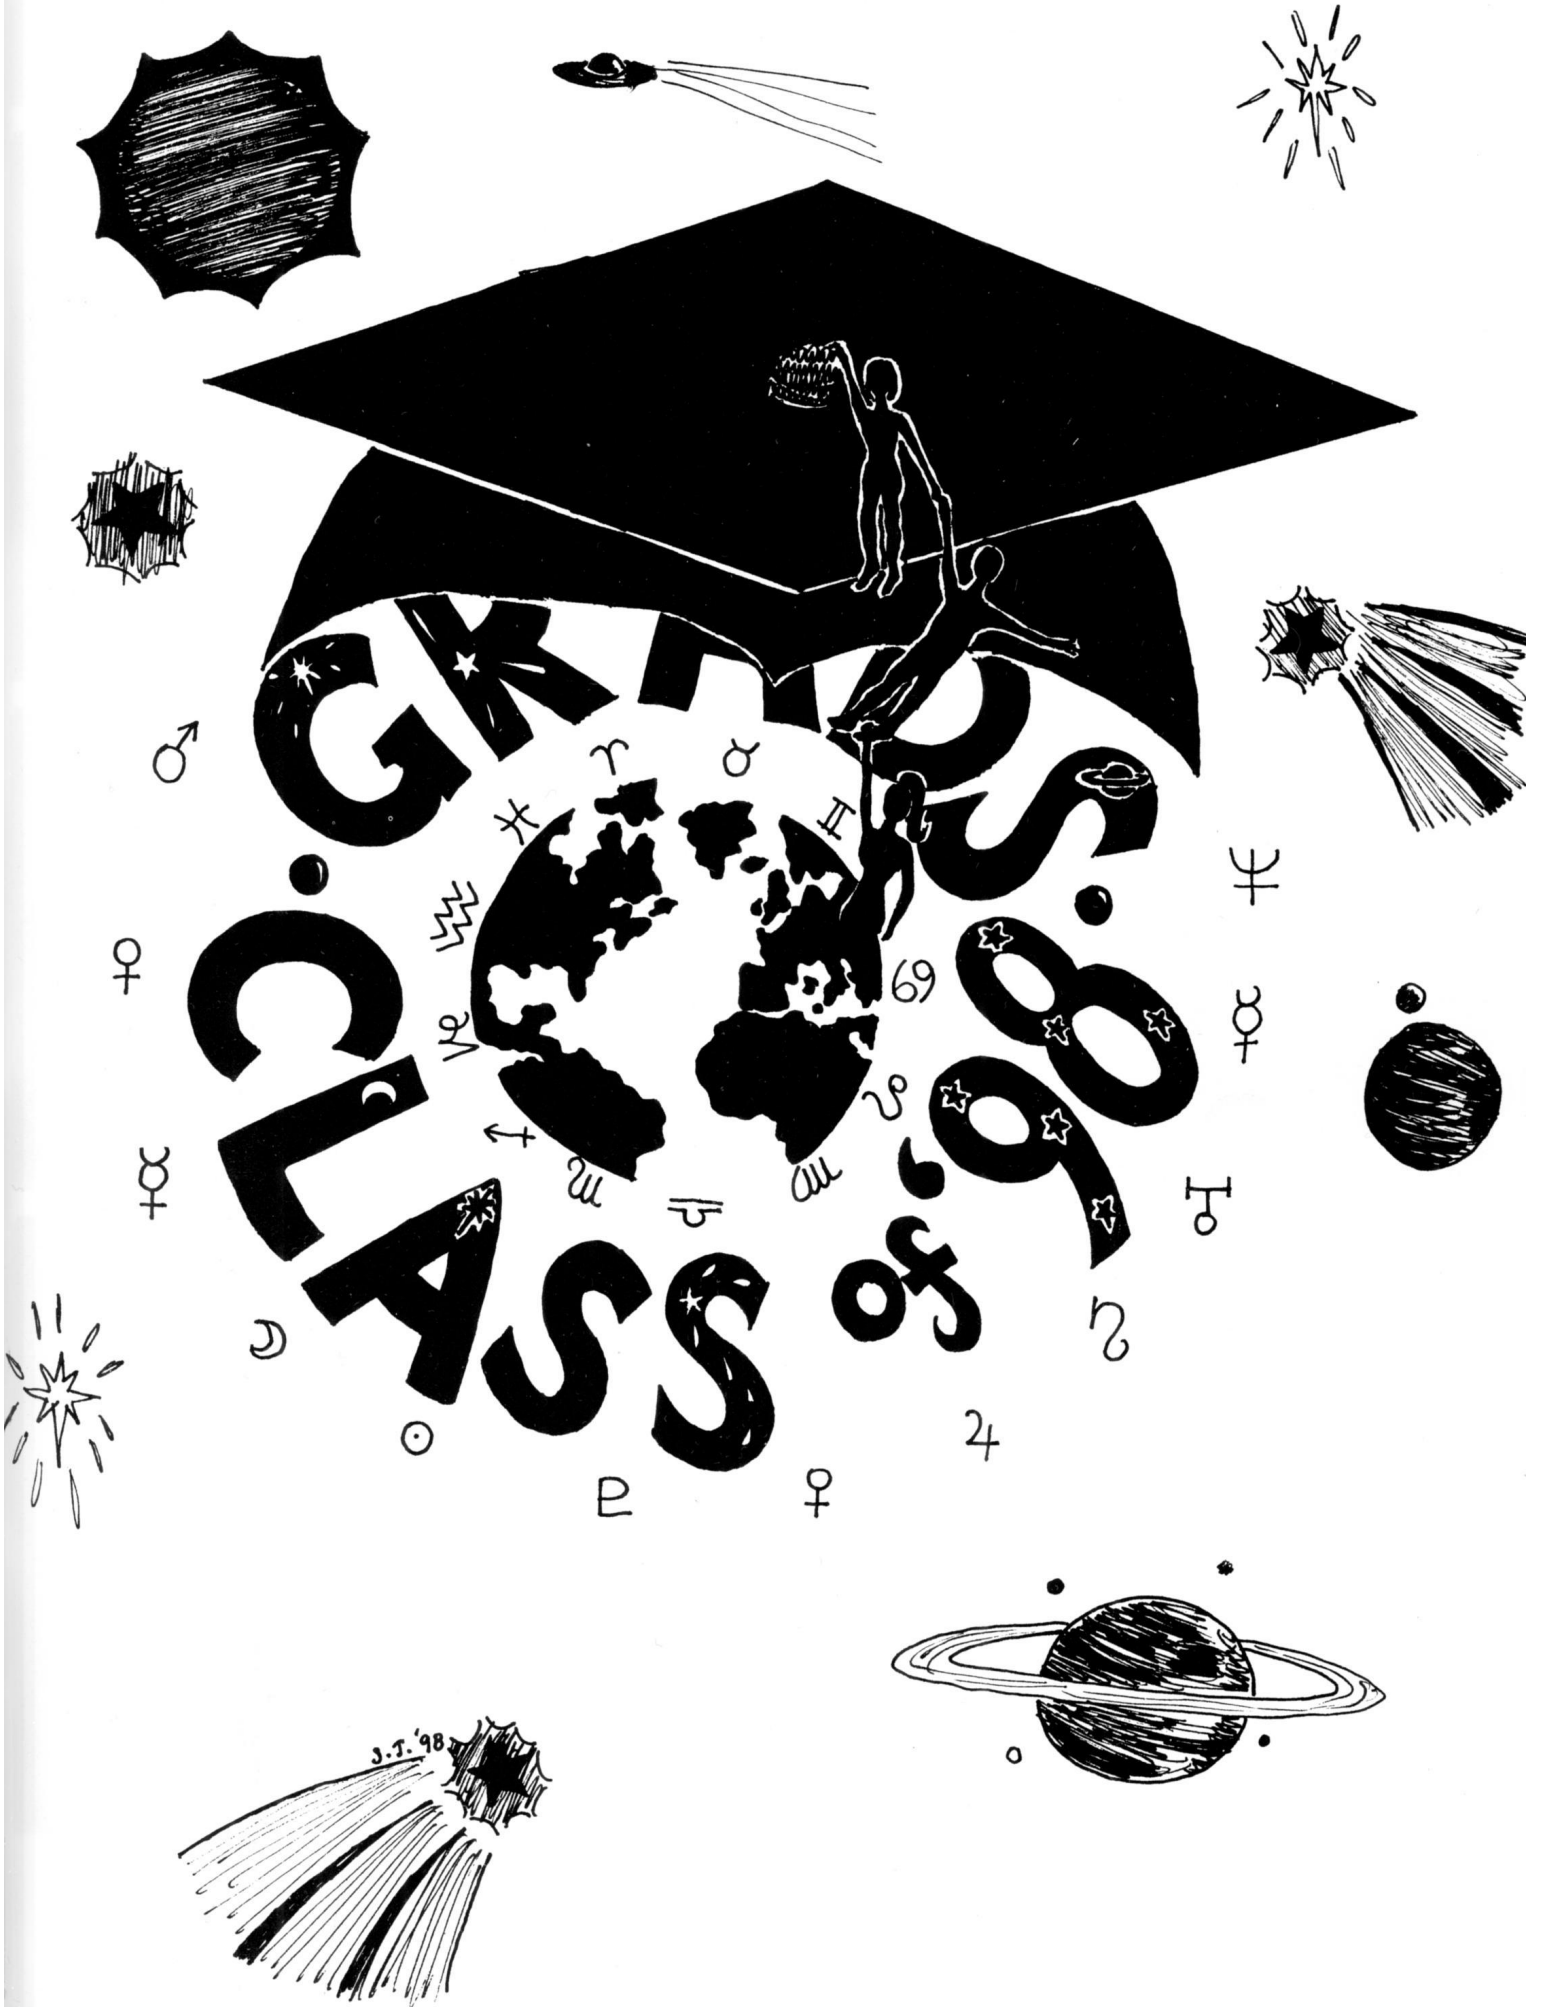

Most likely to be a couple at 10th year reunion. According to the grade 11 students these were the couples that would last until our 10th year reunion: Teresa R & Jason Perez, Julie L & Sean A, Kim L & Jason Leone, and the couple that everyone voted for was Gina Porter and Oren Abecassis.

Looking deep into everyone eyes we found six people with the nicest eyes: Elissa McEntee Velloza, Martin Gibson, Julie L, Noah Sidel, Letitia Brookes, Michael Nitti and the winners were Elissa M-V & Michael N.

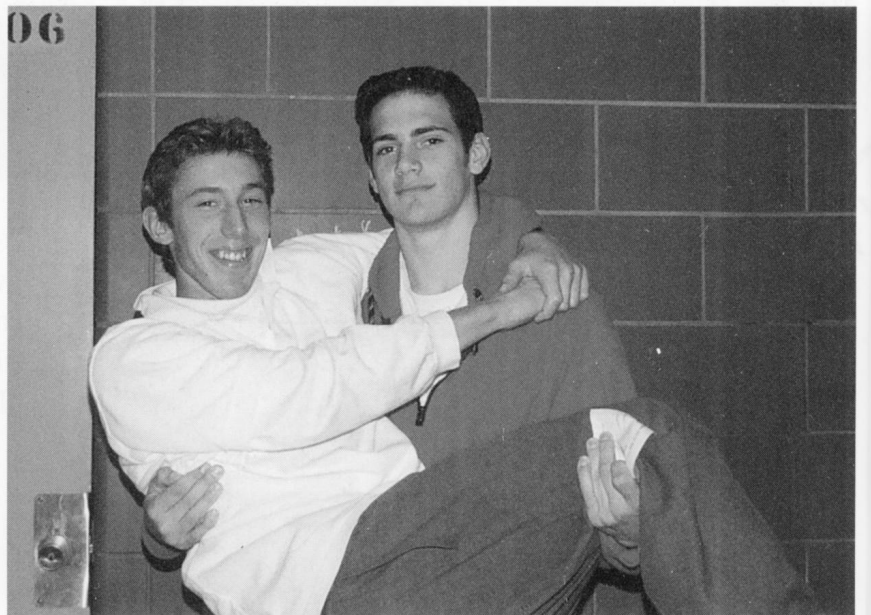

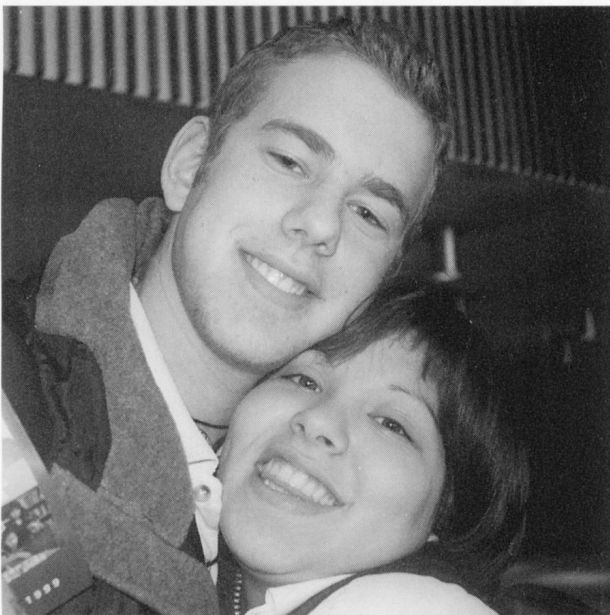

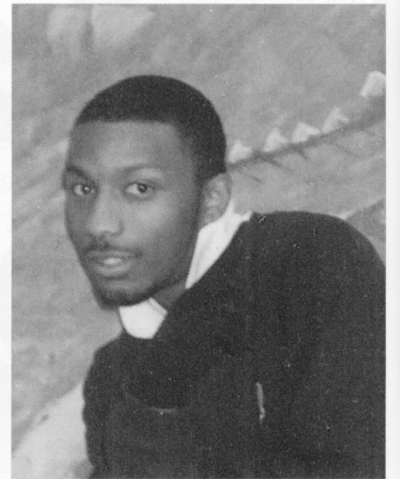

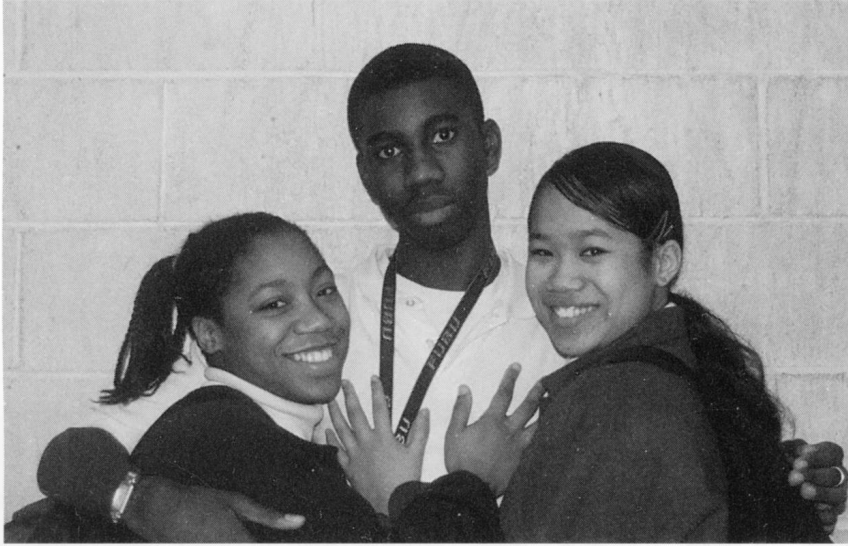

Get down and give me 50! Our last category was for most athletic. Giselle Crouch, Vicki Zilberman, Nick Trainor & Martin Gibson were the nominees. And the winners were Giselle C. & Nick T.

ADVISORS MESSAGE

A good high school yearbook is one which students scanned through to try and bring back memories of their past. A great yearbook is one which not only helps them relive their past, but also makes them proud to show it to others and to call their own. This year at Wagar, a number of students worked to the utmost of their ability to make sure that the latter was achieved.

One would expect that after having been the teacher-advisors the previous year, that any problems or difficult situations which arise should be simple to handle. We can verify that this is not the case.

Each year a group of students, both experienced and inexperienced working together on a high school yearbook brings out new problems. All of them are dealing with new sections which involves new partners and different responsibilities. Many of these new staff members are learning while they are working.

This yearbook has more pages than last year which involved more fund-raising to cover the extra cost. Several students went in search of new advertisers for our book, while 3 of them (Genell, Suzie, and Jackie) spent the month of August (summer-vacation) visiting or calling old advertisers and trying to sign up new ones to help defray our costs. This effort took a great deal of time and energy.

A number of staff members spent time during recess, lunch hour, and after school bringing in money by selling raffle tickets, pastries and drinks at dances and parent-teacher interviews. Our staff members also worked diligently after school several days every week in our yearbook room (131) discussing new ideas for the book and doing the final layouts.

Mr. Feigen and I would like to thank Ruth and Genell (our editors) for supplying their knowledge, encouragement, and time, needed to keep a hard-working staff together; especially on those days when an extra boost was required. I would personally like to extend special thanks to three staff members: Helen and Jackie (for the excellent work on the grad section); Suzie for a well-designed advertising section); and Devashis (for putting the entire yearbook on the computer). Thanks also go to the artists for great title pages and to those Wagar students who contributed to our literary section of the book.

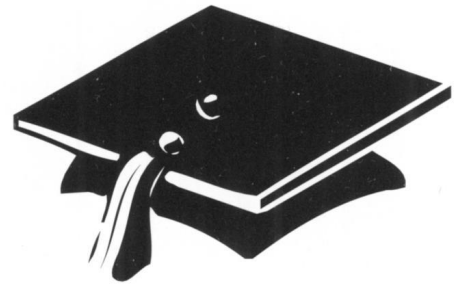

We would also like to wish all of the graduating students successful futures and careers be they in the professional or business world. May you get everything out of your endeavors that you put into them. To the remaining undergrads, keep working to the best of your abilities and hopefully in the not too distant future, you will also reach your goals.

SENIOR EDITORS MESSAGES

Nobody ever reads these messages so I'll stick to the truth. Truly if it wasn't for a few select people this book would have never happened. Helene, for your last minute deadlines (sorry about that). All undergrads except Marcia (that's what you get for choosing your own grade.) Andrew L, Vincent & Zack, for actually spending time to figure out whom were who. Kemba + Nicole for going around to collect stuff for Art + Lit, doing great layouts, [Celia for your contributions hint, hint.] Vi thanks for another gr-8 year at doing faculty. Peko for going around to classes to do our O'gram selling. Some other things that stand out, Andrew L + Anh-Tuan for your selling ideas, (travelling food & cups). Vince, Tanya, Andrew for helping me clean out the ticket wicket. All the staff for showing up for the car wash (there will be more), Dances and Parent/Teachers interviews.

Specials thanks to Roxana who donated enough food on the first PTI. Seriously, all you guys on staff were amazing for your willingness to actually go to our pointless meeting. Dev, thank you for putting up with a lot of crappy layouts, Suzie for problem "ads". Mr. Feigen and Mr. Jacobson for their "advice"... Rebecca, I can't believe you actually brought in that ad. Dev, Michael, & Bimal for typing up the protos (I hope no one notices mistakes hint, hint). If you participated, it was different. Lastly it was an interesting time; we were late for every deadline but oh well! Would I ever do it again? I would.

-Genell Tonge

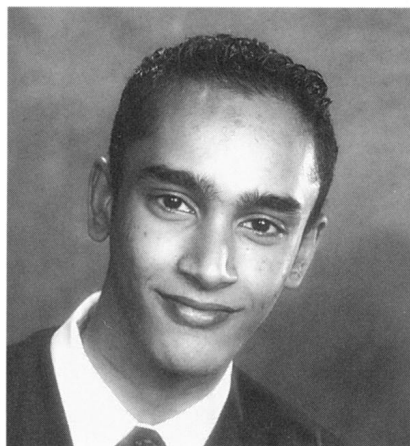

There are no easy tasks when responsibility is involved. LONG HOURS, EFFORT and DEDICATION were put into the book that you have in your hands. Thank you to all the editors on the committee that worked their butts off to meet their deadline, when we didn't meet ours. I would like to thank the whole entire committee for putting up with me, I know I haven't been a picnic to work with. To Helene, thank you for those layout pages that took you forever to draw & forever to hand in. Sheila and Mike, Genell really to scale those boxes from blank to the layout paper. To Celia, thank you for the last-minute drawings. Veronique, Peko and Roxana for your long out in hours in drawing those cover pages. Nicole + Kemba, for collecting the stuff for your section. To the undergrads, did you have fun sorting out those pictures? Vi, another easy job with the teacher pictures right? Dev for typing most of the protos and for putting the pages on computer and disks, Suzie, Rebecca & Anh-Tuan for selling the ads. And to everyone who had those "bright" ideas to raise money. To Mr. Feigen, thank you for feeding me, some of the time. To Mr. Jacobson, thank you for "keeping me on my toes." Finally to Genell, my partner in crime, thank you for taking most of the responsibility when I wasn't myself.

-Ruth Kam

Countless hours of fixing up layouts, scanning/typesetting items at the last minute, staying after school until 7:00 p.m. to meet deadlines, and the amazing thing is, there is not one single gray hair on my head. Would I do it again? Of course, because I have gained some valuable experience and came to the realization that I work well under pressure. This yearbook was difficult but thanks to most of you (you know who you are) we made this book possible. Among the few I worked with; Genell: Hard-working, the only one who followed my layout instructions; Suzie: Scans are easy, touching up is another story; Ruth: Thanks for typing and ICQing them to me; Artists: Your work is truly spectacular; Editors, Contributors, etc.: Be proud of what you've produced; Mr. Jacobson & Feigen: It's been great working with you. Special thanks goes out to Extensis for their PageTools which made my life a whole lot easier.

How come this happens to me? Why did I join yearbook? And WHY am I writing this message???

All said and done, I'm glad of all the experience that I have gained. Becca & Tuan, thanks for bringing in ads. Genell, my marketing partner. Dev, thanx for the use of your computer skills. Mr. Jacobson it's been great working with you, Mr. Feigen thanks for the food. Thanks to all the people who brought in ads and if, you don't like the advertising layout that's just too bad!

-Suzie Leung

Mr. Bregiannis: You will never cease to amaze your students!

Mr. Tomazos: Enjoying your free food? Did you ever get any sleep after drinking all that coffee?

Mr. Zelniker: Thank you for letting us eat!

Mr. Perigine: Thanks for the talks!-RK Thanks for the tutorials!

To the office staff, we would like to thank Ms. Ross for her telephone to make 1-800 numbers to Winnipeg! Mr. Meades for considering our fundraising proposal and opening locked doors for us. To Ms. Crowley for letting us use the fax and telephones for kisses and Ms. Labbe for typing our bulletin messages for massages!

Thank you all for your support and understanding!

*Yours sincerely,
The Yearbook Staff 1998*

Memories of Better Days

*Last day of High School time to make the calls
First day back strut my ways down the halls
Must have been God's Gravitational Force
Cause he changed my course
In front my eyes there laid the source
Blinked twice to make sure it was reality
Weren't stuck up, had a great personality
Black Queen, just a teen with Hypnotic Legs
Sleek Slender to die for on two-inch pegs
In that moment we lock eyes
Feelings likewise,
Me getting to know you came as no surprise
Played hard to get, couldn't figure out why you dogging me
Skin Tone Reddish brown like Tree Mahogany Natural Beauty exposing your true Goddess self spoke to me for me
Not my prospects or my wealth.
Eye contact smooth talking came relentless
you kept it real girl, never acted all pretensions narrowed down the competition became the no. 1 contender Broke the Barriers you solemnly surrendered emotions written in letters, no time was wasted
Caramel flavor is how our first kiss tasted
Intellectual and sexual, Brain of Aristotle
That kiss left my vision impaired like a coke bottle
Sit back relax, caress your rose petal cheeks
No need to speak
On the possesin' of your supermodel Physique Smelt sweet, by yourself no need for perfume
special relationship in bloom
One glimpse of your smile lit up the room*

*I presumed you and me together was a dream come true
School was my mind, but most of it was on you.
Journey'd to the movies clutched in each others arms
there you took my hand placed your heart in the palm you weren't self-conscious, confidence I admired your honesty, trust and love I acquired Everyday was a challenge, things looked bright throughout my darkest hours you were my beacon of light
Put you on a pedestal almost out of reach (houngin') you'd stroke my goatee like fuzz off a peach
you always kept me guessing
Latest fashions you be dressing
You were there to listen when I had a humble question your motto was: live life never let life live you
How you stayed gorgeous baby, I'll never have a clue
At parties people danced, you gracefully slide they saw the external, I had that and he inside Candles lit round the room, everlasting flames you were so much different from all those other dames from your heart, to your soul to your sweet laughter
No regrets were found that special day after
The Dress you wore left me breathless compassionate never reckless Pictures of you and me in that golden necklace facial expressions grew shock when pulled from the pocket you secretly keep this locket memories recalled on those special days
One love to you Buddha's name be praised.*
